Goods or services? GST law panel's crypto dilemma

Tax treatment decision after there's clarity on classification

SHRIMI CHOUDHARY
New Delhi, 8 June

After taxing income from virtual digital assets, the government is looking to soon bring clarity on the applicability of the goods and services tax (GST) on cryptocurrency assets.

At present, there is no specific provision for virtual assets in the GST regulations. It is levied at the rate of 18 per cent only on services provided by crypto exchanges, which are categorised as financial services.

"Discussions have been held around the classification of crypto assets. The law committee and the fitment committee of the GST Council will look into the classification and the tax treatment of crypto assets. The law panel will make suggestions on whether crypto is treated as a good, commodity, or service," a senior government official told Business Standard.

The official added that based on the classification, the tax treatment of such assets would be taken up by the fitment committee after which it will be taken up by the GST Council. The official clarified that the process would take time and may not be part of the upcoming Council meeting, which is expected to be held late this month or early next month.

Sources said the Central Board of Indirect Taxes and Customs (CBIC) feels virtual assets could be included under Schedule 2 of the Central Goods and Services Tax Act, 2017, which specifies the activities or transactions that are to be treated as the supply of goods or supply of services. Besides, they also deliberated taxing certain transactions of crypto assets under the highest GST bracket of 28 per cent.

The GST panels are learnt to be also working on the valuation at which tax would be levied — that is, whether the GST would apply on margins or on the entire value.

"Some of the contentious transactions include mining of crypto assets or the exchange of virtual assets between the two persons. It is unlikely that crypto will be taxed on the gross value, per say," another official said, adding that further deliberations are needed.

VIRTUAL ASSETS WITHIN GST AMBIT

- Working on classification of crypto assets
- To decide whether these will be treated as goods, services, or commodities
- GST panels considering valuation at which tax will be levied on virtual assets
- CBIC favours inclusion in Schedule 2 of CGST Act

There are also discussions on imposing reverse charges on Indians investing in virtual digital assets through foreign crypto platforms, he added.

"More clarity is required on the crypto or virtual asset front. The government should consider including the virtual assets under the schedule 2 of the CGST Act. Then, accordingly define crypto as non-fungible tokens and based on that decide tax rates.

The policymakers while deciding tax should keep global standards in mind as heavy taxation may shift trades abroad, resulting in a loss to the exchequer. It is imperative to define the valuation of the asset in the most pragmatic way so that there is no double taxation and no supply escapes tax," said Abhishek A Rastogi, partner at Khaitan & Co.

Back in the green, YES Bank starts process of forming new board

SBI, its largest shareholder, proposes that Prashant Kumar stay on as MD & CEO

ABHIJIT LELE
Mumbai, 8 June

The board of YES Bank has recommended the formation of a new board on the back of the private sector bank completing a turnaround and achieving significant progress after the implementation of the Yes Bank Reconstruction Scheme in March 2020.

Financial year 2021-22 (FY22) was a year of profit for the bank as the balance sheet showed a positive ₹1,066 crore after two successive years of heavy losses in FY20 and FY21. The lender nearly doubled its deposit book from about ₹1.05 trillion in March 2020 to ₹1.97 trillion in March 2022.

As the next step, following the recommendation by its largest shareholder — State Bank of India (SBI) — the proposal for the composition of a new board was given. Names of directors proposed are Atul Malik, Rekha Murthy Sharad Sharma, Nandita Gurjar, Sanjay Kumar Khemani, Sadashiv Srinivas Rao, T Keshav Kumar, Sandeep Tewari and Prashant Kumar, who is presently the managing director and chief executive officer (MD & CEO) of the bank.

SBI has proposed Kumar's name for the post for a three-year term.

The term of two additional directors — R Gandhi and Ananth Narayan Gopalakrishnan — appointed by the Reserve Bank of India (RBI), will go on till March 23, 2023. Sunil Metha, chairman, Yes Bank, and other board members — Mahesh Krishnamurti and Atul Bheda — will demit office after the formation of the new board.

In March 2020, the RBI and the government had framed a restructuring scheme to salvage the troubled private sector bank which was once promoted and run by Rana Kapoor. Commercial Banks led by SBI had infused ₹10,000 crore under the scheme.

The new board is being constituted and will operate private lender, the share of its low cost deposits — current account and savings account showed an excess of 30 per cent. Its advances stood at ₹1.81 trillion at the end of March 2022. In FY22, the loan book grew by 9 per cent with gross disbursements of ₹70,000 crore across all segments, which meant that the focus had moved from consolidation of the balance-sheet to growth.

There were significant corrections and improvements in the bank's liquidity position and funding structure.

The bank's credit to deposit ratio improved from 163 per cent to 92 per cent and liquidity coverage ratio rose from 37 per cent to 128 per cent by March 2022.

The bank had also raised ₹15,000 crore of equity capital in July 2020 through a public issue.

Sugar mills question export quota distribution

SANJEEB MUKHERJEE
New Delhi, 8 June

Even as sugar mills, both in the cooperative and private sectors, have questioned the manner in which the government is distributing export release orders after the ban, the government on Wednesday said it had given ample time to millers and exporters to apply through the online portal and was processing the applications on a first-come-first-served basis.

"In past few years also, whenever export quota was allocated among sugar mills it was allocated to sugar mills on a pro-rata basis and therefore, this time also in order to maintain transparency and to give opportunity to all exporters and sugar mills who have applied till June 3, 2022, export release orders have been issued on pro-rata basis," said an official statement issued Wednesday.

The sugar mills, led by the Indian Sugar Mills Association (ISMA), meanwhile, are planning to write a letter to the government alleging that it has deviated from its earlier practice of granting export release orders only to sugar mills by including trading and export houses also within the ambit of release orders.

This has complicated the system and opened the doors for arbitrariness and manipulation.

"These trading houses have cornered much of the export quotas granted after the ban and are now trying to manipulate the system and creating hurdles in smooth export of sugar," ISMA president Aditya Jhunjhunwala told Business Standard.

ISMA, meanwhile, revised upward its 2021-22 season (October to September) sugar production estimate to an all-time high of 36 million tonnes can fulfill their export commitments in the current season, and there is no repercussion of the same in the next season," Jhunjhunwala said.

He even went further to say that the country will be left with sufficient stock at the start of the 2022-23 season in October.

On Tuesday, former Union minister and Nationalist Congress Party leader Sharad Pawar wrote a letter to Prime Minister Narendra Modi, urging him to relax the cap on foreign shipments by 1 MT as production is expected to be higher than earlier estimates.

Also, the cooperative sugar mills had complained against the alleged unfair treatment meted out to them while allocating export quotas.
