MUMBAI MEDICAL STUDENT SUICIDE CASE

Not aware of her caste, claim accused in anticipatory bail plea

SADAFMODAK
MUMBAI, MAY 28

IN THEIR pre-arrest anticipatory bail applications filed on Tuesday, the three PG resident doctors accused of allegedly harassing a postgraduate medical student with casteist remarks and abetting her suicide have claimed that they were not aware of her caste. Bhakti Mehare (26), Hema Ahuja (28) and Ankita Khandelwal (27) were named in the FIR on the suicide of BYL Nair Hospital postgraduate student Dr Payal Tadvi (26) on May 22. Mehare was arrested on Tuesday, and the other two accused are absconding. Their anticipatory bail pleas will be heard on Wednesday.

In their pleas, the accused claimed they never harassed Tadvi, and only had "professional interaction" with her. "The applicants were not aware about the deceased belonged to any reserved category," the pleas state. The anti-ragging panel of the hospital, which concluded an inquiry on Tuesday, however said it found evidence of casteist remarks by the three accused.

"This is a very unfortunate incident where the colleague has committed suicide. The entire atmosphere in government hospitals with limited staff and doctors and resident doctors of the cadre of the applicants and deceased is so over-worked that the persons don't get adequate sleep and rest," the anticipatory bail plea of the accused states.

"If the deceased (Tadvi) was acting in a manner which was not proper as a student and as a trainee, she was expected to be pulled up. (If) she found same to be too stressful, she could have left the job," it adds.

The accused claimed that Tadvi "shirked" her responsibilities in November-December

A protest in front of BYL Nair Hospital in Mumbai. Express 2018 when she stopped coming to the hospital for a month.

Tadvi and the accused worked in the gynaecology and obstetrics department of Nair Hospital. Tadvi belonged to the Bhil community, a Scheduled Tribe, and was the first woman in her community to pursue postgraduation in medicine.

According to the FIR, the first verbal complaint was made by Tadvi's husband, Dr Salman, in December 2018, following which she was shifted to another unit for three months. The FIR refers to WhatsApp group conversations where the accused allegedly called Tadvi a "bhagodi".

The accused claimed in their plea that since she had not reported for work, labelling her as a person who runs away did not amount to abetment to suicide or offences under the SC/ST Act.
