FMCG industry facing volume growth stress: Kantar report

Consumers rationalising spends, shifting to unbranded segments; magic price points remain popular despite shrinkflation

MEENAKSHI VERMA AMBWANI
New Delhi, July 28

FMCG sector's value growth is outpacing volume growth on the back of inflationary-led price hikes.

According to marketing data and analytics firm Kantar, which tracks household consumption, FMCG sector's volume growth was pegged at 4 per cent and value growth at 8 per cent in the 12-month period ended May over the corresponding period in the previous year.

This is leading consumers to shift to unbranded products and to also rationalise spends on personal care and household care segments. Despite adoption of shrinkflation strategies by companies, the magic price of ₹5 and ₹10, especially in food categories, remains popular.

Varied consumer responses
At the same time, the premium segment across categories continues to see growth, albeit slower than last year, indicating different consumer cohorts are responding differently to inflationary pressures, as per insights released by Kantar.

In the 12-month period ended May 2021, FMCG sector's volume growth was estimated at 7 per cent and value growth at 12 per cent over the corresponding period.

K Ramakrishnan, MD-South Asia, Worldpanel Division at Kantar told BusinessLine, "There is a significant stress in terms of volume consumption in the FMCG sector. Value growth is being led by price hikes.

However, there are defin-

There has been a significant rise in households buying FMCG products under promotional schemes BIJOY GHOSH itely signs of recovery in terms of easing of certain input costs such as edible oils. This could lead manufacturers to take actions that could make consumers a little more open to volume spends in the coming months."

In response to price hikes, there has been a significant rise in households buying FMCG products under promotional schemes.

They also seem to be adding unbranded products to their shopping baskets in categories such as edible oils, spices, toilet cleaners and floor cleaners.

At a time when most FMCG companies have reduced weight of packs to mitigate input cost pressures, the magic price points of ₹5 and ₹10 remain popular.

Infact consumers are buying more packs at these price points on more occasions to satiate grammage requirements and manage spends, Kantar noted. "There are also early signs of emergence of ₹20 as a magic price point for consumers in categories such as biscuits, toothpastes, hair oils and skin creams," added Ramakrishnan.

Growth in premium segment
Despite inflationary pressures, the premium segment in categories such as food and beverages (13 per cent), personal care (1.2 per cent) and home care (10 per cent) witnessed volume growth (MAT April 2022).

As per Kantar, growth rates at the premium end have slowed down, but strategies such as offering specialised products and small packs to recruit new consumers are helping premium brands clock growth.

"There is a kind of bipolarity in behaviour visible from the consumer lens. At the upper end, there are consumer cohorts who continue to spend on discretionary categories especially since they couldn't do that in the past two years due to the pandemic. "These consumers are also not compromising on purchasing premium brands. At the lower end, while consumers are showing tendencies of stress, they are also increasing spending on certain categories such as grooming," Ramakrishnan explained.

Dr Reddy's Q1 net surges 108% to ₹1,188 cr

OUR BUREAU

Hyderabad, July 28
Pharmaceutical major Dr Reddy's has posted a net profit of ₹1,188 crore in the first quarter ended June 30, 2022, as against ₹571 crore in the same quarter, showing a growth of over 108 per cent. During the quarter, it clocked revenues of ₹5,215 crore as against ₹4,919 crore in the same quarter last year, showing a growth of 6 per cent.

Addressing a press conference on Thursday, Dr Reddy's Chief Executive Officer Erez Israeli, said the company would tap newer opportunities through its initiative Horizon-2. The new opportunities would include end-to-end disease management offerings and biologicals. These activities will be synergistic with existing business.

"This is going to be very important for the company in the years to come. Post 2027 till 2040, most of the off-patent products will be biologicals. This is going to be an important segment for us. We will be targeting it," he said.

Sputnikas booster

He said the company was in the final stages of finalising the trials in India to qualify Sputnik as a booster for other vaccines in the country. "Once the trials are completed and good results achieved, we can apply for a licence in India and then look at other countries," Israeli said.

"Our underlying business revenues adjusted for Covid products contribution during last year have grown well. The profits were aided by a few non-recurring incomes, offsetting the near term headwinds," Dr Reddy's Co-Chairman and Managing Director GV Prasad said.

The contribution from India operations grew by 26 per cent to ₹1,330 crore, largely driven by divestment of a few non-core brands, and revenue contribution from the products acquired or licensed from Novartis and new products contribution.
