Fineotex Chemical Laboratory is now NABL accredited

October 04th , 2023: Fineotex Chemical Limited (BSE: 533 333, NSE: FCL), a leader of specialty chemicals headquartered in Mumbai, has received accreditation by National Accreditation Board for Testing and Calibration Laboratories (NABL) for the laboratory situated at Sasmira Institute, Worli, Mumbai. This accreditation highlights Fineotex Chemical's dedication to upholding the most stringent benchmarks for quality and precision within the specialty chemicals industry

NABL is a leading Indian accreditation body that assesses and accredits laboratories, ensuring they meet international standards of quality and competence. NABL accreditation affirms that Fineotex Chemicals laboratory has undergone a comprehensive evaluation and has demonstrated its competence in conducting testing and calibration activities in accordance with globally accepted standards. This will further enhance customer satisfaction and confidence.

As the organization is internationally recognized, this opens doors for Fineotex Chemical's laboratory to participate in global collaborations, provide services to international clients and access a broader market.

This recognition underscores the company's commitment to advancing research and development efforts aimed at fostering sustainability in the textile manufacturing sector. As an accredited laboratory, Fineotex Chemical is equipped to provide its customers with products that meet the highest quality and international standards.

"We are pleased to announce accreditation received for our laboratory from NABL. Fineotex Chemical has always been at the forefront of driving positive change in the industry by focusing on highest quality standards. This achievement is a testament of the hard work, dedication and commitment of our team to uphold the highest standards of precision and quality in our services. It validates our competence, accuracy and adherence to international quality standards. With this accreditation, we affirm our commitment to delivering accurate and dependable results to our customers, ensuring the highest level of satisfaction." said Ms. Aarti Jhunjhunwala, Executive Director, Fineotex Chemical.
