'GeNext Reforms to Further Ease Compliance Burden'

K RAJARAMAN SECRETARY, DEPT. OF TELECOM

The government believes the telecomer forms announced mid-September have started to show to try results, says be partment of Telecommunications. Dott secretary R Rajaraman. Speaking to ETA Anandita Singh Mankotia & Montazir Abbas, Rajaraman asys the government will price SGt omake the services all fordible as the telecom sector is viewed as an ungine to drive growth and not for maximising revenue. The secting general configurations. revenue. The second generation of reforms, he says, will further reduce the compliance burden on operators and should be released in the next few months. Edited excerpts:

Did the September 2021 reforms play a role in facilitating Google's

What will be the focus of the We are looking at deepening the process of ease of doing business sentially compliance. Last year 87 compliances were done away with. A number of other licences, both wireless as well as wireline, need to be further simplified. In addition to that, there are new areas where improvements would happen, such as satellite communications and MZM learning.

Can we expect a reduction in second wave of reforms?

These things will require examination. The second genera-tion of reforms will come in the STATE OF INDUSTRY The reforms have shown fairly good early results, so we expect this process of reforms to further help the industry strengthen itself and provide more affordable and high-quality services

Does Vodafone idea's computation of gove equity potentially at 35.8% tally with DoT's calculation?

taily with DoT's calculation? This aspect is currently being dealt with by the Ministry of Finance... This is the first of its kind of calculation and we should have clarify in the next one and a half months.

Has Vodafone idea updated the government about its fundraising? They are in the process of raising funds is what they have toldus. It is not correct for me to answer any further; you will have to ask them.

Telecom equipment makers have sought extension in the PLI scheme. Will it be given? It is a genuine request. Some more time and our internal committee is reviewing it. Since we can't make changes too often. there are other small tweaks equired to the PLI scheme, and once all inputs are put together, it will be taken to the empowered group of secretaries and by March or April, a decision should be Laken. A part of the PLI scheme for telecom equipment is being carved out for a design-led manufacturing scheme, as per the budget. Your comment... The earlier parase was a broad production-linked incentive scheme. So, we want to week it to entable more design to happen within this country. ... the govern-ment wants of source equipment with security in floous. From this perspective, its lever important with security in floous. From this perspective, its lever important is perspective. Its lever important is perspective. Its lever important is perspective. Its lever important is prospective. Its lever is lever important is prospective. Its lever impor perspective, it is very important that there is a substantial investmenchy Indian companies in design and Indesign-led manufacdesign and indesign redman/fac-turing. We wanted to useak in in such a way that more intellectual processes are generated within the country first sacually gives the country better vibibility in inter-national markets and also greated options for exports 50, we would like to be a very significant player in the standards making in the world point for norad.

is the government open to reducing the 5G base price? We want to offer high-quality, affordable 5G services to people. Telecomis not being guided by revenue maximisation but being tooked at as a growth driver. The telecom regulator is in the process of looking at this and we look forward to their recommendation.

Budget shows < 56,000 crore as non-tax revenue for 2022-23. How much of this will be from 50? mendations yet, so I cannot say how much wi auctions. The basis for the estimate is just the average of mate is just the average of preceding years and not on how much we expect from 5G sale. The 5G spectrum auctions are stated for this year. I don't think there is any worry about achie ving these goals.
