SURAT REGISTERS 9 CASES OF SUICIDE Workers' plight takes polish off India's diamond city

ABHINAV KUMAR Surat, July 11

SURAT, SITUATED ON the banks of the Tapi river, is known as India's diamond city as it processes 80-90% of the world's diamonds.

Over the past few weeks, Surat has registered nine cases of suicide - all of workers engaged in the diamond industry - a portent of the ominous times the once glittering trade is going through.

The incident has sent shockwaves across the city among the 5,000 diamond cutting and polishing factories employing over a million people, nearly 90% of them migrants from Gujarat's Saurashtra region.

But those who are still employed are in dire straits. There was a time when the industry used to work the whole year without any long holidays, except for the Diwali season when the workers were allowed to avail a month's leave to visit their hometowns.

IN DISTRESS

The Surat Diamond Workers' Union claims that more than 20,000 workers in the industry have lost their jobs

They are forced to avail unpaid summer break of 20 to 25 days

Reduced weekly work hours have impacted the salaries of the workers who are getting 30-35% lower salaries than what they used to get

But now, the workers are being forced to work just five days a week, that too with reduced work hours. They are reportedly also being compelled to avail unpaid summer break of 20 to 25 days.

Versions, however, vary. While industry association claims the situation isn't that bad as is being made out to be, trade unions have a different story to tell.

the reduction in work hours and the prolonged summer break as a way of averting large scale unemployment. Mangukhiya says there has been no significant price drop in the diamond market.

The total rough diamond supply from Russia has come down to under 10% against the more than 35% prior to the war, said industry sources. NanuBhai Vekariya, president, Surat Diamond Association, dismissed all the claims of workers losing their jobs. Manufacturers, in fact, are facing a shortage of workers.

The post Covid boom in business has brought them a significant amount of profits and now they do not want to compromise on those profits. Because of salary cuts and job losses many of the diamond workers are looking for alternate livelihood options like agriculture and other manual jobs.

Indian govt looks to liquefy gas Iraq flares and imports

MANISH GUPTA New Delhi, July 11

INDIAN GOVERNMENT IS in talks with Iraq to check the possibility of setting up a plant in Iraq to liquefy the excess petroleum gas that the Arabian country flares as waste product and import it into India, a senior government official said.

"Gas flaring in Iraq is huge. It's almost as much as gas we import each year. We can certainly look at having some liquefaction facility there. The challenges are not in terms of intent, but more related to visas and sending big teams to study and develop a plan on the ground," the official said.

The discussion was part of the joint commission meeting (JCM) between Iraq and India last month. The bilateral meeting, happening after a gap of 10 years, is second after the National Security Advisors meeting held last March.

Gas flaring has been an issue with Iraq. The country wants to end the burning of associated gas in the oilfields to cut down losses and reduce gas imports.

UP IN THE AIR

Gas flaring has been an issue with Iraq. The country wants to end the burning of associated gas in the oilfields to cut down losses and reduce gas imports

Iraq burns 70% of the natural gas produced in its oil fields as a waste product. As per a World Bank estimate, Iraq flares about 1.6 bn cubic meters of gas per day

Besides, there is a growing consensus of a link between gases flared in the air and rise in cancer cases. Iraq burns 70% of the natural gas produced in its oil fields as a waste product. As per a World Bank estimate, Iraq flares about 1.6 billion cubic meters of gas per day. However, it has planned to end gas flaring in next two years. It has invited foreign companies to explore and develop natural gas reserves. Since the attack on two Saudi Aramco oil facilities in 2019 that forced Saudi Arabia to shut down half its total oil production, Indian government has drawn up a strategy to diversify as much as possible, and is planning to increase the ratio of term contracts as compared to spot purchases.

"We are also looking at oil coming from Guyana. Basically we are oil hungry and will explore wherever we can get good term deals. Right now the division between term and spot is 70:30, but 30% of spot is also high. We are looking at more term deals so that we can actually calculate our output," he said. The official informed that Iraq has been giving "very good" discounts to India in the term contracts for oil imports. India has asked them to extend the credit period from 60 days to 90 days, which the Iraqi government plans to discuss with the oil companies.

Rising tomato prices: No immediate respite

SANDIP DAS New Delhi, July 11

TOMATO PRICES WILL continue to be elevated for another month or so owing to supply disruption caused by surplus rainfall in the hilly states of Himachal Pradesh and Uttarakhand, traders said.
