Govt will brazen out snooping allegations until name of NSO Group's Indian client is revealed: Chidambaram

Chennai, Agency. The government would brazen out the allegations of snooping until it is known who the "Indian client" of Israeli firm NSO Group's Pegasus spyware was and that name would be revealed soon, senior Congress leader P. Chidambaram said on Tuesday. The former home minister said that based on investigations by an international group of journalists, news portal 'The Wire' has reported that there was an 'Indian client of the NSO Group'. Last week, an international media consortium reported that over 300 verified mobile phone numbers, including those of two ministers, over 40 journalists, three opposition leaders besides scores of businesspersons and activists in India, could have been targeted for hacking through the Pegasus spyware of the NSO Group, he government has been denying all Opposition allegations in the matter. "Who was the 'Indian client'? Was it the government of India? Was it an agency of the government? Was it a private entity?" Chidambaram asked in a tweet. "I am certain the name will be revealed soon. Until then, I suppose the government will brazen out the allegations of snooping," he said. Amid reports that French President Emmanuel Macron spoke with Israeli Prime Minister Naftali Bennett on the Pegasus spying allegations, Chidambaram had attacked the Centre on Monday, too, saying the only government that was "sincere" over the issue was that of India. The parliamentary panel on information technology led by Congress leader Shashi Tharoor is likely to question top government officials, including those from the home ministry, later this week on Pegasus snooping allegations, according to sources.

31.6% rise in e-waste generation last year: Ashwini Choubey to Rajya Sabha

Chandigarh, Agency. India generated 10,14,961.2 tonnes of e-waste last year, a massive 31.6 per cent increase from the previous year, Minister of State for Environment, Forests and Climate Change, Ashwini Kumar Choubey informed the Rajya Sabha on Monday. Choubey was responding to a question placed before the House by MP Moresh Singh. He asked for details on the e-waste generated in the past three years. He also asked for state-wise data and a report on deaths, if any, that had resulted from e-waste. The minister informed Parliament that data regarding e-waste is only available in the country from 2017-18 onwards that too only National data. The e-Waste (Management) Rules were notified in 2016 which got amended from time to time. So far, the Environment Ministry has notified 21 types of electrical and electronic equipment (EEE) as e-waste. In 2017-18, India generated 7,08,445 tonnes of e-waste and 7,71,215 tonnes in 2018-19 - an increase of 0.86 per cent. Accepting the steady rise in the production of e-waste in the country, Choubey said, "The Government has assessed the increase in e-waste in the country during 2017-18, 2018-19 and 2019-20. The formula for estimation of e-waste generation involves the sale of EEE. Scrutiny of sales data reveals that there have been continuous increases in the sales data since 2007-08 and hence there is an increase in e-waste generation. The minister said that no deaths related to e-waste have been reported in the country so far and pointed out the corrective measures taken by the Ministry in terms of e-waste. The minister further said that the Ministry has been promoting and encouraging the establishment of an efficient e-waste collection mechanism, which is environmentally safe and sound, recycling through authorised dismantlers and recyclers of e-waste, hence minimising the illegal recycling and recovery operations and reduction of hazardous substances in electrical and electronic components. According to the rules, the Central Pollution Control Board (CPCB) issues EPR authorisation to the producers of EEE along with e-waste collection targets on annual basis. As per the information provided by CPCB, a total no of 1,765 producers have been registered for EPR Authorisation and also 57 Producers Responsibility Organisations (PROs) have obtained registration, said Choubey. Presently, 400 dismantlers/recyclers of e-waste are operating in 20 States namely Andhra Pradesh, Assam, Chhattisgarh, Gujarat, Goa, Haryana, Himachal Pradesh, Jammu & Kashmir, Jharkhand, Karnataka, Madhya Pradesh, Maharashtra, Odisha, Punjab, Rajasthan, Tamil Nadu, Telangana, Uttar Pradesh, Uttarakhand and West Bengal. These authorised dismantlers/recyclers have an annual processing capacity of 10,68,542.72 metric tons, he said.

J&K: CBI raids on Srinagar ex-DC's house pits two mainstream parties against each other

While the Jammu and Kashmir Apni Party has said that the bureaucrat was 'given ample time to destroy evidence', the Peoples Conference has come in support of Choudhary saying a "hardworking IAS officer cannot overnight be dubbed as a violator of law".

