AS AGNIPATH PROTESTS SPREAD...

Govt takes a step back, Opposition calls for talks

19-yr-old killed amid incidents of violence; mayhem and arson across states

ADITI PHADNIS
New Delhi, 17 June

As violence and protests against the Centre's Agnipath scheme continued unabated on Friday, despite a minor "compromise" offered by the government in the form of a one-time two-year increase in the eligibility age of recruitment, Opposition parties said the government needed to call a special session of Parliament and meetings of the Defence Consultative Committee for more extensive discussions.

Bharatiya Janata Party (BJP) President J P Nadda, Finance Minister Nirmala Sitharaman, Defence Minister Rajnath Singh and Home Minister Amit Shah came in support of Prime Minister Narendra Modi's "transformative" scheme and the compromise "that showed PM Modi cared for the youth", suggesting that the government had walked the extra mile and would not be accommodative hereafter.

But, violence, mayhem and arson continued to rock the country, with Bihar, where the BJP is in power in alliance with the Janata Dal United, leading the pack. Properties of BJP leaders, including the residence of Deputy Chief Minister Renu Devi in Bettiah and the BJP office in Madhepura were targeted. At several places across the state, trains were attacked and set on fire.

In Telangana, protesters attacked trains at the Secunderabad railway station, leading to a firing in which a 19-year-old died.

A cop aims to fire in the air to disperse people protesting against the Agnipath scheme in Bihar's Danapur on Friday. Internet services have been suspended in 12 districts of Bihar

The violence spread to Odisha and hundreds were detained in Tamil Nadu at Vellore and Trichy. Haryana suspended internet services in a bid to get a handle on WhatsApp groups, and Section 144 was imposed in Gurugram. Several metro stations in Delhi were closed to prevent protesters from travelling and ward off damage to property. More than 200 trains were cancelled or suspended.

In Varanasi, the PM's Lok Sabha constituency, protesters smashed windows and booths at a bus stand. Ballia, in eastern UP, saw violent agitations as well. At most of the places, mobs vented their ire at government property.

"Some protesters have expressed outrage and created chaos against the Agnipath scheme, which has been implemented by the Government of India. Protesters should not resort to violence. There have been reports of protests across 17 places in the state, out of which, Ballia and Aligarh have seen arson. We have received intelligence inputs that some organisations are trying to provoke the protesting mobs against this issue. Police will take further action on this," UP ADG Prashant Kumar said.

The government's response was to speed up recruitment. The armed forces had announced the scheme would kick off in 90 days. Chief of Air Staff Air Chief Marshal V R Chaudhari said recruitment for the Indian Air Force would begin from June 24. The Army will speed up recruitment by issuing a notification for it by Monday as well.

All this hinted that there was no rethink about the scheme in the government, far less the possibility of a rollback. Instead, the government's intelligence wings were pressed into service to analyse the "forces" behind such a coordinated and seemingly spontaneous protest.

The demands of the protesters ranged from a call for scrapping of the scheme to the considering examinations - physical and written - which aspirants had already taken, based on the original tour-of-duty terms.

New Delhi, 17 June

The protests against the Agnipath defence recruitment scheme escalated dramatically on Friday, with protesters destroying buses, trains and other infrastructure across the country. Amid raging vandalism, 340 trains of Indian Railways were affected, the railway ministry said.

As of Friday evening, 94 mail or express trains and 140 passenger trains were cancelled. As many as 95 trains were partially cancelled and 11 were diverted. By comparison, 42 trains had been fully or partially cancelled on Thursday, implying the destruction of property has increased at a rapid pace in a little over 24 hours.

The protestors have also set several trains on fire across states. "So far, a total of seven trains have been set ablaze. Six of them were passenger trains and one had no passengers," a senior railways official told Business Standard.

Instances of arson were reported in Bihar and Uttar Pradesh, besides some other states. Railway officials confirmed that the agitation in the east central railway zone was called off at 4:55 pm on Friday. Meanwhile, Railways minister Ashwini Vaishnaw asked for the destruction to stop and protesters to show restraint. "I request everybody not to take law into their own hands. Please do not destroy railway property. Railway property is your property. It's national property, for your service," the minister said. He added that the government had its ears open to all grievances against the policy and any solution could only be reached through dialogue.

In view of the backlash against the defence recruitment scheme, the Centre on Thursday announced a one-time waiver, increasing the upper-age limit for recruitment under Agnipath to 23 years, instead of the proposed 17-21-and-a-half years.

The protests come against the backdrop of a number of aspirants feeling betrayed by the government's sudden change in policy and pent-up anger against stalled recruitments in the government sector due to Covid-related disruptions.

WTO...

India also climbed down from its demand to end moratorium on customs duty on electronic transmission, which anyway was considered as a bargaining tool. At the end of the day, India was happy that it won't have to take fresh disciplines in any sector even as a deal could be agreed upon.

Commerce and Industry Minister Piyush Goyal said perhaps this was the first ministerial where India set the agenda. "We were on the front foot. We were telling other countries what need to be done."

The outcome of the WTO is not only emblematic of the importance of a multilateral trading system but is also seen as an image makeover effort by India to be seen as a deal maker than a deal breaker.

Biswajit Dhar, professor of economics at the Jawaharlal Nehru University said countries have deliberately lowered their ambitions to at least get

FISHERIES

WHAT INDIA WANTED

- Exemption from subsidy cuts for developing countries fishing within EEZs
- 25-year ban on subsidies for countries fishing in areas beyond their EEZs

WHAT INDIA GOT

- No restriction on subsidies for fishing within EEZs
- No subsidies for fishing in areas outside EEZs
- Check on illegal unreported, unregulated (IUU) fishing by developed countries and China something on the table. "If you have high ambitions and fail, then it would have sent a signal that WTO can't take decisions," he added.

However, the WTO's failure to include diagnostics and therapeutics in the patent waiver deal along with vaccines drew strongest criticism. Max Lawson, Co-Chair of the People's Vaccine Alliance and Head of Inequality Policy at Oxfam said this is absolutely not the broad intellectual property waiver the world desperately needs to ensure access to vaccines and treatments for everyone, everywhere. "This so-called compromise largely reiterates developing countries' existing rights to override patents in certain circumstances. And it tries to restrict even that limited right to countries which do not already have capacity to produce COVID-19 vaccines. Put simply, it is a technocratic fudge aimed at saving reputations, not lives," he added.

In October 2020, India and South Africa and 63 co-sponsors of the waiver proposal had made the TRIPS waiver proposal to help middle and low income nations get access to Covid-19 vaccines and drugs. However, the discussions reached a deadlock in the TRIPS Council. The final agreement fell short of the original proposal.

The global trade body was also able to build a consensus on the agreement on a 21-year old issue that aims to eliminate subsidies for illegal, unreported and unregulated (IUU) fishing and promote sustainable fishing. The final agreement removed the contentious clause, which proposed a ban on overfishing subsidies within seven years. India had called for a ban on subsidies in 25 years for countries fishing in areas beyond their exclusive economic zones.

According to the final deal, there will be checks on illegal unreported, unregulated fishing in India's waters and elsewhere. Besides, no subsidies will be provided for fishing in areas outside exclusive economic zones.

The outcome document of the ministerial committed to work towards necessary reform of the WTO while reaffirming the foundational principles of the WTO and promised to revive the dispute settlement body in next two years.
