Kellton debuts as Leader in 2022 Zinnov Zones ER&D Services Report

Kellton, a leading digital transformation company, made its debut feature as a Leader in the Zinnov Zones ER&D Services Ratings 2022 edition. This rating adds validation to the existing strong capabilities Kellton has in the Product Engineering domain.

Kellton has been recognized as a leader in the Small & Medium Service Providers and Consumer Software segments by Zinnov, based on parameters like scalability, verticals served, client base and specialization. Kellton's deep focus on Digital Engineering & Enterprise software verticals has also been recognized in this year's ratings from Zinnov.

With expertise in Digital Engineering, Kellton has capabilities across the service stack ranging from Digital Application Development, Application Transformation, Cloud to API Driven Development and more. Kellton has been working with over 200+ global customers through deep engagements in the Product Engineering space. Its unique 'global presence with a local touch' offering allows it to service all enterprises alike, from start-ups and early-stage enterprises to Fortune 500 companies.

"We are very excited about this recognition from Zinnov. Kellton is committed to providing top-notch digital solutions that transform and revolutionize how leading companies operate. Our unique positioning with agility and stability means we're able to offer customized digital applications from start to finish, for any company no matter its size.", said Krishna Chintam, Global CEO, Kellton "This rating is a testament to our capabilities, and we hope to continue on this upward trajectory."

Sidhant Rastogi, Managing Partner and Global Head, Zinnov, said, "Kellton's capabilities to offer solutions across a broad spectrum of DIGINEXT technologies like Blockchain, IoT, AI and Data Engineering have made it a formidable player in the Digital Engineering space. The firm's unique industry-specific solutions such as KLGAME™ and Optima, have helped it deliver value-driven outcomes for both new-age as well as asset-heavy enterprise clients. This, along with Kellton's strong partnership ecosystem has helped the firm establish itself as a leader amongst small and medium-sized providers in Zinnov's 2022 ER&D Zones ratings."

Our focus for the past year has been the OneKellton initiative, an initiative intended to consolidate our global presence, accounts, and subsidiaries. This company-wide transformation also involves reinventing service lines to reflect a wide range of technology and capabilities, and the development of more impactful Centers of Excellence. Our goal is to continuously revisit and reimagine existing technologies while introducing new capabilities in a synchronized environment. This orchestration is what we believe will help us earn client trust and as well as industry credibility reflected in our inclusion in the Zinnov Zones Ratings.
