for electronics

For other sectors (except garments and made ups), only the original MEIS incentive of 2%, 5% and 5% of freight on board (FoB) value will be extended from January I, until the RoDTEP is in place. The additional incentive of 2% under the MEIS was offered to various exposters in December under the MEIS was offered to various exporters in December 2017 to soften, the blow of their stuck refunds and other ssues under the goods and ser-vices tax (GST) regime. So, the MEIS incentive for electronics MEIS meentive for electronics players was raised to 48% from just 24% earlier. But now that the GST has more or less stabilised and refunds take less time to be cleared, a resource-strapped revenue depart ment is reluctant to extend this extra benefit beyond. Detember 2019, another official said. Accordingly, the directorate general, of foreign trade (DGFT), on December 7, notified the exporters of the withdrawal of the extra incentive from January 11, 2020, he added.

But the decision came as a jolt for the exporters, who had already firmed up contracts by factoring in the extra incentives. Laya, for instance, recently won orders from American companies such as OE and AT&T to make whitelabel devices.

Many said the advance notice for the withdrawal should have come much earlier and they should have beengiven adequate time to move to the lower-incentive regime, especially when the roll-out of the RoDTEF is postponed to the next fiscal from the proposed date of january 1,2020. "India's disabilities in electronics trade vis-a vis countries like Vietnam, its decent growth in electronics worth and in the contraction in overall out bound shipments, and huge employment potential of the section of the contraction in overall out bound shipments, and huge map of the contraction in overall out bound shipments, and huge map of the contraction in overall out bound shipments, and huge map of the contraction of the contraction in overall out bound shipments, and huge map of the contraction of the contraction in overall out bound shipments, and huge ment the major of the contraction of the contraction in overall out bound shipments, and huge major the major on the officials said. Highlighting that India lacks severe disabilities vis-a-vis Vietnam (9-12-96) and China (ICBA) has argued that even the total MLIS benefit of 4% bonly partly offsets this gap. In a letter to commerce minister Plysah Goyal, IT and electronics minister Ray Shankar Prasad and finance minister Nirmals Sitharaman on December 9, ICBA chairman Pankaj. The members have their investment plans and retrench large-scale employees, many of whom have been hired over the Sat. 6 # months, based on the export potential. It will also lead to an immediate that in all future hirring and capacity expansion," Mohilm-droo had cautioned. The growth in India's electronics exports has been much higher than the rise in overall goods exports in recent years, alheit on a low bate. India's electronics exports has been much higher than the rise in overall almost 449-b in the April-November period, even when overall merchandle exports witnessed a 29s contraction. However, it's way below the ambitious target of $110 billion of mobile handset exports by 2025, set under the national electronics policy 2019.

The exporters have argued that although the MEIS is inconsistent with the MIST is inconsistent with the World Trade Organistent wit
