ET Intelligence Group's Foreign portfolio investors (FPIs) continue to stay bullish on Indian metal and mining stocks amid the favourable commodity cycle even as they have been net sellers in local equity market. According to NSDL data, they have deployed $1.4 billion (₹1,400 crore) in the sector so far in 2022 while putting out a record $4 billion (₹1,100 crore) from Indian equities.

FPIs have remained net buyers in the sector in each of the past four months with an average inflow of $200 million (₹1,600 crore) on a fortnightly basis. Global prices of steel, aluminium and zinc have risen amid supply disruption and higher raw material costs.

Spot steel prices per tonne for flat and long categories have soared by ₹3,000 and ₹2,500, respectively,

Banks, Big Tech Take Dow Higher as Fed Decision Looms

New York: The S&P 500 and the Dow rose on Tuesday, as investors picked up shares of financials and beaten-down mega-cap companies, while being cautious about the Federal Reserve's ability to tame inflation without impeding growth. Nine of the 11 major S&P sectors rose, with energy and financials up 2.6% and 1.7%, respectively. The S&P 500 index gained 2.4%, with Bank of America climbing 3.5%. The US central bank kicks off its two-day policy meeting on Tuesday. Traders see a 93.9% chance of a 50 basis points hike on Wednesday that would mark the largest rate hike by the Fed since May 2000. - Reuters

Domestic Funds Dominate LIC's Anchor Allotment

Mumbai: Domestic institutions dominated LIC's Insurance Corporation of India's anchor allotment before the initial public offering of 59.3 million shares allotted to anchor investors at ₹99 each—the upper end of the price band for the IPO.

that it had raised ₹5,827 crore from anchor investors on Monday after the ad of an initial public offering—the largest public offer ever. The company said about 99.3 million shares were allotted to anchor investors at ₹99 each, the upper end of the price band for the IPO on Tuesday. The IPO, India's biggest, will close on May 9.

Societe Generale, the Government Pension Fund of Norway, the Government of Singapore, Monetary Authority of Singapore, RNP Investments and Global Master Fund were the foreign funds which participated in the anchor book.

about 42.7 million shares were allotted to 15 domestic mutual funds, including SBI, ICICI Prudential, HDFC, Aditya Birla, Axis, Nippon, and UPL. HCL Corporation, NPS Trust, PNB Mutuals, and Bajaj Allianz General Insurance were some of the other anchor investors.

The government aims to raise ₹20,000 crore from investors through the IPO. Of the ₹22.37 million shares on offer, around 6.8 million are reserved for qualified institutional buyers, and 25.6 million for non-institutional buyers.

Longer-tenure G-secs Gaining Popularity over PSU Bonds, State Development Loans

30-30 bps. The 10-year benchmark has risen 47bps in the past three months. One basis point is 0.01%. For instance, the 7.26% GOI 2025, which pays interest twice a year, gives a yield of 7.17%, while 7.58% GOI 2026 trades at a yield-to-maturity (YTM) of 7.43%.

In comparison, a PSU bond of 7.31% Power Finance Corp 2026 gives 7.23% while a 7.54% Indian Railway Finance Corp 2024 yields 7.15%. In the case of SDLA, the 7.28% Gujarat SDL 2022 trades at a YTM of 7.35% while 7.83% Maharashtra SDL 2020 trades at 7.28%.

"Some institutional investors too could shift from corporate bonds to G-secs considering the higher liquidity and narrowing of the yield curve," said Anshu Gupta, co-founder, BondIndia.com.

Since government securities pay interest twice a year, there is no put/call option and no expense ratio. As compared to mutual funds, there is visibility of returns.

Many ultra-rich investors are buying a basket of longer-tenure government securities to build their own portfolios and looking into securities with long tenures of 30-30 years, which are not available through the mutual fund route.

Mumbai: Affluent investors allocating money to fixed income instruments are increasingly buying government securities (G-secs) over AAA-rated public sector undertaking (PSU) bonds and state development loans (SDL), as the difference in returns has narrowed and is at a historical low.

"We have never seen such narrow spreads between G-secs and AAA-rated PSU bonds or SDLs. We are seeing a huge demand for G-secs from rich investors since they are available in longer tenures, carry the highest safety and are more liquid," said Vikram Dalal, MD, Synergize Capital.

With the RBI Retail Direct platform open, many investors are using it to buy government securities and build a ladder of such instruments maturing at different times for their fixed income portfolio. Typically investors get 10 basis points more for an AAA-rated PSU bond and 50 basis points more for a SDL, compared to a G-sec for a similar tenure. However, there has been some disruption recently after the cut-up in G-secs. After the recent rally, the spread has narrowed down to
