10B gets ₹4K cr from Centre for meeting norms

ABHIJIT LELE & PTI Mumbai/Chennai, 4 January

ndian Overseas Bank (IOB) has received capital infusion of ₹4,360 crore from the Central government, the bank said on Saturday.

In a regulatory filing to the stock exchanges, the bank said it has received the amount as contribution of the government in preferential allotment of equity shares during the financial year 2019-20 (FY20) as government's investment.

In December, the bank had said it would receive capital infusion from the government in the current financial year for meeting the regulatory requirement. In August, the finance ministry had announced capital infusion of ₹3,800 crore which was later increased by ₹560 crore. IOB is under the Prompt Corrective Action (PCA) framework of the Reserve Bank of India. The bank has reported widening of net loss to ₹2.253.64 crore for the quarter-ended September 30, 2019.

The PCA framework comes into force when banks breach the three key regulatory points namely capital to risk weighted assets ratio, net non-performing assets (NPAs) and return on assets.

According to CRISIL Ratings, IOB's of high provisioning requirement. The government's capital infusion of ₹4,694 crore and ₹5.963 crore in financial years 2018 and 2019, respectively, has supported capital ratios to some extent.

Over the next few quarters, slippages to NPAs should moderate as compared with the past couple of financial years, but overall NPAs will remain high. The recoveries may improve. aided by resolutions under the Insolvency and Bankruptcy Code (IBC). However, the ability to contain deterioration in asset quality will remain a key monitorable, it added.

The ratings continues to be a factor in expectation of strong government support, both, on an ongoing basis and in the event of distress. This is because government is the majority shareholder in public sector banks (PSBs)and the guardian of the country's financial system.

The banking sector's stability is of importance to the government, given the criticality of the sector to the economy.

The strong public perception of sovereign backing for PSBs, and the severe implications of any PSB failure in terms of political fallout, systemic stability, and investor confidence in PSUs have a bearcapitalisation has been weak on account ing on working of banks.

BJP needs support in GST Council meets

The party controls 15 states and is short of the 75% vote share needed to pass decisions

INDIVIAL DHASMANA New Delhi, 4 January

The Bharatiya Janata Party (BJP) will have to cajole parties such as the Biju Janata Dal, the YSR Congress, the Telangana Rashtra Samiti. nd the All India Anna Dravida Munne Kazhagam (AIADMK) to get a decision cleared in the GST (goods and services tax) Council, if a voting takes place.

Voting in the council does not seem farfetched now after a division had to be resorted to for deciding GST rates on lotteries at the December 18 meeting.

The Council never had to resort to voting to decide an issue before that. In fact, the provision for voting under the GST law was seen as a matter of an academic interest before that meeting.

"Once the voting option has been exercised, there appear to be much more chances of voting getting repeated for controversial issues such as reduced rate of compensation to states," said Abhishek Rastogi, partner at Khaitan & Co. MS Mani, partner at Deloitte India, said it will be better if decisions in the council meetings are taken with the consensus of all states, as has been the practice in the past. For any decision to be passed, at least 75 per cent of those present and voting must back it. Under normal circumstances, when each of the states and the Centre vote on an issue, the Union government can block the decision. Alternatively, if 12 states combine, they, too, can block a decision.

The Centre needs the support of 19 states to get decisions through.

The balance of forces remains with the Centre as it accounts for a third of votes, with the states forming the remaining share. This ensures that even if all the states combine, they cannot convert a decision into law, as they will fall short of the requisite 75 per cent threshold.

Given that there are 30 states and union territories with legislatures, each state has 2.22 per cent of the voting power, irrespective of size. This means Uttar Pradesh and Goa enjoy the same percentage of voting power, despite having a huge variation in their populations.

