ET Q&A KRISHNAMURTHY SUBRAMANIAN
CHIEF ECONOMIC ADVISER

Fiscal Policy must be Counter-cyclical

The budget has laid the foundation for high growth over this decade, chief economic adviser Krishnamurthy Subramanian said. In an interview with Deepshikha Sikarwar, he said the fiscal policy should be counter-cyclical. Edited excerpts:

The Economic Survey called for fiscal relaxation. Does the budget go far enough in that direction?

The survey has called for counter-cyclical fiscal policy, not for fiscal irresponsibility, and actually, it's underlined. The budget, not only on fiscal side, is a far-reaching one as it lays out the ingredients for sustaining the recovery into the coming year as also laying the foundation for high growth over this decade.

Firstly, infrastructure spending, in the second half of the year, the two months remaining, we have spent the entire budget estimate and we top it by about 4%. In FY22, we are increasing by almost 34%. So, both in terms of percentage of GDP and actual rupees spent, this is the highest public capital expenditure ever. Second, healthcare spend. It affects productivity of labour and labour supply. There is almost 32% increase in the healthcare spend. Third, this budget might go down as one of the seminal ones in terms of financial sector reforms - the privatisation of public sector banks, the DPI (development financial institution), bad bank, higher FDI in insurance and the public sector enterprise policy.

Counter-cyclical fiscal policy creates expectations in the same way as inflation targeting creates expectations of inflation. India's fiscal policy has not been counter-cyclical. Other countries follow them religiously. Details can be worked out and can and will be worked out. But the essential principle has to be that fiscal rules have to enable counter-cyclical fiscal policy, not make it pro-cyclical.

The thought has been primarily to under-promise and over-deliver. It's quite likely that our fiscal deficit will be lower than what has been mentioned. When you under-promise and over-deliver, it generates enormous credibility.

Given this strong emphasis on growth, can India tolerate slightly higher inflation?

The policies that we've implemented, working on both supply and demand, are what we had after the Asian financial crisis - focusing on reforms, focusing on capital expenditure. So you have both - an increase in aggregate demand and increasing aggregate supply, which can enable growth without having to have a situation of high inflation.

One likely disruption that is out there is financial markets being out of sync with fundamentals. How do you see it?

If you look at the post-budget market response, that is not a disconnect. That is actually reflecting the fundamentals because stock markets basically reflect future growth. The budget does not only the prospect for growth in the coming year but also lays out important foundation for future years. The post budget rally is reflecting what we've clearly highlighted in the survey, that India has actually shown its maturity in its policy making. Policymaking can often be myopic. In contrast, in responding to Covid-19, India has actually been mature - taking some short-term pain for long-term gain.

You have a whole chapter on ratings agencies. Some private economists have expressed concerns about a downgrade. Have you reached out to them?

Of course. There is engagement not only with ratings agencies, but with other international agencies as well. It is a continual one. We have made numerous arguments. Economic rationale is very strong. Compared to the beginning of pandemic, we are in a stronger position. In the budget, we've provided for growth and a chapter in the survey makes it very clear growth leads to debt sustainability.

On growth estimates, is the government being conservative or is the Economic Survey more bullish?

Packaged Food Cos Back FSSAI Move to Cut Trans Fat Use

New Delhi: Packaged food companies said the Food Safety and Standards Authority of India's (FSSAI) move to reduce trans fat in food items which use edible oil as an ingredient to 2% is consumer friendly and will not put burden on the industry as most companies are already working on reducing trans-fat in their products. "Most food companies are already moving towards zero trans fat... It is a pro-consumer, pro-industry move," said Mayank Shah, senior category head, Parle Products said. FSSAI has put a cap on trans-fatty acids in food products just weeks after it tightened the norms for oils and fats. Federation of Biscuit Manufacturers of India (FBMI) too has committed to work on freedom from trans-fat by the 70th year of Indian Independence," said a spokesperson for the FBMI. With consumers preferring to opt for healthier food options, most food companies are working towards reducing the trans-fat content in all food products in a phased manner and encouraging the use of right choice of fats and oils in food products, the spokesperson added. -Shambhavi Anand

Business Activity Back to Normal in Feb: Nomura

Our Bureau

New Delhi: Business in India was almost back to normal levels in the first week of February on what appeared to be a "vaccine pivot" in activity global brokerage Nomura said.

