GAIL looks to buy 26% stake in US LNG project

PRESS TRUST OF INDIA New Delhi, February 17

INDIA'S BIGGEST GAS firm GAIL is looking to buy up to 26% stake in a LNG project in the US in an attempt to shore up supply sources to meet rising demand. GAIL (India) had run into supply disruptions last year after Russia-owned Gazprom Marketing and Trading (GMTS) failed to deliver contracted LNG due to western sanctions on Moscow over its invasion of Ukraine.

The company has issued a tender seeking expression of interest (EoI) from operators of existing liquefied natural gas (LNG) liquefaction plants or proposed projects in the US that will be commissioned by 2027. Liquefaction plants convert natural gas into the liquid form, enabling its seaborne transportation. The company is also looking into buying 1 million tonnes a year of LNG from the facility for 15 years, starting the last quarter of calendar year 2026, according to the tender document. GAIL is open to extending the supply contract by another five to 10 years. The deadline to submit EoI is March 10. GAIL already has contracts to buy 5.8 million tonnes a year of LNG from the US and is looking for more supplies to make up for the Russian shortfall as well as rising demand of a growing

Prior to this, Petronet LNG a firm in which GAIL is one of the promoter with 12.% stake had in September 2019 signed a non-binding agreement to invest $2.5 billion in the US energy upstart Tellurian's LNG project in Louisiana in return for gas supplies for 40 years.

That pact lapsed at the end 2020 without a firm deal being signed. Petronet was to buy up to 5 million tonnes per annum of LNG from Tellurian Inc's proposed Driftwood LNG terminal for 40 years. The deal was concurrent with Petronet making an equity investment of $2.5 billion for an 18% stake in Driftwood.

Looking at quality service at state, district levels: Trai

JATIN GROVER New Delhi, February 17

THE TELECOM REGULA-TORY Authority of India (Trai) has decided to review its standards on the quality of services issue and asked telecom operators to even report network outages in states and districts.

"Our endeavour will be to provide the best quality of service to the consumers. No telecom operator would like their consumers to have poor experience and wherever they fail, it will be the responsibility of Trai to intervene and take necessary action against them," Trai chairman PD Vaghela told FE in an interview.

"That is why, we have decided to take a granular approach and look at the quality of services at state levels and district levels," Vaghela added.

Going by the present parameters to check quality of services, Trai follows an averaging pattern from a licensed service area (LSA) point of view, which in a way does not present a clear picture about outages and issues in small states and other areas.In a closed door meeting with telecom operators on Friday, Trai has asked telecom operators to take urgent steps for improving quality of services and experience of consumers.

The discussions happened on tackling call drops, muted calls, and improve the quality of services."In the first phase, services and growing use-sages and bar unauthorised we have decided that we will cases, Trai has also asked telcos telemarketers.

We have decided to take a granular approach and look at the quality of services at state levels and district levels.

start looking at the quality of service at the state level and after assessing that, we will then go to district levels. Presently, may be in far-flung areas and hilly areas we may go for the district kind of monitoring also," Vaghela said.

Telecom companies will have to generate performance reports related to service quality on a three-month averaging presently. Considering the scale and size of network being set up for rollout of 5G

In the meeting, the tele-

com service providers also raised concerns of poor quality of handsets affecting the service quality. Further, they admitted that there were service quality issues with the launch of 5G services owing to lower number of base transceiver stations (BTSs)."They did mention that 5G created some problem in the quality of services but our concern was that they should have declared it to the consumers. However, they have said most of issues have been resolved as more cells and BTS have come up," Vaghela said." If needed, the telecom regulator will also bring out separate consultations on improvement of service quality with further regulations.In order to tackle the menace of pesky communication, especially those coming from a 10-digit phone number, Trai chairman said telecom operators such as Vodafone Idea are working on some technology to detect that using machine learning and artificial intelligence, and we will be able to see implementation across operators within the next two-three months.

PRESS TRUST OF INDIA New Delhi, February 17

THE DELHI HIGH Court on Friday asked the Centre and the AAP government to make an endeavour to speedily resolve the impasse over unpaid arbitral award by DMRC to Reliance Infrastructureowned Delhi Metro Express (DAMEPL), saying there is a need to protect the Delhi Metro which constitutes the lifeline for the residents of the national capital.

The high court issued notices to the Union Ministry of Housing and Urban Affairs and Delhi government to apprise it of how the unpaid arbitral award will be paid.

The Central and Delhi government are the two essential stakeholders in the Delhi Metro Rail Corporation (DMRC), which informed the high court that despite making requisite efforts, the two stakeholders have been unable to arrive at a consensus on the ways and means by which the amount payable under the award may be liquidated.

Justice Yashwant Varma impleaded the two governments as parties in the execution proceedings filed by DAMEPL seeking recovery of the unpaid portion of the arbitration award. The first and second installments were to be paid on or before April 30, 2022 and May 31, 2022, respectively.

No takers for SEZ office space; vacancy at 16%

GEETA NAIR

Pune, February 17

LARGE CHUNKS OF spaces in IT and ITeS Special Economic Zones (SEZ) in the country are lying vacant with companies no longer interested in housing their companies in SEZs.

Atul Chordia, chairman, Panchshil Realty, which operates large SEZs in Pune, said SEZ developers are struggling as the SEZ policy was not extended and also, there have been no steps to release space under the SEZs.

"There is no direct tax incentive while the cost of compliance for companies operating in the SEZ was high so companies were bypassing SEZ office space," Chordia said. Developers and units in the SEZ have appealed for releasing parts of the SEZ but this has not been allowed, so a huge part of the real estate is locked this was a national waste and even a partial de-notification would help, he added.

The situation is similar in other cities. Sundari Patibandla, co-founder and CEO, iSprout, a Hyderabad-headquartered managed office of which around 30 million sq ft is vacant spaces company, said around 1 million square feet could be lying vacant in Hyderabad. The situation is similar in Chennai

some parts, it would be a relief as some of the best infrastructure created by the real estate sector was lying vacant. In some SEZs, vacancies could be up to 80% and developers are finding it difficult to hold it for such a long time," she said.

According to the real estate consultancy and investment management firm JLL, the total SEZ stock across seven top cities in the country was at 188 millionsqft,andaround16%ofthe space was currently vacant. So, around 30 million sqft of space could be vacant at present.

