Serum-produced Covishield crosses 100-cr jab mark in India

GEETA NAIR
Pune, November 16

SERUM INSTITUTE OF India's Covid-19 vaccine Covishield on Tuesday crossed the 100-crore vaccination mark. The country has administered 113.55 crore Covid-19 vaccines till date, and of these, 100.31 crore were Covishield. Two billion doses of the AstraZeneca-Oxford University Covid-19 vaccine doses have been supplied worldwide in a year. Of these, 1.3 billion came from SII.

The first lot of vaccines were rolled out from SII's Pune facility on January 12, 2021. Since then, SII ramped up capacity from 50 lakh doses a month to 22 crore doses by October 2021. It is expected to go up to 24 crore doses a month soon.

Around 76% of the country's adult population has got the first dose and around one-third are fully vaccinated. Out of the total 11.3 crore doses administered so far, 75.50 lakh are first doses and 37.51 lakh are second. The country has set a target of administering 90% with single dose by end of November.

Serum had to ramp up production as Bharat Biotech, makers of Covaxin, failed to complete deliveries.

SII CEO Adar Poonawalla has built on the legacy created by his father and founder chairman and MD Cyrus Poonawalla. It was an audacious move 55 years ago by Poonawalla senior to set up vaccine manufacturing in the country and battle the then bureaucracy and prevailing regulatory environment. Since then, SII has become the largest vaccine maker in the world by number of doses with a manufacturing capacity of 1.5 billion doses.

SII estimates that about 65% of the children in the world receive at least one vaccine manufactured by Serum Institute. Much before the pandemic, SII had become the world's largest vaccine manufacturer, making low-cost World Health Organization-accredited vaccines. When the pandemic struck in 2020, SII was among the first to start working on vaccines.

SII has a licensing agreement with AstraZeneca to supply 1 billion doses for low- and middle-income countries. AstraZeneca, in turn, has a license agreement with Oxford University for its recombinant adenovirus vaccine. Apart from Covishield, SII is also at an advance stage with the Novavax vaccine production, which is expecting a regulatory approval soon. There is also a tie-up for manufacturing Russian vaccine Sputnikik.

INTERVIEW: RP YADAV, chairman & MD, Genius Consultants

'Country is witnessing huge demand for manpower'

Staffing services provider Genius Consultants currently outsources 52,000 employees to 875 firms across the country. In an interview with Surya Sarathi Ray, RP Yadav, chairman and MD of the Kolkata-based firm, said companies, across sectors, are on a talent acquisition spree, be it front-liners, mid-segment or the higher segment. Edited excerpts:

How is the employment situation now? Are job offers rising? Currently, India is witnessing a huge demand for manpower. Most of the sectors have huge requirements, particularly in e-commerce, healthcare, pharma IT & ITes, manufacturing, retail, infrastructure, airlines, tourism and its allied sectors.

India is in a better position now in terms of employment generation. Demand is there in the permanent, temporary, casual and even in gig segments. Factories and manufacturing units are operating in full swing. So, the MSMEs are also operating in full capacity. As a result, the demand for informal workers is very high.

In the permanent segment, the requirement is for the front-line workers wherein the remuneration is ₹20,000-30,000. Here, demand has gone up by 30-40%. This is followed by demand in the mid-segment with a salary bracket of ₹50,000 to ₹1 lakh. Here, the demand has gone up by 15%. The higher segment (₹1 lakh onwards) has seen a surge of 10-12%. Demand has also gone up in the gig segment. With the festive season, there is demand for gig workers in food industry for platforms like Swiggy, Zomato and in transportation for companies like Ola, Uber etc.

What is driving this heightened demand for manpower and how long the current trend may continue?

There are a couple of reasons. During the Covid first and second waves, most of the companies reduced their manpower by 15-20%. They are recruiting back. Another reason for such high demand is that Covid cases have subsided and common people and industrialists have overcome the fear of the virus due to mass vaccination drive. The industries have boosted their production and sales to overcome the losses for the last one and half years. In fact, the figure for GST collection by the government in the last two months was between ₹1.17 lakh crore and ₹1.30 lakh crore and in November, it is expected to rise to more than ₹1.50 lakh crore. Even the airfare has gone up by 3-4 times. The economy is rebounding; hence, the job market is witnessing a surge.

Yes, companies are offering incentives to the new joiners — joining bonus, buying the notice period, among others, because people have 2-3 offers in hand. There is a 15-35% chance that the candidate may not join a prospective company as he/she has more choice.

Which age group is in higher demand? What are the skill sets on demand?

Candidates are being treated equally, there is no favouritism of males over females. Around 80% of the demand is for the 22-27 years age group for jobs like support staff in offices, labourers, sales personnel and frontline developer and support in IT sector. The skill sets in demand are: sales, web development, artificial intelligence, java, bike riders, robotics etc.

How many employees do you have now including those who work at the client site?

Genius Consultants has 52,000 employees outsourced to 875 companies across India. Three months ago, we had 44,000. In the direct payroll of Genius Consultants, there are 500 employees. It was 385 three months ago. In the coming three months, we expect to add 10,000 staff in the outsourced segment and around 150 people to our direct payroll. Our clients are in expansion spree.

Will implementation of minimum wage and other provisions in the labour codes benefit job generation or will they create hurdles going forward? Our national average wage in comparison to many other countries is still on the lower side. Therefore, I feel it will not be a hurdle but will help to create formal employment. As we all are aware that 85% of workers are working informally which is not beneficial for the employees or the government or the economy. Those employees are exploited, and I think this needs to be changed. Even the government losses out on revenue from PF, ESI, GST, etc.

Are you at risk of complications of diabetes even if your blood sugar reports are NORMAL ?

Dr. Ajit Sawhney
Consultant Physician & Diabetologist
Bareilly

Roller coaster rides of blood sugar in diabetes ....CAN be HARMFUL

As a diabetes patient, the joy of looking at a blood sugar report which shows normal values or blood sugar levels within the normal limit definitely makes you happy!!

But ...BEWARE... Before you joyously reach for a piece of sweet or chocolate to celebrate your "normal report..." take a look at a "Hidden Danger".

Even if the blood sugar levels are within the normal limits a risk factor called "oscillating blood glucose levels or glycaemic variability (GV)" is now considered by doctors as an important parameter to control in order to prevent progression of diabetes. Unfortunately, these fluctuations are not reflected by the common laboratory blood sugar tests (Fasting blood glucose, 2 hours post meal blood glucose or HbA1c).

Fluctuations in blood sugar levels during the day (when you binge or cheat on food or do not follow diet) can cause harm to your body and can lead to complications of diabetes such as heart disease, foot ulcers, nerve damage. These ups and downs of blood sugar must be controlled.

Consult your doctor to learn more about glycaemic variability (GV) and understand how you can control GV ups and downs.
