Dear Sirs,

Sub: Termination of Distribution Agreement between AstraZeneca Pharma India Limited and Abbott Healthcare Private Limited

We refer to our announcement of December 7, 2018, wherein we had informed about the Distribution Agreement entered into between AstraZeneca Pharma India Limited (AstraZeneca India) and Abbott Healthcare Private Limited (Abbott) for the distribution of Dapagliflozin, an innovative Type 2 diabetes medicine, in India.

Under the said agreement, Abbott promoted and distributed Dapagliflozin under the brand name "Gledepa" and the combination of Dapagliflozin with Metformin under the brand name "Gledepa Met". Please note that by virtue of the said Distribution Agreement, Abbott had not been conferred with any license to the patents over the drugs comprising Dapagliflozin, and the license granted to Abbott was with respect only to the use of the trademarks "Gledepa" and "Gledepa Met"

We now wish to further update that AstraZeneca India and Abbott have mutually terminated the Distribution Agreement on 27th May 2021

AstraZeneca India will continue to independently market Dapagliflozin, the combinations of Dapagliflozin and Metformin as well as Dapagliflozin and Saxagliptin in India under the brand names "Forxiga[®]" "Xigduo[®]" and "Qtern[®]" respectively.

We request you to take the above submissions on records.