SHORING UP SUPPLY SOURCES

GAIL looks to buy 26% stake in US LNG project

PRESS TRUST OF INDIA New Delhi, February 17

INDIA'S BIGGEST GAS firm GAIL is looking to buy up to 26% stake in a LNG project in the US in an attempt to shore up supply sources to meet rising demand. GAIL (India) had run into supply disruptions last year after Russia-owned Gazprom Marketing and Trading (GMTS) failed to deliver contracted LNG due to western sanctions on Moscow over its invasion of Ukraine.

The company has issued a tender seeking expression of interest (EoI) from operators of existing liquefied natural gas (LNG) liquefaction plants or proposed projects in the US that will be commissioned by the tender document.

GAIL is open to extending the supply contract by another five to 10 years. The deadline to submit EoI is March 10. GAIL already has contracts to buy 5.8 million tonnes a year of LNG from the US and is looking for more supplies to make up for the Russian shortfall as well as rising demand of a growing economy.

Prior to this, Petronet LNG a firm in which GAIL is one of the promoter with 12.% stake had in September 2019 signed a non-binding agreement to invest $2.5 billion in the US energy upstart Tellurian's LNG project in Louisiana in return for gas supplies for 40 years.

That pact lapsed at the end 2020 without a firm deal being signed. Petronet was to buy up to 5 million tonnes per annum of LNG from Tellurian Inc's proposed Driftwood LNG terminal for 40 years. The deal was concurrent with Petronet making an equity investment of $2.5 billion for an 18% stake in Driftwood.

Looking at quality service at state, district levels: Trai

JATIN GROVER New Delhi, February 17

THE TELECOM REGULA-TORY Authority of India (Trai) has decided to review its standards on the quality of services issue and asked telecom operators to even report network outages in states and districts.

"Our endeavour will be to provide the best quality of service to the consumers. No telecom operator would like their consumers to have poor experience and wherever they fail, it will be the responsibility of Trai to intervene and take necessary action against them," Trai chairman PD Vaghela told FE in an interview.

"That is why, we have decided to take a granular approach and look at the quality of services at state levels and district levels," Vaghela added.

Going by the present parameters to check quality of services, Traifollows an averaging pattern from a licensed service area (LSA) point of view, which in a way does not present a clear picture about outages and issues in small states and other areas.In a closed door meeting with telecom operators on Friday, Trai has asked telecom operators to take urgent steps for improving quality of services and experience of consumers.

The discussions happened on tackling call drops, muted calls, and improve the quality of services."In the first phase, we have decided that we will

approach and look at the quality of services at state levels and district levels. PD VAGHELA

start looking at the quality of service at the state level and after assessing that, we will then go to district levels. Presently, may be in far-flung areas and hilly areas we may go for the district kind of monitoring also," Vaghela said.

Telecom companies will have to generate performance reports related to service quality on a three-month averaging presently. Considering the scale and size of network being set up for rollout of 5G services and growing usecases, Trai has also asked telcos

to install internal service quality monitoring systems on a regular basis using artificial intelligence and machine learning.

In the meeting, the telecom service providers also raised concerns of poor quality of handsets affecting the service quality. Further, they admitted that there were service quality issues with the launch of 5G services owing to lower number of base transceiver stations (BTSs)."They did mention that 5G created some problem in the quality of services but our concern was that they should have declared it to the consumers. However, they have said most of issues have been resolved as more cells and BTS have come up," Vaghela said." If needed, the telecom regulator will also bring out separate consultations on improvement of service quality with further regulations.In order to tackle the menace of pesky communication, especially those coming from a 10-digit phone number, Trai chairman said telecom operators such as Vodafone Idea are working on some technology to detect that using machine learning and artificial intelligence, and we will be able to see implementation across operators within the next two-three months. On Thursday, Trai asked the

telecom operators to reverify registered SMS templates used by companies for messages and bar unauthorised telemarketers.

PRESS TRUST OF INDIA New Delhi, February 17

THE DELHI HIGH Court on Fri day asked the Centre and the AAP government to make an endeavour to speedily resolve the impasse over unpaid arbitral award by DMRC to Reliance Infrastructure owned Delhi Metro Express (DAMEPL), saying there is a need to protect the Delhi Metro which constitutes the lifeline for the residents of the national capital.

The high court issued notices to the Union Ministry of Housing and Urban Affairs and Delhi government to apprise it of how the unpaid arbitral award will be paid.

The Central and Delhi government are the two essential stakeholders in the Delhi Metro Rail Corporation (DMRC), which informed the high court that despite making requisite efforts, the two stakeholders have been unable to arrive at a consensus on the ways and means by which the amount payable under the award may be liquidated.

Justice Yashwant Varma impleaded the two governments as parties in the execution proceedings filed by DAMEPL seeking recovery of the unpaid portion of the arbitration award. The first and sec ond installments were to be paid on or before April 30, 2022 and May 31, 2022, respectively.

No takers for SEZ office space; vacancy at 16%

GEETA NAIR

Pune, February 17

LARGE CHUNKS OF spaces in IT and ITeS Special Economic Zones (SEZ) in the country are lying vacant with companies no longer interested in housing their companies in SEZs.

Atul Chordia, chairman, Panchshil Realty, which operates large SEZs in Pune, said SEZ developers are struggling as the SEZ policywas not extended and also, there have been no steps to release space under the SEZs.

"There is no direct tax incentive while the cost of compliance for companies operating in the SEZ was high so companies were bypassing SEZ office space," Chordia said. Developers and units in the SEZ have appealed for releasing parts of the SEZ but this has not been allowed, so a huge part of the real estate is locked this was a national waste and even a partial de-notification would help, he added.

The situation is similar in other cities. Sundari Patibandla, co-founder and CEO, iSprout, a Hyderabad-headquartered managed office

situation is similar in Chennai and Bengaluru. "If they are allowed to release

some parts, it would be a relief as some of the best infrastructure created by the real estate sector was lying vacant. In some SEZs, vacancies could be up to 80% and developers are finding it difficult to hold it for such a long time," she said.

According to the real estate consultancy and investment management firm JLL, the total SEZ stock across seven top cities in the country was at 188 mil lion sqft, and around 16% of the space was currently vacant. So, around 30 million sq ft of space could be vacant at present.

GAIL is open to extending the supply contract by another five to 10 years. The deadline to submit EoI is March 10. GAIL already has contracts to buy 5.8 million tonnes a year of LNG from the US and is looking for more supplies to make up for the Russian shortfall as well as rising demand of a growing economy.

