Delhi Board of School Education granted approval from apex bodies for its examinations and certification

OPEN SEARCH
 New Delhi : In a major development to formalise the structure of newly formed Delhi Board of School Education (DBSE), apex bodies of India granted equivalence to the examinations and certificates with other recognised boards. With this, DBSE is all set to affiliate schools, conduct examinations and grant certificates which will be treated as equivalent to the corresponding certificates issued by other recognised boards in India. This will enable the students from DBSE affiliated schools to take admission in other boards and it's certificate will be valid for admission in higher education institutions. Deputy Chief Minister Shri Manish Sisodia said, "Collaboration with International Baccalaureate opens world class opportunities for our children. With CBSE and AIU approvals, the DBSE is all set to transform learning assessment." On the grant of CBSE membership to Delhi Board of School Education, Secondary and Higher Secondary Examinations conducted and certificates issued by it would have equivalence to the corresponding certificates of other member boards of CBSE, read the letter issued by Council of Boards of School Education in India (CBSE) which is responsible for verifying genuineness/recognition of school education boards in India. Earlier, the Governing Council of the Association of Indian Universities (AIU), an inter-university organisation which acts as a representative of universities in India, approved the proposal of DBSE and resolved to "give equivalence to Delhi Board of School Education, Delhi, with CBSE and other recognised Boards of Indian Universities. Early this year, Delhi Government had approved the formation of DBSE to move away from one time end of the year, rote-learning based examination system and instead create a framework of continuous assessment. In the current academic year, 30 schools are affiliated to DBSE. In next few years, all the government schools of Delhi will be affiliated to the DBSE which has started functioning in partnership with International Baccalaureate (IB). Besides, the recognised private schools in the city too will have the option of affiliating themselves with the DBSE.
