GST Council Clarifies on SCNs for Same Offence

Anuradha Shukla
@timesgroup.com

New Delhi: The Goods and Services Tax (GST) Council said enforcement action against a single offence cannot be initiated either by state or central tax authorities. A move aimed at preventing issuance of multiple show cause notices (SCNs) to taxpayers for the same offence.

In an office memorandum dated October 19, the council said a taxpayer located within a zone is open to enforcement action by both authorities, but all consequential action relating to the case, including appeal, revision, addition, modification and revision, will be taken by the authority that had initiated the enforcement action.

"Default in such cases may however be granted only by jurisdictional tax authorities administering the tax," said the memorandum.

Increased recurring SCNs, no fresh investigation is required, so these may be issued only by the concerned jurisdictional tax authorities administering the tax. Even if investigation is conducted by central tax authorities and initial SCN is issued by them.

The memorandum said it will put unnecessary burden on the investigating tax authority to keep track of subsequent practice of the taxpayer after completion of investigation and to collect all the data and records for issuance of recurring SCNs.

Proposals Sought for 9 Complexes Near Rly Stations

Our Bureau

New Delhi: Rail Land Development Authority (RLDA) has sought proposals for proposed RFPs for development and lease of nine multifunctional complexes (MFCs) near railway stations in West Bengal, Rajasthan, Haryana, and Punjab for 45 years. These MFCs will offer amenities such as shopping, food stalls, book stalls, ATMs, medicine and variety stores, budget hotels, parking spaces, and other similar amenities to rail users, said RLDA, a statutory authority set up to create assets for Indian Railways by developing vacant railway land.

They are located near respective station complexes and are part of the railway stations' circulating areas.

Cos Face Filing Hurdles Post MCA Rule

Pavan Burugula | timesgroup.com

New Delhi: Several companies are facing challenges in reconciling their financial statements due to a new rule introduced by the Ministry of Corporate Affairs (MCA). According to the new rules, companies are mandated to file their financial statements with rounded off values from FY22 filings onwards.

As a result, auditors are required to prepare financial statements of their companies based on rounded off values. Compliance experts say, the change in rules has forced the auditors to prepare two sets of financial statements for this year. This is because in some of the financial statements, companies are required to provide comparison numbers with previous financial year. However, since last financial year filings mentioned all absolute numbers, they are not directly comparable to rounded off numbers from FY22.

Market participants say, the issue is prominent while filing MCA form - one of the forms that companies have to pay in annual statements. The form still allows the auditors to file statements with absolute numbers.

"When the professional tries to file the AOC 4 for FY 22, which will include the financial statements for FY20 as well, there will be a mismatch between financial statement values for the same year due to differences between rounded and absolute values," said Rishi Agarwal, chief executive officer, TeamLease Regtech. "This can potentially be construed as misleading information by the IOC and leads to the requirement of two sets of financial statements for every company: one that is on a rounded off basis and the other on absolute number basis."

The deadline for companies to file their financial statements is 31 October. The increased complexity of these filings along with few other factors prompted even the industry bodies to make representations to MCA seeking an extension of the deadline.

The Institute of Company Secretaries (ICS) - professional governing body of company secretaries - wrote to MCA on October 11, requesting the extending the October 31 deadline till December.
