Ramco Systems Partners with Hanjin Information Systems & Telecommunication (HIST), part of the Hanjin Group, Korea

To enable Korean aviation organizations to digitally transform their M&E and MRO operations

Chennai, INDIA / Seoul, SOUTH KOREA – December 05, 2024 – Global aviation software specialist Ramco Systems announced that it has entered into a partnership with Hanjin Information Systems & Telecommunication Co., Ltd. (HIST), a leading ICT services company and a subsidiary of the Hanjin Group, Korea. This partnership leverages Ramco's next-gen aviation maintenance software in collaboration with HIST's expertise in IT consulting for the aviation industry. Together, both the parties will enable the aviation organizations headquartered in Korea to digitally transform their M&E and MRO operations.

The partnership provides Korean aviation organizations with the powerful synergy of HIST's advisory and software implementation expertise as well as Ramco's Aviation 6.0 Software, which enables organizations with streamlined processes, optimized supply chain, and enhanced efficiency in engine maintenance management. Ramco and HIST will collaborate on the first-ever implementation of Ramco Aviation Software 6.0 at Korean Air, the national flag carrier of South Korea.

Bong-Sup Byun, CEO, Hanjin Information Systems & Telecommunication, said, "We will create new innovations in the IT market by combining Ramco Systems' MRO solution expertise and Hanjin Information Systems & Telecommunication's technological capabilities in the aviation and logistics fields. This partnership will provide opportunities for future-oriented growth for both companies."

Manoj Kumar Singh, Chief Customer Officer – Aviation, Aerospace & Defense, Ramco Systems, said, "Our partnership with Hanjin Information Systems & Telecommunication reflects a synergy of vision and purpose, as we come together to empower Korean aviation organizations. I am confident that this partnership will open doors to groundbreaking innovation for these organizations, enabling them to leverage Ramco's AI-powered solution to elevate their aviation operations with streamlined MRO, enhanced flight safety, and optimized commercials. Our initial collaboration to implement Ramco Aviation Software 6.0 at Korean Air will create immense strides in Korean Air's technology transformation. We look forward to a long and fruitful partnership with Hanjin Information Systems & Telecommunication."
