IPCC: Indian Ocean heating at faster pace than others

Country To See More Heat Waves And Flooding

New Delhi: The Indian Ocean is warming at a higher rate than other oceans, the latest report by the Intergovernmental Panel on Climate Change said on Monday, with scientists warning that India will witness increased heat waves and flooding, which will be the irreversible effects of climate change.

The authors of the Intergovernmental Panel on Climate Change's (IPCC) Sixth Assessment Report (AR6), "Climate Change 2021: The Physical Science Basis", said the warming of the ocean will lead to a rise in sea levels, which will contribute to more frequent and severe coastal flooding in low-level areas.

"For a country like India, some of the increase in heat waves is masked by aerosol emissions and reducing that is important for air quality. We will also see an increase in the heat waves, heavy rainfall events and the further melting of glaciers, which will impact a country like India, more compound events from sea-level rise, which could mean flooding when tropical cyclones hit. These are some of the impacts which will not go away," Friederike Otto, one of the authors of the report, said.

Another author, Swapna

Devotees arrive to offer prayers at Dashashwamedh Ghat submerged in the risen water level of Ganga river, in Varanasi on Monday

Panickal, who is a scientist at the Indian Institute of Tropical Meteorology, said about 50% of the sea level rise is due to thermal expansion.

"The Indian Ocean region is warming at a higher rate, which means the relative sea level can also increase over the regions. Hence, the coastal regions will see the sea level rise through the 21st century and it will contribute to more frequent and severe coastal flooding and coastal erosion. Along with this, extreme sea-level events that were previously seen once in a hundred years, could also happen every year by the end of the century," she said.

The report also observed that it is indisputable that human activities are causing climate change, making extreme climate events more frequent and severe.

"Human influence has led to ocean warming since the 1970s and ocean acidification along with changes in the frozen areas of the planet. There has been a 40% decrease in Arctic Sea ice since the 1990s and spring snow cover has decreased since the 1950s," it said.

The authors of the report said in the next 20-30 years, India will not see much increase in the rainfall beyond the internal variability change, but both annual as well as the summer monsoon precipitation will increase by the end of the 21st century.

"While there is not much model agreement on the changes in the heavy precipitation events, we can definitely say that hot extremes are projected to increase and cold extremes are projected to decrease in the 21st century," Panickal said.

She said if large-scale reductions are not made in the greenhouse gas emissions, limiting global warming to 1.5 degrees or 2 degrees Celsius will be beyond reach.

'Glaciers in Hindu Kush to continue shrinking'

New Delhi: Glaciers in the Hindu Kush Himalayan (HKH) region will keep shrinking and the snow cover will retreat to higher altitudes, the latest IPCC report said on Monday.

One of the authors of the report, Krishna Achuta Rao, said in the HKH region, the snow cover has reduced since the early 21st century and glaciers have thinned, retreated and lost mass since the 1970s.

However, he said, the Karakoram glaciers have either slightly gained mass or are in an approximately balanced state.

According to the report, mountain glaciers will continue to shrink and permafrost to thaw in all regions where they are present.

Moraine-dammed lakes are normally formed near glacier terminus. These lakes can burst due to excessive melting and can cause floods in the valleys. Many such floods have been reported in the Himalayas and other parts of the world.

Another author of the report, Swapna Panickal, said that reducing emissions now will not stop the retreat of glaciers as it is a slow process.

UK court allows Nirav appeal extradition on mental health ground

London: A high court judge in London on Monday granted fugitive diamond merchant Nirav Modi permission to appeal against a magistrates' court order in favour of extradition to India to face charges of fraud and money laundering before the Indian courts on mental health and human rights grounds.

Justice Martin Chamberlain delivered his verdict remotely under Covid-19 rules to conclude that the arguments presented by the 50-year-old diamond merchant's legal team concerning his "severe depression" and "high risk of suicide" were arguable at a substantial hearing.

He also noted that the adequacy of the measures capable of preventing "successful suicide attempts" at Arthur Road Jail in Mumbai, where Nirav Modi is to be detained upon extradition, also fall within arguable ambit.

"At this stage, the question for me is simply whether the appellant's case on these grounds is reasonably arguable. In my judgment, it is. I will grant permission to appeal on Grounds 3 and 4," Justice Chamberlain's ruling notes.

Grounds 3 and 4 relate to Article 3 of the European Convention of Human Rights (ECHR), or the right to life, liberty and security, and Section 91 of the UK's Criminal Justice Act 2003 related to fitness to plead.

Permission to appeal on all other grounds was declined and the case will now proceed for a substantive hearing before the High Court in London under Grounds 3 and 4.

Tiffin box bomb found in Amritsar; Punjab on alert

Chandigarh: Punjab Police said on Monday that the state was on high alert after a tiffin box bomb packed with over 2 kg of RDX was recovered from a village in Amritsar which they suspect was dropped by a drone flying in from Pakistan.

Director General of Police Dinkar Gupta said the bomb could be set off through a remote device or a timed mechanism.

"The tiffin box bomb can be described as an improvised Explosive Device. The IED was created in a double-chambered tiffin box with attractive pictures on it. Last evening, the recovery was made near Dalake village under Lokope Police Station in Amritsar," Gupta told media persons.

"Our assessment is that this bomb has been delivered through a drone across the border," he added.

According to police,

Combined photo of recovered IED in tiffin boxes

some hand grenades and cartridges were also found from the bag containing the tiffin bomb days ahead of Independence Day.

The DGP said a former village sarpanch of Bacchiwind had informed police about drone movements in the area. Punjab Police is conducting searches in several border villages after explosives were found.

The tiffin bomb had a switch mechanism and could provide a timed explosion. It also had a magnetic mechanism with two U-shaped magnets and a printed circuit board which can help in remote signal.

This was to be used, maybe for a high-value target. However, it cannot be said at this stage whether the explosives were to target any top political leader or meant for some other place and Punjab was just a transit state, he said.

According to the DGP, police found an abandoned bag that had seven pouches, a plastic tiffin, five hand grenades and 100 rounds of 9 mm pistol rounds, an explosive substance weighing over 2 kg, a remote control device and a switch.

A power energiser of 9 volts and three detonators were also found from the bag and the bomb was packed in foam packing, he added. The Punjab Police is taking the help of the National Security Guard (NSG), who have said it is a sophisticated bomb and has about 2-3 kg of RDX explosive.

J'khand CJ to weekly track probe into judge's death

New Delhi: The Supreme Court Monday said the Jharkhand High Court Chief Justice will monitor weekly the progress made in the CBI probe into the alleged mowing down of a judge by a vehicle on July 28 in Dhanbad, and observed that the sealed cover report of the central agency did not contain much details.

A bench of Chief Justice NV Ramana and Justices Vineet Saran and Surya Kant asked the CBI to file its report weekly with the high court where the bench headed by the Chief Justice would monitor it.

The top court had on July 30 taken suo motu cognizance of the "unfortunate" "sad demise" of the judge in "gruesome incident" and had sought a status report within a week from Jharkhand's Chief Secretary and the DGP on probe.

CCTV footage showed that District and Sessions Judge-8 of Dhanbad court, Uttam Anand, was jogging on one side of a wide road at Randhir Verma Chowk early on July 28 when a heavy auto-rickshaw veered towards him, hit him from behind and fled the scene.
