AT LEAST 19 COUNTRIES HAVE INTRODUCED SUCH BANS SINCE THE WAR IN UKRAINE

Restrictions on food exports risk fueling inflation

RAJENDRA JADHAV, MAXIMILIAN HEATH & NIGEL HUNT
 Mumbai/ Buenos Aires, London, June 27

IT ONLY TOOK 24 hours last month for Prime Minister Narendra Modi's government in India — the world's second-largest producer of wheat — to shelve its plans to "feed the world".

In April, Modi had said publicly that the world's most populous democracy was ready to fill part of the gap left by Ukraine in global grains markets by increasing its wheat exports, following five consecutive record harvests. India traditionally exports only a modest amount of wheat, retaining most of its crop for domestic consumption.

On May 12, India's ministry of commerce & industry said it was preparing to send delegations to nine countries to export a record 10 million tonnes of wheat this fiscal year — sharply up from the previous season.

But a barrage of alarming data changed all that.

First came a downward revision to India's wheat crop in early May as a sudden heat-wave hammered yields. Then data on May 12 showed inflation in the nation of 1.4 billion had jumped to a near eight-year high due to higher food and fuel prices, driven by the Ukraine war.

Alarmed by rising inflation, which had contributed to toppling the previous Congress party government in 2014, Modi's office told the ministry of commerce on May 13 to put

News of the ban on wheat exports by India on May 13 drove Chicago wheat futures 6% higher the "brakes on" wheat exports immediately, according to one government official, who asked not to be identified.

"This (inflation data) prompted the government to issue an order at midnight" imposing a ban on wheat exports, said a second source.

News of the ban by India, which is the only major wheat exporter at that time of year, drove Chicago wheat futures 6% higher after markets reopened on Monday.

Neither Modi's office nor the ministry of commerce responded to a request for comment.

India is one of at least 19 countries that have introduced food export restrictions since the war in Ukraine sent prices soaring, hampering international trade flows for several agricultural products and sparking violent protests in some developing nations.

From Delhi to Kuala Lumpur, Buenos Aires to Belgrade, governments imposed restrictions, at a time when the economic damage caused by the Covid-19 pandemic, combined with factors such as extreme weather and supply chain bottlenecks, had already driven hunger across the globe to unprecedented levels.

The UN World Food Programme said in April the number of people facing acute food insecurity — when their inability to consume adequate food puts their lives or livelihoods in danger — had already more than doubled since 2019 to 276 million in the 81 countries in which it operates, before the Ukraine conflict began.

Welspun India towel sales soar during pandemic

NAYAN DAVE
 Ahmedabad, June 27

HOME TEXTILE MAJOR Welspun India (WIL), the official supplier of its high-end 'Christy' brand of custom-made towels to the world's most prestigious tennis championship, Wimbledon, has further strengthened its position in global bath solutions business by increasing exports in the peak pandemic period.

In a statement, the company said WIL — a part of Indian multinational conglomerate Welspun Group — exported nearly 460 million pieces of towels out of over 490 million pieces it sold post outbreak of pandemic till March 2022-end. In the pre-pandemic 2019-20 year, WIL exported nearly 211 million pieces of towels out of the 224 million pieces it sold.

Total sales value of towels was around ₹ 28,130 million during the year. However, the company's bath solutions business flourished as sales values of towels jumped to ₹ 28344.18 million during the pandemic-hit 2020-21, despite the Covid-induced lockdown for a couple of months that year. During the year the company sold over 250 million towels of different sizes of which nearly 235 million pieces were exported. Sales of towels declined by around 10 million pieces to 240 million in 2021-22 compared to previous year. However, WIL registered a higher value in sales income at ₹ 28,780 million which is almost ₹ 435 million higher than that of 2020-21. Due to higher sales of premium quality towels, sales revenue increased in FY 22, said a company official.

"The Welspun Group company has two state-of-the-art towel manufacturing plants in Gujarat at Vapi in south Gujarat and Anjar in Kutch. Of the total production of bath solutions at these two plants, 94% are being exported to the USA, European and Middle-East countries, Japan and other countries of which nearly 65% is being sold in the US market only," says Chintan Thaker, head, Welspun Group corporate affairs & strategic planning. Seeing the current global market not only Welspun is quite optimistic about the year-on-year growth, especially towels, claims Thaker. Awareness about the importance of hygiene globally after the outbreak of Covid-19 pandemic reflected in the increased demand of towels, bath robes and rugs across the globe, says Sanjay Kanungo, president, business head, spinning, towel & rugs at WIL's Vapi facility. Moreover, WIL focused on diverse customer needs globally using cutting-edge technology which yielded quality results, said Kanungo. WIL shares special business relationship with the world's oldest and most prestigious Championship. For the past 12 years, WIL's Gujarat based Vapi manufacturing unit has been making iconic Wimbledon towels. In fact, the Manchester-based home textile company — Christy UK has been the official supplier of the Championship, Wimbledon since 1988.