Prior to this, Petronet LNG a firm in which GAIL is one of the promoter with 12.% stake had in September 2019 signed a non-binding agreement to invest $2.5 billion in the US energy upstart Tellurian's LNG project in Louisiana in return for gas supplies for 40 years.

That pact lapsed at the end 2020 without a firm deal being signed. Petronet was to buy up to 5 million tonnes per annum of LNG from Tellurian Inc's proposed Driftwood LNG terminal for 40 years. The deal was concurrent with Petronet making an equity investment of $2.5 billion for an 18% stake in Driftwood.

Looking at quality service at state, district levels: Trai

JATIN GROVER New Delhi, February 17

THE TELECOM REGULA-TORY Authority of India (Trai) has decided to review its standards on the quality of services issue and asked telecom operators to even report network outages in states and districts.

"Our endeavour will be to provide the best quality of service to the consumers. No telecom operator would like their consumers to have poor experience and wherever they fail, it will be the responsibility of Trai to intervene and take necessary action against them," Trai chairman PD Vaghela told FE in an interview. "That is why, we have decided to take a granular approach and look at the quality of services at state levels and district levels," Vaghela added.

Going by the present parameters to check quality of services, Trai follows an averaging pattern from a licensed service area (LSA) point of view, which in a way does not present a clear picture about outages and issues in small states and other areas.In a closed door meeting with telecom operators on Friday, Trai has asked telecom operators to take urgent steps for improving quality of services and experience of consumers.

The discussions happened on tackling call drops, muted calls, and improve the quality of services."In the first phase, we have decided that we will

to take a granular approach and look at the quality of services at state levels and district levels. PD VAGHELA

start looking at the quality of service at the state level and after assessing that, we will then go to district levels. Presently, may be in far-flung areas and hilly areas we may go for the district kind of monitoring also," Vaghela said.

Telecom companies will have to generate performance reports related to service quality on a three-month averaging presently. Considering the scale and size of network being set up for rollout of 5G services and growing usecases, Trai has also asked telcos

to install internal service quality monitoring systems on a regular basis using artificial intelligence and machine learning.

In the meeting, the telecom service providers also raised concerns of poor quality of handsets affecting the service quality. Further, they admitted that there were service quality issues with the launch of 5G services owing to lower number of base transceiver stations (BTSs)."They did mention that 5G created some problem in the quality of services but our concern was that they should have declared it to the consumers. However, they have said most of issues have been resolved as more cells and BTS have come up," Vaghela said." If needed, the telecom regulator will also bring out separate consultations on improvement of service quality with further regulations.In order to tackle the menace of pesky communication, especially those coming from a 10-digit phone number, Trai chairman said telecom operators such as Vodafone Idea are working on some technology to detect that using machine learning and artificial intelligence, and we will be able to see implementation across operators within the next two-three months. On Thursday, Trai asked the

telecom operators to reverify registered SMS templates used by companies for messages and bar unauthorised telemarketers.

PRESS TRUST OF INDIA New Delhi, February 17

THE DELHI HIGH Court on Fri day asked the Centre and the AAP government to make an endeavour to speedily resolve the impasse over unpaid arbitral award by DMRC to Reliance Infrastructureowned Delhi Metro Express (DAMEPL), saying there is a need to protect the Delhi Metro which constitutes the lifeline for the residents of the national capital.

The high court issued notices to the Union Ministry of Housing and Urban Affairs and Delhi government to apprise it of how the unpaid arbitral award will be paid.

The Central and Delhi government are the two essential stakeholders in the Delhi Metro Rail Corporation (DMRC), which informed the high court that despite making requisite efforts, the two stakeholders have been unable to arrive at a consensus on the ways and means by which the amount payable under the award may be liquidated.

Justice Yashwant Varma impleaded the two governments as parties in the execution proceedings filed by DAMEPL seeking recovery of the unpaid portion of the arbitration award. The first and second installments were to be paid on or before April 30, 2022 and May 31, 2022, respectively.

No takers for SEZ office space; vacancy at 16% According to JLL,

GEETA NAIR Pune, February 17

LARGE CHUNKS OF spaces in IT and ITeS Special Economic Zones (SEZ) in the country are lying vacant with companies no longer interested in housing their companies in SEZs.

Atul Chordia, chairman, Panchshil Realty, which operates large SEZs in Pune, said SEZ developers are struggling as the SEZ policywas not extended and also, there have been no steps to release space under the SEZs.

"There is no direct tax incentive while the cost of compliance for companies operating in the SEZ was high so companies were bypassing SEZ office space," Chordia said. Developers and units in the SEZ have appealed for releasing parts of the SEZ but this has not been allowed, so a huge part of the real estate is locked this was a national waste and even a partial de-notification would help, he added.

The situation is similar in other cities. Sundari Patibandla, co-founder and CEO, iSprout, a Hyderabad-headquartered managed office

the total SEZ stock across seven top cities in the country was at 188 million sq ft, of which around 30 million sq ft is vacant

Prior to this, Petronet LNG a firm in which GAIL is one of the promoter with 12.% stake had in September 2019 signed a non-binding agreement to invest $2.5 billion in the US energy upstart Tellurian's LNG project in Louisiana in return for gas supplies for 40 years.

That pact lapsed at the end 2020 without a firm deal being signed. Petronet was to buy up to 5 million tonnes per annum of LNG from Tellurian Inc's proposed Driftwood LNG terminal for 40 years. The deal was concurrent with Petronet making an equity investment of $2.5 billion for an 18% stake in Driftwood.

Looking at quality service at state, district levels: Trai

JATIN GROVER New Delhi, February 17

THE TELECOM REGULA-TORY Authority of India (Trai) has decided to review its standards on the quality of services issue and asked telecom operators to even report network outages in states and districts.

"Our endeavour will be to provide the best quality of service to the consumers. No telecom operator would like their consumers to have poor experience and wherever they fail, it will be the responsibility of Trai to intervene and take necessary action against them," Trai chairman PD Vaghela told FE in an interview.

"That is why, we have decided to take a granular approach and look at the quality of services at state levels and district levels," Vaghela added.

Going by the present parameters to check quality of services, Trai follows an averaging pattern from a licensed service area (LSA) point of view, which in a way does not present a clear picture about outages and issues in small states and other areas.In a closed door meeting with telecom operators on Friday, Trai has asked telecom operators to take urgent steps for improving quality of services and experience of consumers.