New Delhi, Agency. The CBI raid on the residence of former Srinagar Deputy Commissioner and IAS officer Shahid Iqbal Choudhary has pitted two mainstream political parties against each other. Choudhary is currently Secretary, Tribal Affairs Department, J&K, and CEO of Mission Youth programme. While the Jammu and Kashmir Apni Party has said that the bureaucrat was "given ample time to destroy evidence", the Peoples Conference has come in support of Choudhary saying a "hardworking IAS officer cannot overnight be dubbed as a violator of law". Terming the CBI investigation a mere eye-wash, the Jammu and Kashmir Apni Party has questioned the investigation into the arms' licence scam. "It seems that the investigating agency is trying to shield the culprits who are involved in this scam by providing them ample time to destroy evidence and manage escape routes," said Apni Party's General Secretary Vikram Malhotra. "That the CBI is conducting raids and searches in a scam which happened during 2012-16. After years of the J&K, the raids being conducted at the official residences of the IAS officers shows how serious the investigating agency is. Allotria, who hails from Jammu, has sought an investigation into the assets made by the officers accused of the scam." "If the CBI is looking for documents after a gap of a few years, then they are mistaken. The investigation and subsequent raids seem to be an eye-wash," Malhotra said. "The CBI should inquire about the palaces these IAS officers have acquired from the J&K government money within the capital cities of Srinagar and Jammu. The source of funding of these palaces must be investigated." The statement issued by Choudhary after the raids at his residence has not gone well with the Party. "Instead of CBI, which is probing the scam, it is surprising to see that an IAS officer is coming out with the details claiming that "nothing incriminating found" in the ongoing arms licence probe from his residence," Malhotra said. The Peoples Conference has openly come in support of Choudhary. In a response to Malhotra, Peoples Conference General Secretary Imran Ansari has said that the "court of law will define justice." "Raids and investigations cannot define justice and a hardworking IAS officer cannot overnight be dubbed as violator of law," Ansari said while backing Choudhary. "I fail to understand how a political party has decided to offer its uncollected views in an ongoing investigation. If law is really to take its course then the queue would be really long. Someone, who till yesterday was an honourable hardworking IAS officer looked up by youngsters cannot overnight be dubbed as violator of law." Ansari said while the Peoples Conference has been "at the forefront in criticising the bureaucracy" for lack of deliverance, such issues can't be turned into a personal fight. "I personally know the officer and I am sure he will come out clean," Ansari said giving a clean chit to the accused IAS officer. "We know what problem the Apni party has with this bureaucrat. Using petty fanatical issues to actually target an achiever and demand for his arrest is shameful behaviour."

Pak Sikh body congratulates Sidhu on elevation, says play your part in reopening Kartarpur Corridor

A Sidhu had earlier grabbed headlines for hugging Pakistan Army chief during his travel across the border for the opening of the Kartarpur Sahib Corridor. The corridor now lies shut due to Covid-19 outbreak.

Panchkula, Agency. The newly appointed Punjab Pradesh Congress Committee (PCC) president Navjot Sidhu has received a congratulatory letter from across the border. It is for the first time that Pakistan Sikh Gurdwara Parbandhak Committee (PSGPC) has written a special letter to any leader on being appointed to state party chief. A letter signed by PSGPC president Satwant Singh reads: "PSGPC extends its heartfelt congratulations to Navjot Singh Sidhu on assuming responsibilities of the PCC. It is indeed result of your untiring efforts and hard work and you are the best choice for such an important assignment." The letter from PSGPC has landed at the time when SGPC president Jagbir Kaur has criticised Navjot Sidhu for allegedly using Golden Temple for show of strength while coming to Sikh shrine along with more than half of the Congress MLAs in Punjab for the first time after announcement of his name for the party post. Sidhu had earlier grabbed headlines for hugging Pakistan Army chief during his travel across the border for the opening of the Kartarpur Sahib Corridor. The corridor now lies shut due to Covid-19 outbreak. Sidhu has also asked Sidhu to push for reopening of the corridor. At this historic moment, Pakistani Sikh community is overwhelmed after hearing the news of your appointment as PCC chief and (has) offers special Ardas at Shri Nankana Sahib, Shri Panja Sahib and Shri Darbar Sahib, Kartarpur for your success and progress. PSGPC would also like to highlight here that Sikh community of the world has lot of hopes that you will play your part in the reopening of the Indian side of the Kartarpur Corridor which is closed since March 2020. PSGPC wishes you good luck for your future career at this moment of honour for entire Sikh community of the world," reads the letter. Earlier, PSGPC general secretary Amir Singh, in a video message, had congratulated Sidhu saying the "Ishna (West) Punjab" is equally happy at his new assignment. He too had asked Sidhu to take up the matter of reopening the Kartarpur Corridor from the Indian side. "Like you, we want to seek the blessings from Golden Temple after becoming Punjab Congress chief, in hopes you will come to Gurdwara Kartarpur Sahib through the corridor to seek blessings," Amir Singh had said in the video message. While opening of the Kartarpur Sahib Corridor had made Sidhu popular across the border among the Sikhs in Pakistan, but here BJP, and even CM Amarinder Singh used Sidhu's camaraderie with Pak PM Imran Khan to attack him politically. Even CBI chief Captain Amarinder Singh used the occasion to highlight the threat from Pakistan along the Punjab border.
