A NUE source of profit

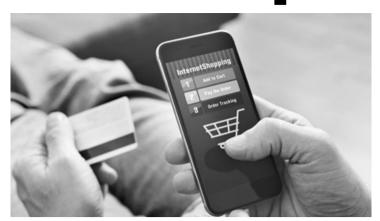

Customer retention, gains from float money and product innovation are the key reasons for banks to jump on the new for-profit platform for retail payments

n August 2020, when the Reserve Bank of India (RBI) came out with a framework for the authorisation of a pan-India new umbrella entity (NUE) for retail payments, little did it reckon that banks would make a beeline to be a part of the system. News reports suggest that there is an active collaboration among banks, payment banks, fintechs and technology providers to apply for the out of their fold and in the process NUE platform (see table).

While the regulator's The NUE isn't intent was to create a parrestricted to payment products. allel to the National Payments Corporation of It can offer PoS India (NPCI) so that the devices, regular and present system is deconwhite label ATMs gested, banks' interest in and Aadhaar-based NUE stems from different payments and remittances services

India is expected to see 66.6 billion current/savings account balance from cash to cards and digital payments by 2023 and this will increase to $856 billion by 2030.

Mahesh Ramamoorthy, MDbanking solutions, FIS India, also an NUE aspirant, expects the platform to be an opportunity worth ₹3-4 trillion in the next decade. Therefore, with money at play, NUE could offer banks an opportunity to cash in on the money that temporarily moves

Through NUE, the amalgamation of banks, tions worth over ₹4.2 trillion, up from payment platforms, fintechs and ₹2.2 trillion a year-ago with 146 banks technology partners is aimed at live on UPI. According to Accenture, plugging this gap. The customer, her payments. Bankers say that if digital transactions worth $270 billion shift and the discount that the online players offer on purchases are contained within the NUE, making it a win-win for all.

The second attractive aspect is the likely gains from the money parked on the platform. Referred to as float money, the NPCI earned about ₹100 crore of interest income in FY20 from investments by parking it in money market instruments, including Treasurv Bills and government securities. While this is just about a tenth of NPCI's total revenues, banks believe with NUE as a for-profit entity, they could do better using this money, compared to NPCI, which is a not-forprofit entity under the Companies Act.

"The ability to monetise the float could help the platform incentivise the digitalisation drive, and make it more profitable, given that the merchant discount rate (MDR) cannot be charged at this juncture," said a senior executive of a private bank. MDR charges on RuPay and UPI platforms were discontinued from January 1, 2020.

penetration should increase beyond the large metros, tier-1 and tier-2 cities, continued incentivising of retail payments is essential and gains from float would help the process.

The NUE isn't restricted to payment products. It can offer point-ofsale (PoS) devices, regular and white label ATMs and Aadhaar-based payments and remittances services. While some of these are already open for wider participation, Ramamoorthy believes that by aligning banks into digital payments, it adds to the assurance for customers. With banks having monetised and penetrated the ATM and PoS segments, NUE is a step forward to retain the customer.

This is why "almost all banks that want to ride the digital transformation wave would be interested in the NUE opportunity," Ramamoorthy said. With banks as stakeholders in the platform, Vivek Belgavi, partner, India-fintech leader at PwC India, says they can have closer alignment to the platform capabilities, which would help them innovate products for end consumers. "Currently that's getting diluted with all members on a single platform," he explained. However, NUE is a platform and not a product and Belgavi points out that banks will have to run it as a separate entity. To that extent, NUE may only help bridge some of the gaps for banks and not entirely absolve all concerns.

Further willingness to invest in technology on a sustainable basis will play a key role in shaping NUE's success, Sonali Kulkarni, lead — financial services, Accenture India, calls for a redesign of technology architecture and a cloud-led transformation, both on the front and back-end IT systems to achieve better resiliency, low latency and cope with demand surges. With the country's largest private bank HDFC Bank — yet to resolve its technology glitches, how geared Indian banks are to shoulder a responsibility like NUE could be the central bank's primary concern while sieving through applications. Also, while banks have the skill of risk management, NUE calls for different skill sets — multiparty management, interoperability, resilience and technology availability. "Further, a platform needs critical mass to get started and the ability to bring people to the party will also be an important factor," said Belgavi. News reports so far indicate that there are six applicants for NUE. Those who make the final cut would reveal the regulator's thought process around the platform.

▶ INDIA'S INTERVENTIONIST STATE - PART 2

Bolster govt capability, reform its management

In my first piece I argued that reducing the scope of government is the first step to improving its effectiveness. In this companion article I elaborate on the second phase — improving state capability.

Building state capability is not an easy process, especially in a democratic setup. China carried out a major administrative reform in 1995 — some 15 years after the start of its economic reforms. In many East Asian countries, administrative reforms have been given as much attention as economic reforms. India did set up an administrative reforms commission in 2005 but did not follow through — and missed the bus. as preparations for the 2009 elections and dealing with the global financial crisis took precedence.

While the scope of government is huge, the size of the civil service to administer it is small and its composition needs a huge restructuring — too many clerical and administrative staff and too few technocratic experts, teachers, health workers and judges. The share of general government employment to total employment is around 1 per cent — the lowest in Asia. In most Asian countries, it's above 2 per cent, and in Malaysia and Sri Lanka over 3 per cent.

India runs a boutique government small relative to its needs but very expensive relative to its income. In India, the average wage of a general government employee to GDP per capita is around 7 — amongst the highest in the world, whereas in most of Asia that ratio lies between 1 (Vietnam, China) and 2.5

PROPERTY TAX AS SHARE OF GDP IN 2017

(Indonesia, Sri Lanka, Philippines). Even Korea, Thailand and Malaysia have a ratio of general government wage to per capita GDP of around 3-4. In much of the Arab world and Turkey, that ratio is around 2-3.