The discussions happened on tackling call drops, muted calls, and improve the quality of services."In the first phase, we have decided that we will

approach and look at the quality of services at state levels and district levels. PD VAGHELA

start looking at the quality of service at the state level and after assessing that, we will then go to district levels. Presently, may be in far-flung areas and hilly areas we may go for the district kind of monitoring also," Vaghela said. Telecom companies will have to generate performance reports related to service quality on a three-month averaging presently. Considering the scale and size of network being set up for rollout of 5G services and growing usecases, Trai has also asked telcos

to install internal service quality monitoring systems on a regular basis using artificial intelligence and machine learning.

In the meeting, the telecom service providers also raised concerns of poor quality of handsets affecting the service quality. Further, they admitted that there were service quality issues with the launch of 5G services owing to lower number of base transceiver stations (BTSs)."They did mention that 5G created some problem in the quality of services but our concern was that they should have declared it to the consumers. However, they have said most of issues have been resolved as more cells and BTS have come up," Vaghela said." If needed, the telecom regulator will also bring out separate consultations on improvement of service quality with further regulations.In order to tackle the menace of pesky communication, especially those coming from a 10-digit phone number, Trai chairman said telecom operators such as Vodafone Idea are working on some technology to detect that using machine learning and artificial intelligence, and we will be able to see implementation across operators within the next two-three months. On Thursday, Trai asked the

telecom operators to reverify registered SMS templates used by companies for messages and bar unauthorised telemarketers.

PRESS TRUST OF INDIA New Delhi, February 17

THE DELHI HIGH Court on Fri day asked the Centre and the AAP government to make an endeavour to speedily resolve the impasse over unpaid arbitral award by DMRC to Reliance Infrastructure owned Delhi Metro Express (DAMEPL), saying there is a need to protect the Delhi Metro which constitutes the lifeline for the residents of the national capital.

The high court issued notices to the Union Ministry of Housing and Urban Affairs and Delhi government to apprise it of how the unpaid arbitral award will be paid.

The Central and Delhi government are the two essential stakeholders in the Delhi Metro Rail Corporation (DMRC), which informed the high court that despite making requisite efforts, the two stakeholders have been unable to arrive at a consensus on the ways and means by which the amount payable under the award may be liquidated.

Justice Yashwant Varma impleaded the two governments as parties in the execution proceedings filed by DAMEPL seeking recovery of the unpaid portion of the arbitration award. The first and sec ond installments were to be paid on or before April 30, 2022 and May 31, 2022, respectively.

Looking at quality service at state, district levels: Trai

JATIN GROVER New Delhi, February 17

THE TELECOM REGULA-TORY Authority of India (Trai) has decided to review its standards on the quality of services issue and asked telecom operators to even report network outages in states and districts.

"Our endeavour will be to provide the best quality of service to the consumers. No telecom operator would like their consumers to have poor experience and wherever they fail, it will be the responsibility of Trai to intervene and take necessary action against them," Trai chairman PD Vaghela told FE in an interview.

"That is why, we have decided to take a granular approach and look at the quality of services at state levels and district levels," Vaghela added.

Going by the present parameters to check quality of services, Traifollows an averaging pattern from a licensed service area (LSA) point of view, which in a way does not present a clear picture about outages and issues in small states and other areas.In a closed door meeting with telecom operators on Friday, Trai has asked telecom operators to take urgent steps for improving quality of services and experience of consumers.

The discussions happened on tackling call drops, muted calls, and improve the quality of services."In the first phase, we have decided that we will start looking at the quality of service at the state level and after assessing that, we will then go to district levels. Presently, may be in far-flung areas and hilly areas we may go for the district kind of monitoring also," Vaghela said. Telecom companies will have to generate performance reports related to service quality on a three-month averaging presently. Considering the scale and size of network being set up for rollout of 5G services and growing usecases, Trai has also asked telcos

to install internal service quality monitoring systems on a regular basis using artificial intelligence and machine learning.

In the meeting, the telecom service providers also raised concerns of poor quality of handsets affecting the service quality. Further, they admitted that there were service quality issues with the launch of 5G services owing to lower number of base transceiver stations (BTSs)."They did mention that 5G created some problem in the quality of services but our concern was that they should have declared it to the consumers. However, they have said most of issues have been resolved as more cells and BTS have come up," Vaghela said." If needed, the telecom regulator will also bring out separate consultations on improvement of service quality with further regulations.In order to tackle the menace of pesky communication, especially those coming from a 10-digit phone number, Trai chairman said telecom operators such as Vodafone Idea are working on some technology to detect that using machine learning and artificial intelligence, and we will be able to see implementation across operators within the next two-three months.

On Thursday, Trai asked the telecom operators to reverify registered SMS templates used by companies for messages and bar unauthorised telemarketers.

PRESS TRUST OF INDIA New Delhi, February 17

THE DELHI HIGH Court on Friday asked the Centre and the AAP government to make an endeavour to speedily resolve the impasse over unpaid arbitral award by DMRC to Reliance Infrastructureowned Delhi Metro Express (DAMEPL), saying there is a need to protect the Delhi Metro which constitutes the lifeline for the residents of the national capital.

The high court issued notices to the Union Ministry of Housing and Urban Affairs and Delhi government to apprise it of how the unpaid arbitral award will be paid.

The Central and Delhi government are the two essential stakeholders in the Delhi Metro Rail Corporation (DMRC), which informed the high court that despite making requisite efforts, the two stakeholders have been unable to arrive at a consensus on the ways and means by which the amount payable under the award may be liquidated.

Justice Yashwant Varma impleaded the two governments as parties in the execution proceedings filed by DAMEPL seeking recovery of the unpaid portion of the arbitration award. The first and second installments were to be paid on or before April 30, 2022 and May 31, 2022, respectively.

GEETA NAIR Pune, February 17

LARGE CHUNKS OF spaces in IT and ITeS Special Economic Zones (SEZ) in the country are lving vacant with companies no longer interested in housing their companies in SEZs.

Atul Chordia, chairman, Panchshil Realty, which operates large SEZs in Pune, said SEZ developers are struggling as the SEZ policywas not extended and also, there have been no steps to release space under the SEZs.

"There is no direct tax incen-

Developers and units in the SEZ have appealed for releasing parts of the SEZ but this has not been allowed, so a huge part of the real estate is locked this was a national waste and even a partial de-notification would help, he added.

The situation is similar in other cities. Sundari Patibandla, co-founder and CEO, iSprout, a Hyderabad-headquartered managed office

Prior to this, Petronet LNG a firm in which GAIL is one of the promoter with 12.% stake had in September 2019 signed a non-binding agreement to invest $2.5 billion in the US energy upstart Tellurian's LNG project in Louisiana in return for gas supplies for 40 years.