On the other hand, power demand improved 9.6% against a 0.4% contraction in the previous week. The labour participation rate inched up to 49.9% from 49.6% earlier, Nomura said.

"Overall, ebbing pandemic risk suggests that the 'vaccine pivot' in activity might be under way with heat waiting on the economic calendar for a faster normalisation," Nomura said in a note on Tuesday.

The promise of 'fiscal activism' by the government would amplify the tailwinds for the Indian economy, Nomura economists Sonal Varma and Anandnand Nandi said in the note.

The Nomura India Business Resumption Index (NBRI) picked up sharply to 96.3 in the week ended February 7 from 84.4 in the previous week, indicating a faster pace of normalisation over January.

"Further out, the promise of continued fiscal activism amplifies the already strong tailwinds of the 'vaccine pivot', easy financial conditions, base effect and faster global growth, bolstering our call for GDP growth averaging 2.5% to 4.9% in FY22 (DBI 30.5%), versus 6.7% in FY21," they said.

The improvement in the index, which covers high-frequency indicators like mobility power demand and labour participation, came after sober growth in the previous month, when the NBRI dropped to 92.7 in the week ended January 21.

While India has avoided a second Covid-19 wave, the continued drop in daily cases and fatalities has allowed India to escape from a "stay-at-home" phase of health and forth policy responses, the finance ministry said.

'Budget Steps to Bring Back Strong, Sustainable Growth'

Our Bureau

New Delhi: Measures announced in the Union Budget 2021-22 along with the Atmanirbhar Bharat package would bring the economy back on a strong and sustainable growth path, the finance ministry's economic review for January has said.

High frequency indicators such as power consumption, inter-state mobility and manufacturing capacity utilisation suggested a sustained economic recovery in January. Goods and services tax collection hit another record high of ₹2.2 lakh crore in January while India's manufacturing purchasing managers' index (PMI) stood at 51.7 and services PMI was at 52.8 for the month, both at the expansion level.

Further, the V-shaped recovery which continued in January is supported by the initiation of a mega vaccination drive with hopes of a robust recovery in the services sector," said the report released on Tuesday. "With the expanded borrowing programme mostly meant for funding the enhanced capital outlay, the budget has set in place the multiple impact growth boosting and job creating fiscal path tapering to 4.5% of GDP in 2028," it said.

It pointed out that the Reserve Bank of India's monetary policy committee (MPC) had kept the already low policy repo rates unchanged and maintained its accommodative stance on growth. "A convergence across three windows of policy intervention lays to rest any ambiguity on the growth agenda of the government," the report said.

भारत चीतपट

इंग्लंडने भारताला २२७ धावांनी नमविले

वृत्तसंस्था, चेन्नई

भारत वि. इंग्लंड क्रिकेट

आम्ही मापदंड प्रस्थापित केला आहे. अजूनही काही गोष्टींमध्ये सुधारणा आवश्यक आहे. शून्येकित खेळण्याचा आम्हाला फायदा झाला. तेथील फिरकी गोलंदाजांचा चांगला पध्दतीने सामना केला आणि मालिका जिंकल्यानंतर आत्मविश्वासही दृश्याला. अडहरसनने कोतुकासुद मारा केला.

- जो स्टूट, इंग्लंडचा कर्णधार

पहिल्या डावातील आमच्या सामन्याकामीर्नंतरच कसोटीचे धारडे इंग्लंडच्या याजुने झुकले होते. एक संच म्हणून आम्ही छाप पाडू शकलो नाहीत. आमची देहवालीच चुकीची होती आणि विजयाची इच्छा दिसत नव्हती. आगामी कसोटीत आम्हाला मोठ्या भागीदारीवर लक्ष केंद्रित करावे लागणार आहे.

- विराट कोहली, भारताचा कर्णधार

रिव्हर्स सिंग्या या कसोटीत महत्त्वाचा घटक. चेडू रिव्हर्स होतो आहे, हे आमच्या लक्षात आले होते. त्यामुळे आम्हाला टप्पा अचूक राखायचा होता. ते आम्ही करू शकलो. खेळपट्टी संघ होती. खेळपट्टीला भेगा पडत होत्या. त्यामुळे कुठल्याही चेडूवर विकेट घेऊ शकतो, यावर विश्वास होत.
