Economists warn of Weaker Rupee Pushing Up Imported Inflation

Higher prices of coal, oil, edible oil and gold add to woes; leather & textiles to gain

Kirtika Suneja
@timesgroup.com

New Delhi: A depreciated rupee while supportive for exports, could mean more pain for inflation as the pass through of imported inflation becomes higher, economists have said. Keeping global energy prices constant, a 2% depreciation in the rupee leads to 10 basis points increase in headline inflation.

The rupee on Monday fell to an all-time low of 77.44 against the dollar, driven by both the outflow effect of the US Federal Reserve tightened the monetary policy amidst expectations of further rate hikes and the fallout of geopolitical tensions.

The Reserve Bank of India (RBI) surprised markets at work by raising key interest rate by 40 basis points to 4.4% to fight inflation, its first hike in nearly four years. India's retail inflation accelerated to almost 7% in March, its highest in 17 months and above the upper limit of

Falling Rupee

2% rupee depreciation adds inflation by 10bps

Direct impact on domestic fuel, energy costs

5% depreciation makes imports expensive by ₹3-4 per $

Higher coal, oil, edible oil, gold costs to push imported inflation up

Traditional export sectors like leather, textiles to gain the central bank's 2.6% tolerance band for a third straight month.

"The rupee has finally broken away from its comfort zone. Keeping global energy prices constant, a 2% depreciation in the rupee leads to 10 basis points increase in headline inflation, representing only the direct impact on the domestic fuel and energy costs," said HDFC Bank economist Sakshi Gupta.

He said the total impact would be higher if the second round impact on prices of other goods and services is taken into account.

Chinese yuan, Japanese yen, Thai baht, Philippine peso, South African rand and Indonesian rupiah too had depreciated against the rupee.

CBDT'S INSTRUCTIONS TO FIELD OFFICIALS 'No Notice for AY14 to AY16 if Untaxed Asset Less Than ₹50L' which has implications for tens of thousands of taxpayers.

Our Bureau

New Delhi: In a relief for small taxpayers the Central Board of Direct Taxes (CBDT) has said no reassessment notices would be issued for assessment years (AY) 2013-14, 2014-15 and 2015-16 if an income escaping assessment and represented in the form of an asset was less than ₹50 lakh.

CBDT late Wednesday issued instructions to field officials in the light of the recent Supreme Court order. SC had invoked its extraordinary powers under Article 142 of the Constitution to uphold all reassessment notices issued after March 31, 2021, by the income tax department, reopening assessments going back six years.

After the recent Supreme Court order, tax practitioners had raised questions about the implementation of the order, for initiating reassessment proceedings within 30 days or by June 2. Taxpayers will get two weeks to respond and can also request to extend the timeline.

The notification directed officials to consider a request for time extension by an assessee to respond on the merit of the case.

"This is a welcome circular by CBDT providing clarity to both taxpayers and tax officials," said Shaikh Kumar, partner, Nagia & Co.

Govt Allows Major Ports to Bid for Stranded Projects

Twesh.Mishra@timesgroup.com

New Delhi: The government has allowed major ports to bid for stranded projects undergoing debt resolution. According to officials in the know, development projects that are abandoned by concessionaires can also be taken over by the major ports.

"Around 100 million tonne of port capacity will be unlocked. Stranded projects to the tune of ₹3,600 crore may be resolved through this exercise," a senior shipping ministry official said.

This avenue for resolution has been made possible after the Centre finalised the guidelines for dealing with stressed public private partnership (PPP) projects at major ports. These guidelines allow the takeover of useful portions of stranded projects at various stages of completion.

Small-Ticket Housing Loans Rise in Tier 1 and II Cities

Dheeraj.Tiwari@timesgroup.com

New Delhi: Small-ticket affordable housing loans in tier-1 and tier-2 cities and rural areas have seen an uptick, as banks focus on retail loans in these areas to drive credit growth, said people aware of the matter. The government also wants banks to push credit through schemes such as PM Awas Yojana (PMAY). Housing loans, including priority sector loans, grew 6.4% year-on-year in March, according to the latest data.

"There is definitely a demand in this segment which is aided by various central and state government schemes," a senior executive of the state-run Central Bank of India said on condition of anonymity. "Most of these loans are secured as they avail government subsidies, in the range of 3-6%."