That pact lapsed at the end 2020 without a firm deal being signed. Petronet was to buy up to 5 million tonnes per annum of LNG from Tellurian Inc's proposed Driftwood LNG terminal for 40 years. The deal was concurrent with Petronet making an equity investment of $2.5 billion for an 18% stake in Driftwood.

Looking at quality service at state, district levels: Trai

JATIN GROVER New Delhi, February 17

THE TELECOM REGULA-TORY Authority of India (Trai) has decided to review its standards on the quality of services issue and asked telecom operators to even report network outages in states and districts.

"Our endeavour will be to provide the best quality of service to the consumers. No telecom operator would like their consumers to have poor experience and wherever they fail, it will be the responsibility of Trai to intervene and take necessary action against them," Trai chairman PD Vaghela told FE in an interview.

"That is why, we have decided to take a granular approach and look at the quality of services at state levels and district levels," Vaghela added.

Going by the present parameters to check quality of services, Trai follows an averaging pattern from a licensed service area (LSA) point of view, which in a way does not present a clear picture about outages and issues in small states and other areas.In a closed door meeting with telecom operators on Friday, Trai has asked telecom operators to take urgent steps for improving quality of services and experience of consumers.

The discussions happened on tackling call drops, muted calls, and improve the quality of services."In the first phase, we have decided that we will

to take a granular approach and look at the quality of services at state levels and district levels. PD VAGHELA

start looking at the quality of service at the state level and after assessing that, we will then go to district levels. Presently, may be in far-flung areas and hilly areas we may go for the district kind of monitoring also," Vaghela said. Telecom companies will have to generate performance reports related to service quality on a three-month averaging presently. Considering the scale and size of network being set up for rollout of 5G services and growing usecases, Trai has also asked telcos

to install internal service quality monitoring systems on a regular basis using artificial intelligence and machine learning. In the meeting, the tele-

com service providers also raised concerns of poor quality of handsets affecting the service quality. Further, they admitted that there were service quality issues with the launch of 5G services owing to lower number of base transceiver stations (BTSs)."They did mention that 5G created some problem in the quality of services but our concern was that they should have declared it to the consumers. However, they have said most of issues have been resolved as more cells and BTS have come up," Vaghela said." If needed, the telecom regulator will also bring out separate consultations on improvement of service quality with further regulations.In order to tackle the menace of pesky communication, especially those coming from a 10-digit phone number, Trai chairman said telecom operators such as Vodafone Idea are working on some technology to detect that using machine learning and artificial intelligence, and we will be able to see implementation across operators within the next two-three months. On Thursday, Trai asked the

telecom operators to reverify registered SMS templates used by companies for messages and bar unauthorised telemarketers.

PRESS TRUST OF INDIA New Delhi, February 17

THE DELHI HIGH Court on Fri day asked the Centre and the AAP government to make an endeavour to speedily resolve the impasse over unpaid arbitral award by DMRC to Reliance Infrastructure owned Delhi Metro Express (DAMEPL), saying there is a need to protect the Delhi Metro which constitutes the lifeline for the residents of the national capital.

The high court issued notices to the Union Ministry of Housing and Urban Affairs and Delhi government to apprise it of how the unpaid arbitral award will be paid.

The Central and Delhi government are the two essential stakeholders in the Delhi Metro Rail Corporation (DMRC), which informed the high court that despite making requisite efforts, the two stakeholders have been unable to arrive at a consensus on the ways and means by which the amount payable under the award may be liquidated.

Justice Yashwant Varma impleaded the two governments as parties in the execution proceedings filed by DAMEPL seeking recovery of the unpaid portion of the arbitration award. The first and sec ond installments were to be paid on or before April 30, 2022 and May 31, 2022, respectively.

GEETA NAIR

Pune, February 17

LARGE CHUNKS OF spaces in IT and ITeS Special Economic Zones (SEZ) in the country are lying vacant with companies no longer interested in housing their companies in SEZs.

Atul Chordia, chairman, Panchshil Realty, which operates large SEZs in Pune, said SEZ developers are struggling as the SEZ policywas not extended and also, there have been no steps to release space under the SEZs.

"There is no direct tax incentive while the cost of compliance for companies operating in the SEZ was high so companies were bypassing SEZ office space," Chordia said. Developers and units in the SEZ have appealed for releasing parts of the SEZ but this has not been allowed, so a huge part of the real estate is locked this was a national waste and even a partial de-notification would help, he added.

The situation is similar in other cities. Sundari Patibandla, co-founder and CEO, iSprout, a Hyderabad-headquartered managed office

some parts, it would be a relief as some of the best infrastructure created by the real estate sector was lying vacant. In some SEZs, vacancies could be up to 80% and developers are finding it difficult to hold it for such a long time," she said.

According to the real estate consultancy and investment management firm JLL, the total SEZ stock across seven top cities in the country was at 188 mil lion sqft, and around 16% of the space was currently vacant. So, around 30 million sq ft of space could be vacant at present.

Looking at quality service at state, district levels: Trai

JATIN GROVER New Delhi, February 17

THE TELECOM REGULA-TORY Authority of India (Trai) has decided to review its standards on the quality of services issue and asked telecom operators to even report network outages in states and districts.

"Our endeavour will be to provide the best quality of service to the consumers. No telecom operator would like their consumers to have poor experience and wherever they fail, it will be the responsibility of Trai to intervene and take necessary action against them," Trai chairman PD Vaghela told FE in an interview.

"That is why, we have decided to take a granular approach and look at the quality of services at state levels and district levels," Vaghela added.

Going by the present parameters to check quality of services, Traifollows an averaging pattern from a licensed service area (LSA) point of view, which in a way does not present a clear picture about outages and issues in small states and other areas.In a closed door meeting with telecom operators on Friday, Trai has asked telecom operators to take urgent steps for improving quality of services and experience of consumers.

The discussions happened on tackling call drops, muted calls, and improve the quality of services."In the first phase, we have decided that we will

approach and look at the quality of services at state levels and district levels. PD VAGHELA

start looking at the quality of service at the state level and after assessing that, we will then go to district levels. Presently, may be in far-flung areas and hilly areas we may go for the district kind of monitoring also," Vaghela said. Telecom companies will have to generate performance reports related to service quality on a three-month averaging presently. Considering the scale and size of network being set up for rollout of 5G services and growing usecases, Trai has also asked telcos

to install internal service quality monitoring systems on a regular basis using artificial intelligence and machine learning.

