Bids for IPL media rights could hit ₹50,000 crore

Experts say bump in sponsorships, increased viewership and larger number of matches justify the premium

ANUSHIKAR

Mumbai, March 31
The Board of Control for Cricket in India (BCCI), has set the combined base price for media rights of the Indian Premier League at ₹32,890 crore or $4.35 billion.

This base price for the media rights for 2023-27 seasons of the premier cricket league is nearly double of the 2017 winning bid of Star. However experts believe that the bump in sponsorships, increased viewership through streaming and larger number of matches justify the premium.

The Board has based its reserve matches based on the current format with 10 teams and 74 games, although they have kept the option of increasing the number of games going forward.

Experts suggest that the BCCI has been accurate with its pricing of the media rights, as according to their estimates, premier cricket league will fetch an auction price higher than the base price.

Santosh N, Managing Partner at D&P Advisory, said, "We anticipated that the league will fetch a price between ₹90 and ₹100 crore on a per match basis in the auction. BCCI has priced the league at ₹99 crore per match, therefore bids will certainly clear the threshold."

According to him, the additional premium the league en-

The introduction of two new teams is also a major factor in the increase of base price joy factor in this price goes, as the number of matches bump up by nearly 20 per cent, increasing the league's run time. Bump in OTT viewership has also played a major role.

Ajman Francis, Managing Director at Brand Finance India, explained, "The pandemic has made streaming almost as important as television now, which was not the case last time. OTT platforms did not have the sort of user base that the lockdown created."

"Viewership for Disney Hotstar for this year was 5-6 million, which was not the case in 2017, where they had around 2.5 million users." For the first time in history, BCCI will be holding an auction on June 12. Market watchers are expecting a windfall of nearly ₹50,000 crore.

Race heats up

ICCI, a key mover in establishing market supremacy in the media space, will have to contend with other bidders like Reliance, Viacom18 and the mrx.

"With two new teams, more matches, more engagement, more venues, we are looking to take IPL to newer greater heights," said BCCI Secretary Jay Shah, while announcing the IPL tender on Tuesday.

TRAI amends monthly tariff pack order

Asks operators to offer one 'Plan Voucher', one 'Special Tariff Voucher' and one 'Combo Voucher' renewable on same date every month

OUR BUREAU

New Delhi, March 31
The Telecom Regulatory Authority of India (TRAI) on Thursday ordered that every telecom service provider (TSP) shall offer at least one 'Plan Voucher', one 'Special Tariff Voucher' (STV) and one 'Combo Voucher' renewable on the same date of every month.

If the date of such renewal is not available in a month, the renewal shall be the last date of that month.

After due consideration, the Authority has decided to issue the "Telecom Tariff (7th Amendment) Order, 2022 (02 of 2022)," after 60 days from the date of commencement of this Order.

In January, the TRAI had ordered its directive and had given 60 days for operators to implement the order, and modify their billing system.

Reliance Jio is the only operator to have commenced such tariff plans (30-day plan and calendar month validity).

Response from TSPs
TRAI had sought comments

from the TSPs. The regulator had received responses from Bharat Sanchar Nigam (BSNL), Vodafone-Idea (VI) and industry body Cellular Operators' Association of India (COAI).

BSNL in its correspondence asked, "If a customer recharges on January 29/30 or 31, what should be the date of the next recharge? If a customer recharges on March 31, May 31, August and October 31, what should be the next due date for recharge?"

VI had stated that it would be meeting the requirements as prescribed under T10 (66th Amendment) Order. However, it had also given a tentative chart showing likely date of implementation for all ISAs, which may extend up to May 2023 and considering the issues it had requested for extension of time to meet the provisions of T10 66th amendment (recharge with same date of every month), till technical feasibility issue is sorted out in balance 19 licensed service areas.

TRAI had sought comments

COAI on behalf of the sector had said that "any change to the tariff validity structure to make it renewable on same date of each month, will require gigantic efforts on change in consumer awareness, change in prepaid billing systems, publications in own and third party channels and retail channel education".

Currently, most of the prepaid tariff packs come with common validity period of 28/56/84 days, but the Authority had received complaints from many customers of the 28-day validity packs, which the TSPs touted as a monthly pack.

"The validity period must be of 30 days, with a grace period of 15 days for incoming facility (barring of outgoing calls) beyond the validity period of 30 days. The validity period of 28 days is indirectly giving undue advantage to the TSPs. Separate tariff offers should exist for 28/29/30/31 days to ensure a flexible service bouquet to the Indian mobile consumer. The period should be a month with requirement of tariff to be renewed only on the same date of each month," the individuals had requested TRAI.

TRAI had stated that it would be meeting the requirements as prescribed under T10 (66th Amendment) Order. However, it had also given a tentative chart showing likely date of implementation for all ISAs, which may extend up to May 2023 and considering the issues it had requested for extension of time to meet the provisions of T10 66th amendment (recharge with same date of every month), till technical feasibility issue is sorted out in balance 19 licensed service areas.

NON-GOVT NPS SUBSCRIBERS

PFRDA Board okays removal of automatic taper of equity

Also hikes 75% cap on equity under NPS Tier II to 100%

KR SRIVATS

New Delhi, March 31
Non-government NPS subscribers may have cause for cheer with pension regulator PFRDA's Board deciding to do away with the current norm stipulating automatic taper of equity exposure to Tier II account once they cross the age of 50.

It has also decided to hike the 75 per cent limit on equity under NPS Tier II to 100 per cent, Supratim Bandopadhyay, Chairman, Pension Fund Regulatory & Development Authority (PFRDA), told BusinessLine here.

Once the tariff norm gets removed — the decision is expected to be notified and implemented soon — the non-government NPS subscribers who had opted for 75 per cent equity in Tier II will not be required to pare their equity component on the stipulated age. In June 2018, the PFRDA had enhanced the limit limit for NPS under its Active Choice to invest in Asset Class (Equity) to a maximum of 75 per cent from its earlier limit of 50 per cent.

Three riders

This was allowed with three riders. The first was that it applied only to the non-government subscribers of NPS. The second, when the subscriber turns 50, the equity portion will taper off according to a fixed schedule set by PFRDA. The equity allocation reduces 25 per cent each year till it reaches 50 per cent by the age of 60 years.

Third, when someone joins NPS beyond 50, the maximum cap will start according to a specified table. To put it simply, if someone joining at the age of 54, the maximum cap will start from 65 per cent and will taper off with age.
