GIFT City gains traction among hedge funds

Aventus 4th firm to get nod for setting up AIF; 5 others awaiting approval

RAJESH BHAYANI
Mumbai, 3 September

Aventus Capital, India's largest player in the alternative investment fund (AIF) industry with 30 per cent market share, last week became the fourth firm to receive a licence from the International Financial Services Centres Authority (IFSCA) to set up at GIFT City. The first such licence was issued to True Beacon, which was launched by Zerodha founders Nikhil Kamath and Nithin Kamath, along with high-profile investment banking industry expert Richard Pattle. This was followed by Kedaara Capital and Multiples Alternate Asset Management.

And, according to an industry official tracking developments at GIFT City, four other companies' applications are under consideration for setting up AIFs. Speaking about the licence, Andrew Holland, chief executive officer of Aventus Capital Public Markets Alternate Strategies LLP, said: "The GIFT City IFSC based fund has assumed priority at Aventus. We have just last week secured a licence and we are aiming to launch the first fund in October.

Despite the current Covid-related uncertainties, we aim to manage around $500 million worth of assets in the next 2-3 years. Our India AUM (assets under management) is around ₹4,000 crore ($545 million)." Aventus' hedge fund will have long and short strategies and the money it raises will be invested in Indian financial markets. Around four fund managers/advisors have already received approval; SBI Funds Management, ASK Investment Managers, and Phillip Capital are setting up portfolio management services. Nippon Life India Asset Management application for fund managers/advisor is under consideration.

There are several others in the fund industry ecosystem at GIFT City whose licences are under consideration. Holland added that GIFT has several advantages over other fundraising destinations for investors looking at the Indian markets.

"Regulatory environments for offshore and onshore are in sync, most fund industry ecosystem players for Indian markets also have presence in GIFT IFSC including custodians, fund administrators, foreign investment service providers. Richard Pattle suggested some tweaks in the regulatory regime like revisiting peak margin rules, which could potentially affect liquidity and efficient price discovery

IN DEMAND

■ Hedge fund of India's largest AIF Aventus receives licence

■ Zerodha founders, first to get nod, intend to raise $100-200 million from GIFT IFSC

■ Total ecosystem will soon have 30 players in GIFT based fund industry

■ Funds want domestic peak levels margin reviewed to attract more foreign funds

Going forward, we see the fund industry gaining traction at this IFSC," he said.

The IFSCA wants to see GIFT emerge as a hub for the fund industry.

"We are seeing great momentum in participation by institutions at IFSC. We have seen participation of around 30 players from the fund industry covering AIFs, fund managers, administrators, PMS entities. IFSC is becoming an important gateway for global investors," said Dipesh Shah, head development, IFSCA.

Richard Pattle, who teamed up with Zerodha founder Nithin and Nikhil Kamath to set up True Beacon, said the AIF now serves clients across the world. "Our fund has been launched and we intend to raise $100-200 million initially under an AIF structure," added Pattle, who is CEO of the firm.

"While operationally and from a tax perspective GIFT City has provided an excellent base, as the ecosystem grows in Gandhinagar, this measure will act as a catalyst to attract yet more international and domestic FIs, further accelerating inflows," Pattle added.

Heading to developed country? Opt for larger sum insured

SARBAJEET K SEN

Foreign travel is opening up gradually. The United Arab Emirates (UAE), a favourite destination of Indian tourists, started issuing tourist visas from the end of August. Many of those looking to travel to the United States are quarantining in a third country to overcome the ban on direct entry of Indian tourists. With the festival-cum-winter tourism season approaching, more nations are likely to relax their ban on Indian tourists soon.

The Covid-19 situation is still simmering in many geographies. If you plan to travel abroad soon, one way you can protect yourself is by purchasing adequate travel insurance. "Travel during these unprecedented times can cause significant stress and worry, so buy adequate insurance for security and peace of mind," says Ravi Vishwanath, president, accident and health business, HDFC ERGO General Insurance.

Must-have covers

Most travel policies offer a few basic features such as coverage for medical emergencies, baggage loss, expenses related to trip delays and cancellations, and loss of passport. "In addition, make sure the policy covers you against personal accident leading to injuries or accidental death. The policy should pay a lump-sum benefit if such an eventuality arises. Also, given the current scenario, it must cover you for Covid," says Amit Chhabra, head—health and travel insurance, Policybazaar.com.

Most travel insurance policies offer several add-on covers. "Coverage for bounced bookings of hotels and airlines, and travel extension cover can be availed by paying an additional

TRAVEL INSURANCE PREMIA ARE QUITE AFFORDABLE

Premia (in ₹) for sum insured of $250,000 premium. If you are buying a student travel policy, then look for covers specifically mandated by the university," says Rakesh Jain, executive director and chief executive officer, Reliance General Insurance.

Don't scrimp on cover amount

Since the cost of medical treatment in many parts of the world is much higher than in India, it is advisable to buy an adequate cover when you travel. "When trying to decide on the right amount of insurance, take into account factors like your age, length of stay, and the cost of treatment in the country of visit," says Vishwanath.

Especially when travelling to developed-world countries, where the cost of treatment tends to be exorbitant, it is prudent to go for a high sum insured. Chhabra suggests a minimum cover of $100,000. One point that works in favour of customers who desire a high sum insured is that the rate at which the premium increases declines as you move into higher sum insured brackets.

Be claim compliant

Read the terms and conditions carefully when zeroing in on a travel plan. "Be well informed about policy exclusions. For instance, many companies do not cover accidents that occur while undertaking adventure sports," says Vishwanath.

The purpose of buying travel insurance will get defeated if your claim is rejected due to mistakes that could have been avoided at the time of purchase. Disclose all the necessary details regarding pre-existing illnesses at the time of purchase.

"Keep the claims and assistance numbers and email handy, so that you are able to contact the insurer quickly. Also, report an incident as soon as it occurs and produce as much evidence as possible," says Jain.

Be meticulous when filing a claim. Keep all the bills and necessary documents regarding expenses and medical treatments and make them available to the insurer for claim processing.

Biggest wealth fund excludes ONGC from portfolio

State-owned Oil & Natural Gas Corp has been excluded from the world's biggest sovereign wealth fund, due to the "unacceptable risk that the company is contributing to serious violations of the rights of individuals" in its joint ventures with South Sudan's national oil company

Nile Petroleum Corporation.

The exclusion was announced by Norges Bank late Thursday after a recommendation from the Council on Ethics, an independent body that investigates possible norm breaches in the wealth fund's $1.4 trillion portfolio. The Norwegian wealth fund is the world's single largest investor in listed companies, owning about 1.4 per cent globally.

The ethics council said that companies operating in situations of war and conflict must be particularly careful when there's a known risk for norm violations. BLOOMBERG