In the meeting, the telecom service providers also raised concerns of poor quality of handsets affecting the service quality. Further, they admitted that there were service quality issues with the launch of 5G services owing to lower number of base transceiver stations (BTSs)."They did mention that 5G created some problem in the quality of services but our concern was that they should have declared it to the consumers. However, they have said most of issues have been resolved as more cells and BTS have come up," Vaghela said." If needed, the telecom regulator will also bring out separate consultations on improvement of service quality with further regulations.In order to tackle the menace of pesky communication, especially those coming from a 10-digit phone number, Trai chairman said telecom operators such as Vodafone Idea are working on some technology to detect that using machine learning and artificial intelligence, and we will be able to see implementation across operators within the next two-three months. On Thursday, Trai asked the

telecom operators to reverify registered SMS templates used by companies for messages and bar unauthorised telemarketers.

PRESS TRUST OF INDIA New Delhi, February 17

THE DELHI HIGH Court on Fri day asked the Centre and the AAP government to make an endeavour to speedily resolve the impasse over unpaid arbitral award by DMRC to Reliance Infrastructure owned Delhi Metro Express (DAMEPL), saying there is a need to protect the Delhi Metro which constitutes the lifeline for the residents of the national capital.

The high court issued notices to the Union Ministry of Housing and Urban Affairs and Delhi government to apprise it of how the unpaid arbitral award will be paid.

The Central and Delhi government are the two essential stakeholders in the Delhi Metro Rail Corporation (DMRC), which informed the high court that despite making requisite efforts, the two stakeholders have been unable to arrive at a consensus on the ways and means by which the amount payable under the award may be liquidated.

Justice Yashwant Varma impleaded the two governments as parties in the execution proceedings filed by DAMEPL seeking recovery of the unpaid portion of the arbitration award. The first and sec ond installments were to be paid on or before April 30, 2022 and May 31, 2022, respectively.

Looking at quality service at state, district levels: Trai

JATIN GROVER New Delhi, February 17

THE TELECOM REGULA-TORY Authority of India (Trai) has decided to review its standards on the quality of services issue and asked telecom operators to even report network outages in states and districts.

"Our endeavour will be to provide the best quality of service to the consumers. No telecom operator would like their consumers to have poor experience and wherever they fail, it will be the responsibility of Trai to intervene and take necessary action against them," Trai chairman PD Vaghela told FE in an interview.

"That is why, we have decided to take a granular approach and look at the quality of services at state levels and district levels," Vaghela added.

Going by the present parameters to check quality of services, Trai follows an averaging pattern from a licensed service area (LSA) point of view, which in a way does not present a clear picture about outages and issues in small states and other areas.In a closed door meeting with telecom operators on Friday, Trai has asked telecom operators to take urgent steps for improving quality of services and experience of consumers.

The discussions happened on tackling call drops, muted calls, and improve the quality of services."In the first phase, we have decided that we will

to take a granular approach and look at the quality of services at state levels and district levels. PD VAGHELA

start looking at the quality of service at the state level and after assessing that, we will then go to district levels. Presently, may be in far-flung areas and hilly areas we may go for the district kind of monitoring also," Vaghela said.

Telecom companies will have to generate performance reports related to service quality on a three-month averaging presently. Considering the scale and size of network being set up for rollout of 5G services and growing usecases, Trai has also asked telcos

to install internal service quality monitoring systems on a regular basis using artificial intelligence and machine learning.

In the meeting, the telecom service providers also raised concerns of poor quality of handsets affecting the service quality. Further, they admitted that there were service quality issues with the launch of 5G services owing to lower number of base transceiver stations (BTSs)."They did mention that 5G created some problem in the quality of services but our concern was that they should have declared it to the consumers. However, they have said most of issues have been resolved as more cells and BTS have come up," Vaghela said." If needed, the telecom regulator will also bring out separate consultations on improvement of service quality with further regulations.In order to tackle the menace of pesky communication, especially those coming from a 10-digit phone number, Trai chairman said telecom operators such as Vodafone Idea are working on some technology to detect that using machine learning and artificial intelligence, and we will be able to see implementation across operators within the next two-three months. On Thursday, Trai asked the

telecom operators to reverify registered SMS templates used by companies for messages and bar unauthorised telemarketers.

PRESS TRUST OF INDIA New Delhi, February 17

THE DELHI HIGH Court on Fri day asked the Centre and the AAP government to make an endeavour to speedily resolve the impasse over unpaid arbitral award by DMRC to Reliance Infrastructureowned Delhi Metro Express (DAMEPL), saying there is a need to protect the Delhi Metro which constitutes the lifeline for the residents of the national capital.

The high court issued notices to the Union Ministry of Housing and Urban Affairs and Delhi government to apprise it of how the unpaid arbitral award will be paid.

The Central and Delhi government are the two essential stakeholders in the Delhi Metro Rail Corporation (DMRC), which informed the high court that despite making requisite efforts, the two stakeholders have been unable to arrive at a consensus on the ways and means by which the amount payable under the award may be liquidated.

Justice Yashwant Varma impleaded the two governments as parties in the execution proceedings filed by DAMEPL seeking recovery of the unpaid portion of the arbitration award. The first and second installments were to be paid on or before April 30, 2022 and May 31, 2022, respectively.

No takers for SEZ office space; vacancy at 16% According to JLL,

GEETA NAIR Pune, February 17

LARGE CHUNKS OF spaces in IT and ITeS Special Economic Zones (SEZ) in the country are lying vacant with companies no longer interested in housing their companies in SEZs.

Atul Chordia, chairman, Panchshil Realty, which operates large SEZs in Pune, said SEZ developers are struggling as the SEZ policywas not extended and also, there have been no steps to release space under the SEZs.

"There is no direct tax incentive while the cost of compliance for companies operating in the SEZ was high so companies were bypassing SEZ office space," Chordia said. Developers and units in the SEZ have appealed for releasing parts of the SEZ but this has not been allowed, so a huge part of the real estate is locked this was a national waste and even a partial de-notification would help, he added.

The situation is similar in other cities. Sundari Patibandla, co-founder and CEO, iSprout, a Hyderabad-headquartered managed office

the total SEZ stock across seven top cities in the country was at 188 million sq ft, of which around 30 million sq ft is vacant

situation is similar in Chennai and Bengaluru. "If they are allowed to release

spaces company, said around 1 million square feet could be lying vacant in Hyderabad. The

some parts, it would be a relief as some of the best infrastructure created by the real estate sector was lying vacant. In some SEZs vacancies could be up to 80% and developers are finding it difficult to hold it for such a long time," she said.

