Pfizer shot works against Indian variant: BioNTech co-founder

AGENCIES Berlin, April 28 BIONTECH CO-FOUNDER UGUR Sahin on Wednesday voiced confidence that the vaccine that his company jointly developed with Pfizer works against the Indian variant of the coronavirus. "We are still testing the Indian variant, but the Indian variant has mutations that we have already tested for and which our vaccine works against, so I am confident," said Sahin. "The vaccine is cleverly built and I'm convinced the bulwark will hold. And if we have to strengthen the bulwark again, then we will do it, that I'm not worried about," he added. The country is facing surging new cases and deaths in the pandemic, and fears are rising that the variant could be con-

COVID-19 'Indian strain' found in 17 countries, says WHO

PRESS TRUST OF INDIA Geneva, April 28 THE 'INDIAN STRAIN' of the coronavirus, also known as B.1.617 or a 'double mutant', has been found in at least 17 countries, the WHO has said, as the world grapples to contain the surge in the Covid-19 cases with 5.7 million infections detected last week, surpassing previous peaks. The B.1.617 variant of SARS-CoV2 or the 'Indian strain', feared to be contributing to a surge in coronavirus cases in India, has been designated as the Variants of Interest (VOI) by the World Health Organisation (WHO), the UN health agency said in its weekly epidemiological update on Tuesday. "As of 27 April, over 1,200 sequences have been uploaded to GISAID and assigned to lineage B.1.617 (collectively) from at least 17 countries," it said, adding that most sequences were uploaded from India, the UK, USA and Singapore. GISAID is a global science initiative and primary source established in 2008 that provides open-access to genomic data of influenza viruses and the coronavirus responsible for the Covid-19 pandemic. "Emerging SARS-CoV-2 variants within Pango lineage B.1.617 were recently reported as a VOI from India and have recently been designated as VOIs by WHO," it said.

The WHO said that studies have highlighted that the spread of the second wave has been much faster than the first in India. "Preliminary modelling by WHO based on sequences submitted to GISAID suggest that B.1.617 has a higher growth rate than other circulating variants in India, suggesting potential increased transmissibility, with other co-circulating variants also demonstrating increased transmissibility," the report by the global health body said. "Other drivers may include challenges around the implementation and adherence to public health and social measures (PHSM), and social gatherings (including mass gatherings during cultural and religious celebrations, and elections). Further investigation is needed to understand the relative contribution of these factors" it said. In many cities in Maharashtra — the worst-hit state in India — the B.1.617 variant was found in more than 50% of samples on which genome sequencing was conducted, Sujat Singh, the Director of the National Centre for Disease Control, had said in a webinar on genome sequencing last week. The B.1.617 variant comprises several sub-lineages, including B.1.617.1, B.1.617.2 and B.1.617.3, which slightly differ by their characteristic mutations, the WHO report said.

Myanmar unity govt tells Asean no talks until prisoners freed

REUTERS April 28 MYANMAR'S PRO-DEMOCRACY unity government, formed to oppose the military junta that seized power nearly three months ago, on Wednesday ruled out talks on the crisis until all political prisoners are released. The 10-member Association of Southeast Asian Nations (ASEAN) has been trying to find a path for Myanmar out of the bloody turmoil that followed the February 1 coup and has called for an end to violence and talks between all sides. But the junta has already declined to accept proposals to resolve the crisis that emerged from an ASEAN summit last weekend that was attended by Myanmar's Senior General Min Aung Hlaing, while none from the civilian side was invited. The pro-democracy National Unity Government (NUG), which includes members of parliament ousted by the coup, said Southeast Asia's regional bloc should be engaging with it as the legitimate representative of the people. "Before any constructive dialogue can take place, however, there must be an unconditional release of political prisoners including President U Win Myint and State Counsellor Daw Aung San Suu Kyi," the NUG prime minister, Minister Mahn Winn Khaing Thann, said in a statement. There was no immediate comment from any senior of-officials in ASEAN. Win Myint, Suu Kyi and others have been detained since the coup, which the military launched as Suu Kyi's government was preparing for a second term after sweeping a November election. The military said it had to seize power because its complaints of fraud in the election were not being addressed by an election commission that deemed the vote fair. Pro-democracy protesters have taken place in cities and towns across the country since the coup. The military has cracked down with lethal force on the protesters, killing more than 750 people, an activist group says. Reuters is unable to confirm the casualties as the junta has clamped down on media freedoms and journalists are among the many people who have been detained. Protesters marched in support of the NUG in the second city of Mandalay on Wednesday, the Myanmar Now media outlet reported. There was no report of violence. Alarmed by the turmoil in one of its members, ASEAN held a meeting on Saturday in the Indonesian capital with the leader of the junta in a bid to press him to end the crisis.