At the apex of the bureaucracy sits a mandarin-like elite administrative service mostly competent but who are shuffled around and, therefore, have no time to develop the in-depth expertise needed to remain abreast of global developments in those fields. They lack the technical edge required to lead India's government policy in their secthey often suffer from excessive political interference in their functioning. A more professional, performance-based civil service with promotions based on regular testing rather than a timebound lifelong sinecure is needed to maintain a meritocratic culture. Bringing a few lateral entry experts from the private sector is not the answer. There is much to learn from the civil service systems of East Asian countries such as Japan, Korea, Singapore and Taiwan. India's administrative pay structure also reduces capability and undermines effectiveness. The upper end of the civil service - which has discretionary decision-making powers — has seen its real wages fall well below that of the private sector, whereas at the lower end, that makes up more than 90 per cent of the labour force, salaries (including benefits) are more secure and higher than in the private sector. The ratio between the top and the bottom is now between 3 and 4, depending on how it's measured but should be much higher.

A review is also needed of the roles and responsibilities of the central, state and local government — using basic principles of subsidiarity. Why does the government do some things well and others so badly? One way to think about it is that agencies with a few specific tasks — central banking (Reserve bank of India) space (Indian Space Research Organisation), elections (Election Commission) — that are given considerable discretion in their decision making

नवी मुंबई, दि. २८, (प्रतिनिधी) : यापूर्वी कोरोनाचा 'हॉट स्पॉट' झालेले असतानाही 'एपीएमसी' बाजारात कोरोना रुग्ण वाढत असताना नियमांचे पालन होत नसल्याचे वारंवार समोर आले आहे. मंगळवारी पालिका आयुक्तांनी दिलेल्या अचानक भेटीतही नियमांचे पालन होत नसल्याचे समोर आले त्यामुळे आयुक्तांनी एपीएमसी प्रशासन व संचालकांकडे नाराजी व्यक्त केली आहे. नियमांचे कडक पालन न झाल्याने निर्बंध घालावे लागतील असा इशाराही दिला आहे. शहरात गेल्या दोन आठवड्यांपासून करोनाचे रुग्ण वाढत आहेत. दैनंदिन ३० पर्यंत खाली आलेली रुग्णसंख्या १५० पेक्षा अधिक झाली आहे. त्यामुळे शहरात कोरोनाची परिस्थिती पुन्हा एकदा धोकादायक वळणावर पोहोचत आहे. त्यामुळे पालिका प्रशासनाने शहरात कोरोना नियमांचे कडक पालन व्हावे यासाठी काही निर्बंध लागू करणे सुरू केले आहे. नवी मुंबईत सर्वाधिक वर्दळीचे ठिकाण हे 'एपीएमसी' आहे. पहाटेपासून दिवसभर या पाचही बाजारांत काम सुरू राहत असल्याने दिवसभर गर्दी असते. दररोज ५० ते ६० हजार व्यापारी, शेतकरी, आडतेदार, ग्राहक या ठिकाणी येत असतात. त्यामुळे या ठिकाणी संसर्गाचा धोका अधिक आहे. गेल्या वर्षीही शहरात कोरोना संसर्ग सुरू झाल्यानंतर एपीएमसी हॉटस्पॉट ठरली होती. या ठिकाणाहून शहरांत संसर्ग मोठ्या प्रमाणात पसरला होता. त्यामुळे आताच्या परिस्थितीतही एपीएमसीवर अधिक लक्ष ठेवणे गरजेचे आहे. मात्र असे असतानाही या ठिकाणी कोरोना नियमांचे कडक पालन होताना दिसत नाही. त्यामळे पालिका आयुक्त अभिजीत बांगर यांनी मंगळवारी भाजी व फळ बाजारात अचानक भेट दिली. कोरोना नियमांचे पालन होते याची पाहणी केली असता बहुतांशजण मुखपट्टीचा वापर करीत आहेत, मात्र ती नाक व तोंडावर न लावता हनुवटीवर लावत आहेत. त्याचप्रमाणे अंतरसोवळ्याच्या नियमाचेही पालन होत नाही. प्लास्टिक पिशव्यांचा वापर मोठ्या प्रमाणावर होत असल्याचे आढळून आले आहे. त्यामुळे आयुक्तांनी तीव्र नाराजी व्यक्त केली आहे. पुन्हा टाळेबंदीला सामोरे जायचे नसेल तर करोना नियमांचे काटेकोर पालन करण्याचे निर्देश दिले आहेत. तसे होत नसेल तर महापालिका कठोर भूमिका घेईल, असा इशाराही दिला आहे. या वेळी दक्षता पथकाच्या कारवाईबाबत शंकाही उपस्थित करण्यात आली आहे. येथील वर्दळ व नियमांबाबत नागरिक सतर्क नसल्याचे पाहता होणारी कारवाई ही कडक नसल्याचे त्यांनी एपीएमसी प्रशासनाला सांगितले आहे. भाटीनंतर आयुक्तांनी एपीएमसी प्रशासन व संचालक मंडळ यांच्याशी या परिस्थितीबाबत चर्चा केली. ही बाब दुर्लिक्षत करण्यासारखी नाही. यावर प्रतिबंध आणण्याकरिता तातडीने कारवाई करावी असे निर्देश दिले. अधिक सतर्क राहण्याची गरज असून तसे न