According to the real estate consultancy and investment management firm JLL, the total SEZ stock across seven top cities in the country was at 188 million sqft, and around 16% of the space was currently vacant. So, around 30 million sqft of space could be vacant at present.

Looking at quality service at state, district levels: Trai

JATIN GROVER New Delhi, February 17

THE TELECOM REGULA-TORY Authority of India (Trai) has decided to review its standards on the quality of services issue and asked telecom operators to even report network outages in states and districts.

"Our endeavour will be to provide the best quality of service to the consumers. No telecom operator would like their consumers to have poor experience and wherever they fail, it will be the responsibility of Trai to intervene and take necessary action against them," Trai chairman PD Vaghela told FE in an interview. "That is why, we have decided to take a granular approach and look at the quality of services at state levels and district levels," Vaghela added.

Going by the present parameters to check quality of services, Trai follows an averaging pattern from a licensed service area (LSA) point of view, which in a way does not present a clear picture about outages and issues in small states and other areas.In a closed door meeting with telecom operators on Friday, Trai has asked telecom operators to take urgent steps for improving quality of services and experience of consumers.

The discussions happened on tackling call drops, muted calls, and improve the quality of services."In the first phase, we have decided that we will

to take a granular approach and look at the quality of services at state levels and district levels.

PD VAGHELA CHAIRMAN, TRAI

Telecom companies will

to install internal service quality monitoring systems on a regular basis using artificial intelligence and machine learning.

In the meeting, the telecom service providers also raised concerns of poor quality of handsets affecting the service quality. Further, they admitted that there were service quality issues with the launch of 5G services owing to lower number of base transceiver stations (BTSs)."They did mention that 5G created some problem in the quality of services but our concern was that they should have declared it to the consumers. However, they have said most of issues have been resolved as more cells and BTS have come up," Vaghela said." If needed, the telecom regulator will also bring out separate consultations on improvement of service quality with further regulations.In order to tackle the menace of pesky communication, especially those coming from a 10-digit phone number, Trai chairman said telecom operators such as Vodafone Idea are working on some technology to detect that using machine learning and artificial intelligence, and we will be able to see implementation across operators within the next two-three months. On Thursday, Trai asked the

telecom operators to reverify registered SMS templates used by companies for messages and bar unauthorised telemarketers.

PRESS TRUST OF INDIA New Delhi, February 17

THE DELHI HIGH Court on Fri day asked the Centre and the AAP government to make an endeavour to speedily resolve the impasse over unpaid arbitral award by DMRC to Reliance Infrastructureowned Delhi Metro Express (DAMEPL), saying there is a need to protect the Delhi Metro which constitutes the lifeline for the residents of the national capital.

The high court issued notices to the Union Ministry of Housing and Urban Affairs and Delhi government to apprise it of how the unpaid arbitral award will be paid.

The Central and Delhi government are the two essential stakeholders in the Delhi Metro Rail Corporation (DMRC), which informed the high court that despite making requisite efforts, the two stakeholders have been unable to arrive at a consensus on the ways and means by which the amount payable under the award may be liquidated.

Justice Yashwant Varma impleaded the two governments as parties in the execution proceedings filed by DAMEPL seeking recovery of the unpaid portion of the arbitration award. The first and second installments were to be paid on or before April 30, 2022 and May 31, 2022, respectively.

No takers for SEZ office space; vacancy at 16% According to JLL,

GEETA NAIR Pune, February 17

LARGE CHUNKS OF spaces in IT and ITeS Special Economic Zones (SEZ) in the country are lying vacant with companies no longer interested in housing their companies in SEZs.

Atul Chordia, chairman, Panchshil Realty, which operates large SEZs in Pune, said SEZ developers are struggling as the SEZ policywas not extended and also, there have been no steps to release space under the SEZs.

"There is no direct tax incentive while the cost of compliance for companies operating in the SEZ was high so companies were bypassing SEZ office space," Chordia said. Developers and units in the SEZ have appealed for releasing parts of the SEZ but this has not been allowed, so a huge part of the real estate is locked this was a national waste and even a partial de-notification would help, he added.

The situation is similar in other cities. Sundari Patibandla, co-founder and CEO, iSprout, a Hyderabad-headquartered managed office

Looking at quality service at state, district levels: Trai

JATIN GROVER New Delhi, February 17

THE TELECOM REGULA-TORY Authority of India (Trai) has decided to review its standards on the quality of services issue and asked telecom operators to even report network outages in states and districts.

"Our endeavour will be to provide the best quality of service to the consumers. No telecom operator would like their consumers to have poor experience and wherever they fail, it will be the responsibility of Trai to intervene and take necessary action against them," Trai chairman PD Vaghela told FE in an interview. "That is why, we have decided to take a granular approach and look at the quality of services at state levels and district levels," Vaghela added.

Going by the present parameters to check quality of services, Traifollows an averaging pattern from a licensed service area (LSA) point of view, which in a way does not present a clear picture about outages and issues in small states and other areas.In a closed door meeting with telecom operators on Friday, Trai has asked telecom operators to take urgent steps for improving quality of services and experience of consumers.

start looking at the quality of service at the state level and after assessing that, we will then go to district levels. Presently, may be in far-flung areas and hilly areas we may go for the district kind of monitoring also," Vaghela said. Telecom companies will have to generate performance reports related to service quality on a three-month averaging presently. Considering the scale and size of network being set up for rollout of 5G services and growing usecases, Trai has also asked telcos

to install internal service quality monitoring systems on a regular basis using artificial intelligence and machine learning. In the meeting, the tele-

com service providers also raised concerns of poor quality of handsets affecting the service quality. Further, they admitted that there were service quality issues with the launch of 5G services owing to lower number of base transceiver stations (BTSs)."They did mention that 5G created some problem in the quality of services but our concern was that they should have declared it to the consumers. However, they have said most of issues have been resolved as more cells and BTS have come up," Vaghela said." If needed, the telecom regulator will also bring out separate consultations on improvement of service quality with further regulations.In order to tackle the menace of pesky communication, especially those coming from a 10-digit phone number, Trai chairman said telecom operators such as Vodafone Idea are working on some technology to detect that using machine learning and artificial intelligence, and we will be able to see implementation across operators within the next two-three months.

On Thursday, Trai asked the telecom operators to reverify registered SMS templates used by companies for messages and bar unauthorised telemarketers.