Now, juxtapose this voting structure to the reducing number of states that BJP or its allies rule. The National Democratic Alliance rules in 15 of the 29 states, with one - Jammu and Kashmir—under President's rule. If one considers parties friendly to the BJP, such as YSR Congress, TRS, BJD and AIADMK, the BJP will have 21 states with it. This means that it can pass any decision, provided it is able to woo these parties to support it. The controversial issue of the GST rate on lotteries was decided by voting, when the council met on December 18. Most of the votes were in favour of a uniform tax rate of 28 per cent on both state and private lotteries, with effect from March 1, 2020. The result

When the Council met on December 18, the controversial issue of the GST rate on lotteries was decided by voting was a partial defeat for the proposal by Kerala Finance Minister Thomas Isaac, on whose insistence the voting was conducted.

केंद्रीय वित्त मंत्री

At present, there are dual rates for lotteries — 12 per cent tax on state-run lotteries and 28 per cent on state-authorised private lotteries. Voting happened twice on the issue. The first time it was a toss up between a uniform rate and a dual rate. Seventeen states and the Centre are learnt to have voted for a single rate and seven for dual rates. Maharashtra, which was earlier for a uniform rate, voted for a dual rate last time. Then there was voting on whether the rate should be 18 per cent or 28 per cent on lotteries. All voted for 28 per cent.

Kerala had favoured a dual rate for the two kinds of lotteries. Isaac had said if it came to a uniform rate, then that for private lotteries should not be lowered to 18 per cent but the rate for government-run lotteries should be raised to 28 per cent. Nirmala Sitharaman, Union finance minister and the chair of the Council, tried to play down the differences. "It (voting) was not imposed by the council. It was not imposed by me as the chair. It was on the insistence of one member," she asserted.

It isn't as if all decisions sailed through smoothly in earlier meetings. Before the GST was introduced from July 1, 2017, there were huge differences within the council over the rate structure, powers of the state and the Central officials, among other things.

These got accentuated after demonetisation in November, 2016, sources said.

However, former finance minister Arun Jaitley was able to evolve a consensus on contentious matters and iron out differences. This might be tricky now, particularly if contentious issues such as lowering the revenue growth for the purpose of compensation to loss-making states come to the council.

The positives of rising food prices

A 10% increase in price realised by farmers raises their income by 13% and has a positive effect on output

SANJEEB MUKHERJEE New Delhi, 4 January

Earlier this month, the ministry of consumer affairs presented a snapshot in Parliament of the retail prices of 22 food items that it tracks on a daily basis from centres. across the country through its network of data collectors and

The snapshot showed that the retail price of not even one of the 22 food items declined between January and early December of 2019.

In fact, the price of every item rose, with packed vanaspati and soy oil becoming expensive by two per cent at one end of the spectrum, and onions becoming dearer by a staggering 354 per cent at the

Such a widespread and universal spike in retail price of food items is something the country experienced after a for growers, provided they are by farmers directly raises very long time. The last time food prices rose across the board was around 2012 and

The increase came after four years of a sharp and sustained drop in retail and wholesale prices of major food items, barring the occasional blips.

While rising food inflation is a matter of grave concern for a significant chunk of the population and for policymakers as well, it marks a turnaround in the fortunes of the farmer.

"I firmly believe that there should be some amount of inflation in food items to keep growers interested in agriculture." P K Joshi, former south Asia director of International Food Policy Research Institute, told Business Standard.

He said this rise in food prices is slightly beneficial part of the value chain, else their incomes by 13 per cent the entire gains could be milked by middlemen and commission agents.

Studies show that just a fraction of the price that a consumer pays for food gets passed on to the cultivator and the lion's share goes to the middleman and other intermediaries. Yet, the huge spike in several items this time offers great hope to the grower, because even if the increand has a large favourable effect on production as well.

The consumer affairs ministry data showed that even in the case of cereals, notably rice and wheat, retail prices have jumped about 12 per cent in the past year.

"A rise in food inflation is of course good for the rural economy, but all of it depends upon how much of the price rise gets transmitted to the final growers," said Prof Mahendra Dev, director of Mumbai-based Indira Gandhi Institute of Development Research (IGIDR).

"But, yes, it could have some positive impact on FMCG (fast moving consumer goods) and consumer durable sales. Therefore, government should not hastily clampdown on the improvement in realisation.'
