Infosys, a Top 3 IT services brand globally. Leads the IT services industry with the fastest CAGR in brand value over 5 years. Infosys' Salil Parekh is the no.1 IT services CEO in Brand Guardianship Index 2024

Davos, Switzerland – January 17, 2024: Infosys (NSE, BSE, NYSE: INFY), a global leader in next-generation digital services and consulting, today announced that it has been recognized as the Top 3 IT services brand globally and the fastest growing IT services brand over a 5 year period, according to Brand Finance, the world's leading brand valuation firm, in its Brand Finance Global 500 2024 report. Infosys brand value has more than doubled in last 5 years, and at over US$14 billion in 2024, Infosys is ranked as #145 most valuable brand in the world.

Infosys' Chief Executive Officer, Salil Parekh, tops the IT services ranking in Brand Finance's Brand Guardianship Index \(BGI\) 2024 for the role of CEO as brand custodian and steward of long-term shareholder value. The Index is based on Brand Finance's analysis of current perceptions, tangible results of these perceptions, and investments made to support future performance.

"We are delighted with this recognition and see it as another reinforcement of Infosys living its brand promise to help its stakeholders to navigate and thrive in an AI-first world," said Sumit Virmani, Global Chief Marketing Officer, Infosys. "The core purpose of our brand is to amplify human potential and create the next opportunity for everyone. With the evolution in the technology landscape, we remain committed to leveraging its shifting capabilities to move people, businesses and communities forward".

For the third year in a row, Brand Finance has positioned Infosys among the world's top 3 most valuable IT services brands. This is a strong validation of Infosys' relevance in the fast-evolving digital services space where brands are differentiated by the credibility of their value proposition in emerging areas like generative AI and foundational technologies like cloud. Investments like the launch of its generative AI-powered services, solutions and platforms brand – Infosys Topaz – has served to create positive association for Infosys with the next generation of digital transformation.

David Haigh, CEO and Chairman of Brand Finance, commented, "Progressive brands, like Infosys, continue to invest through the downturn. Infosys' investments have included building strategic partnerships, multi-sensory experiences, and the creation of strong sub brands in emerging categories, while nurturing a strong brand and business impact framework for marketing effectiveness. I'd also like to congratulate Salil Parekh who has guided this transformation and tops the 2024 Brand Guardianship Index, in the category."

Infosys, recently, onboarded tennis icons Rafael Nadal and Iga Świątek as brand ambassadors, and launched its 'Champions Evolve' campaign. With a strong track record in forging collaborations and brand partnerships to digitally reimagine tennis, these ambassadors of the sport now also credibly serve as the face of the Infosys brand.

Infosys' focus on brand thrust is strengthening through its strategic collaborations with the Madison Square Garden, including key MSG properties New York Knicks, New York Rangers and the Madison Square Garden Arena, the ATP, Roland Garros, the Australian Open, International Tennis Hall of Fame as well as Dow Jones, The Economist, Financial Times and Bloomberg Media.

Brand Infosys continues to be guided by its larger purpose and deliver on the commitments articulated in its ESG Vision 2030. For example, Infosys Springboard – the company's flagship reskilling program, with free digital content served globally, already has 8.5 million registered learners amplifying their skills in preparation for an AI-first future. Infosys continues to be carbon neutral for four years now. The brand has been commended for demonstrating extraordinary leadership and community impact. Infosys was featured at #11 in Fortune's Change the World List for 2023.