PRESS TRUST OF INDIA New Delhi, February 17

THE DELHI HIGH Court on Friday asked the Centre and the AAP government to make an endeavour to speedily resolve the impasse over unpaid arbitral award by DMRC to Reliance Infrastructureowned Delhi Metro Express (DAMEPL), saying there is a need to protect the Delhi Metro which constitutes the lifeline for the residents of the national capital.

The high court issued notices to the Union Ministry of Housing and Urban Affairs and Delhi government to apprise it of how the unpaid arbitral award will be paid.

The Central and Delhi government are the two essential stakeholders in the Delhi Metro Rail Corporation (DMRC), which informed the high court that despite making requisite efforts, the two stakeholders have been unable to arrive at a consensus on the ways and means by which the amount payable under the award may be liquidated.

Justice Yashwant Varma impleaded the two governments as parties in the execution proceedings filed by DAMEPL seeking recovery of the unpaid portion of the arbitration award. The first and second installments were to be paid on or before April 30, 2022 and May 31, 2022, respectively.

GAIL is open to extending the supply contract by another five to 10 years. The deadline to submit EoI is March 10. GAIL already has contracts to buy 5.8 million tonnes a year of LNG from the US and is looking for more supplies to make up for the Russian shortfall as well as rising demand of a growing economy.

Prior to this, Petronet LNG a firm in which GAIL is one of the promoter with 12.% stake had in September 2019 signed a non-binding agreement to invest $2.5 billion in the US energy upstart Tellurian's LNG project in Louisiana in return for gas supplies for 40 years.

That pact lapsed at the end 2020 without a firm deal being signed. Petronet was to buy up to 5 million tonnes per annum of LNG from Tellurian Inc's proposed Driftwood LNG terminal for 40 years. The deal was concurrent with Petronet making an equity investment of $2.5 billion for an 18% stake in Driftwood.

Looking at quality service at state, district levels: Trai

JATIN GROVER New Delhi, February 17

THE TELECOM REGULA-TORY Authority of India (Trai) has decided to review its standards on the quality of services issue and asked telecom operators to even report network outages in states and districts.

"Our endeavour will be to provide the best quality of service to the consumers. No telecom operator would like their consumers to have poor experience and wherever they fail, it will be the responsibility of Trai to intervene and take necessary action against them," Trai chairman PD Vaghela told FE in an interview.

"That is why, we have decided to take a granular approach and look at the quality of services at state levels and district levels," Vaghela added.

Going by the present parameters to check quality of services, Trai follows an averaging pattern from a licensed service area (LSA) point of view, which in a way does not present a clear picture about outages and issues in small states and other areas.In a closed door meeting with telecom operators on Friday, Trai has asked telecom operators to take urgent steps for improving quality of services and experience of consumers.

The discussions happened on tackling call drops, muted calls, and improve the quality of services."In the first phase, we have decided that we will

start looking at the quality of service at the state level and after assessing that, we will then go to district levels. Presently, may be in far-flung areas and hilly areas we may go for the district kind of monitoring also," Vaghela said.

Telecom companies will have to generate performance reports related to service quality on a three-month averaging presently. Considering the scale and size of network services and growing usecases, Trai has also asked telcos

to install internal service quality monitoring systems on a regular basis using artificial intelligence and machine learning.

In the meeting, the telecom service providers also raised concerns of poor quality of handsets affecting the service quality. Further, they admitted that there were service quality issues with the launch of 5G services owing to lower number of base transceiver stations (BTSs)."They did mention that 5G created some problem in the quality of services but our concern was that they should have declared it to the consumers. However, they have said most of issues have been resolved as more cells and BTS have come up," Vaghela said." If needed, the telecom regulator will also bring out separate consultations on improvement of service quality with further regulations.In order to tackle the menace of pesky communication, especially those coming from a 10-digit phone number, Trai chairman said telecom operators such as Vodafone Idea are working on some technology to detect that using machine learning and artificial intelligence, and we will be able to see implementation across operators within

On Thursday, Trai asked the telecom operators to reverify registered SMS templates being set up for rollout of 5G used by companies for messages and bar unauthorised telemarketers.

Speedily resolve DAMEPL issue: HC

PRESS TRUST OF INDIA New Delhi, February 17

THE DELHI HIGH Court on Friday asked the Centre and the AAP government to make an endeavour to speedily resolve the impasse over unpaid arbitral award by DMRC to Reliance Infrastructureowned Delhi Metro Express (DAMEPL), saying there is a need to protect the Delhi Metro which constitutes the lifeline for the residents of the national capital.

The high court issued notices to the Union Ministry of Housing and Urban Affairs and Delhi government to apprise it of how the unpaid arbitral award will be paid.

The Central and Delhi government are the two essential stakeholders in the Delhi Metro Rail Corporation (DMRC), which informed the high court that despite making requisite efforts, the two stakeholders have been unable to arrive at a consensus on the ways and means by which the amount payable under the award may be liquidated.

Justice Yashwant Varma impleaded the two governments as parties in the execution proceedings filed by DAMEPL seeking recovery of the unpaid portion of the arbitration award. The first and second installments were to be paid on or before April 30, 2022 and May 31, 2022, respectively.

No takers for SEZ office space; vacancy at 16% According to JLL,

GEETA NAIR

Pune, February 17

LARGE CHUNKS OF spaces in IT and ITeS Special Economic Zones (SEZ) in the country are lying vacant with companies no longer interested in housing their companies in SEZs.

Atul Chordia, chairman, Panchshil Realty, which operates large SEZs in Pune, said SEZ developers are struggling as the SEZ policy was not extended and also, there have been no steps to release space under the SEZs.

"There is no direct tax incentive while the cost of compliance for companies operating in the SEZ was high so companies were bypassing SEZ office space," Chordia said. Developers and units in the SEZ have appealed for releasing parts of the SEZ but this has not been allowed, so a huge part of the real estate is locked this was a national waste and even a partial de-notification would help, he added.

The situation is similar in other cities. Sundari Patibandla, co-founder and CEO, iSprout, a Hyderabad-headquartered managed office

some parts, it would be a relief as some of the best infrastructure created by the real estate sector was lying vacant. In some SEZs, vacancies could be up to 80% and developers are finding it difficult to hold it for such a long time," she said.

According to the real estate consultancy and investment management firm JLL, the total SEZ stock across seven top cities in the country was at 188 million sqft, and around 16% of the space was currently vacant. So, around 30 million sq ft of space could be vacant at present.
