Mastek Achieves UiPath Services Network (USN) Status

Mumbai, India, July 12, 2022- Mastek, a global turnkey Digital Engineering & Cloud Transformation specialist, today announced that it has achieved the highest level of UiPath technical accreditation by receiving UiPath Services Network (USN) certification. In achieving UiPath USN status, Mastek has proven expertise and advanced delivery skills required to build and scale end-to-end automation for their clients.

The UiPath Services Network Program provides a framework offering partner differentiation, resources, training, and certifications to ensure mutual customer success. UiPath USN status allows Mastek to gain a competitive edge and provide opportunities for continued growth and certification. It also helps UiPath leverage Mastek's capabilities to build industry-specific digital solutions powered by the UiPath platform to solve customer problems.

"The USN certification is a validation of Mastek's expertise on the UiPath platform and the business outcomes are capable of delivering to our customers together," said Preethi G Iyer, Practice Head-Automation, Mastek

"Enterprises are becoming automation first environments as they evolve through digital transformation," said Cheryl Chin, Vice President, Global Partners & Alliances at UiPath. "At UiPath, we believe in the fully automated enterprise and helping every company advance their productivity and potential with automation solution. As a USN partner, Mastek's proven capabilities to design, deliver, and execute automation initiatives for its customers will enable these companies to grow revenue, upskill their employees, and become more agile in their marketplace."

The objective of the USN program is to create an elite network of service delivery business partners that customers can source as they look for leaders who are certified in best-in-class automation skills, are able to provide customer references, and can share best practices. These partners can deliver state of the art implementations consistently, and with the same level of 'know how' as the UiPath Professional Services team.

With customer advantages like empowered employees, better turnaround time, process compliance and greater speed Mastek has extensive experience on UiPath, delivering 150+ automation processes with global customers in Finance, HR, Realty, Pharma, Manufacturing, and Shared Services.
