EVEN AS SLOWDOWN RISK CLIMBS FOR SOME ASIAN ECONOMIES...

India has Zero Probability of Slipping into Recession: Survey

High inflation spurs central banks to accelerate the pace of interest rate hikes

Bloomberg

Washington: The risk of recession in a handful of Asian economies is rising as higher prices spur central banks to accelerate the pace of their interest rate hikes, according to the latest Bloomberg survey of economists.

Sri Lanka, which is in the midst of its worst economic crisis ever, has an 85% probability of falling into recession in the next year, up from a 33% chance in the previous survey -- by far the highest increase in the region. Economists also raised their expectations for a chance of recession in New Zealand, Taiwan, Australia and the Philippines to 33%, 20%, 20% and 8%, respectively. Central banks in those places have been raising interest rates to tame inflation.

The probability of recession for several other Asian economies remained unchanged in the survey. Economists see a 20% chance that China will enter recession, and a 25% likelihood that South Korea or Japan will enter one.

Asian economies have largely remained resilient compared to Europe and the United States. Surging energy prices have hit countries such as Germany and France the most, with a spillover effect impacting the rest of that region, said Steven Cochrane, chief Asia Pacific economist at Moody's Analytics Inc.

In general, Asia's risk of recession is around 20-25%, he said, adding that the odds of the US

Recession Probability Forecasts

entering one is around 40%, while Europe stands at 50-55%.

Bloomberg Economics' model puts the chance of a US recession at 38% within the next 12 months, up from around 0% just a few months before. That model incorporates a variety of factors ranging from housing permits and consumer survey data to the gap between 10-year and 3-month Treasury yields.

SC Stays Proceedings Between Dhoni & Amrapali over Commercial Dispute

New Delhi: The Supreme Court on Monday stayed the arbitral proceedings initiated by former India captain MS Dhoni against the Amrapali group of companies, now a defunct real estate firm for which the Dhoni had moved to the Delhi High Court which, on October 16, 2019, had appointed its former judge Veena Birbal as sole arbitrator to arbitrate the commercial dispute between the cricketer and the real estate firm.

cricketer was the brand ambassador, over some financial dispute.

The apex court-appointed forensic auditors had told the bench that Amrapali Group had entered into "sham agreements" with Rihiti Sports Management Pvt Ltd (RSMPL) which promotes the brand of Dhoni, to "illegally divert" home buyers' money and a total amount of Rs 42.22 crore was paid to RSMPL during 2009-2015.

A bench comprising justices U U Lalit and Bela M Trivedi was on Monday told by the court-appointed receiver about the pending arbitration proceedings between Dhoni and the defunct real estate firms and the difficulties posed to him in pursuing it.

In the order, the top court noted that to secure the interests of the home buyers, it had taken cognizance of the matters and had appointed a court receiver to ensure that the housing projects are completed well within time and apartments are allotted to the buyers. PTI
