5 lakh evacuated in Bangladesh

● Skyline turns dark in parts in afternoon ● Impact of approaching cyclone causes downpour

ANISUR RAHMAN
Dhaka

Bangladesh on Friday evacuated over five lakh people from its southwestern districts as cyclonic storm 'Fani', brewing over the Bay of Bengal, is drawing closer and is likely to hit the country late night and cause severe damage after ravaging the Indian coastlines.

The India Meteorological Department (IMD) has classified 'Fani' as an "extremely severe cyclonic storm".

Met office spokesman Omar Faruque said the cyclone is likely to "enter Bangladesh through Khulna coastlines and will take the entire night to cross the country, ravaging southwestern" coastline districts.

Bangladesh skyline turned dark in many parts of the country since noon as 'Fani', dubbed to be the deadliest cyclone in decades to hit the region, started approaching, albeit with a weakened force, after ravaging India's eastern Odisha coastlines, weather officials said.

Faruque said the impact of the approaching cyclone caused downpour in some parts of the country and the intensity of the rainfall is expected to increase.

Disaster management ministry's senior secretary Shah Kamal told PTI after noon, around 5,50,000 people were shifted from the coastline districts to shelters or other safer places.

"In most vulnerable areas like river shoals, we are trying to help people move out along with their valuables and cattle as well," he said.

The evacuees were being provided dry food, while "we have enough stock of relief materials for them", he added.

Officials said two-third of people from vulnerable areas like Koirna and Dakop in Khulna district, through where the cyclone was likely to penetrate Bangladesh, have been evacuated.

IS bride will be hanged: Bangladesh Minister

AGENCIES
London

Shamima Begum, a British teenager who ran away in 2015 to become an Islamic State (IS) jihadi bride, will be hanged for "terrorism offences" if she comes to Bangladesh, the country's Foreign Minister has said.

In an interview to Britain's ITV, Bangladesh's Foreign Minister Abdul Momen said the 19-year-old—who is currently living in the Al-Hol desert refugee camp in Syria—would face the death penalty if she ended up in the South Asian country.

She was also stripped of her British citizenship by Home Secretary Sajid Javid in February.

Although Shamima Begum is of Bangladeshi descent, the country's Foreign Ministry denied it.

"If anyone is found involved with terrorism, we have a simple rule. There will be capital punishment. And nothing else. She will be put in prison and immediately the rule is, she should be hanged," Momen said. Begum ran away from her London home as a schoolgirl after reading about the IS online.

"We have nothing to do with Shamima Begum. She is not a Bangladeshi citizen. She never applied for Bangladeshi citizenship. She was born in England and her mother is British."

— ABDUL MOMEN, Foreign Minister, Bangladesh

Facebook bans 'dangerous individuals'

AGENCIES / San Francisco

After years of pressure to crack down on hate and bigotry, Facebook has banned Louis Farrakhan, Alex Jones and other extremists, saying they violated its ban on "dangerous individuals". The company also removed right-wing personalities Paul Nehlen, Milo Yiannopoulos, Paul Joseph Watson and Laura Loomer, along with Jones' site, Infowars, which often posts conspiracy theories.

The latest bans apply to both FB's main service and to Instagram and extend to fan pages and other related accounts.

Decried as censorship by several of those who got the axe, the move signals a renewed effort by the social media giant to remove people and groups promoting objectionable material such as hate, racism and anti-semitism. Removing some of the best-known figures of the US political extreme takes away an important virtual megaphone that Facebook has provided the likes of Jones, Yiannopoulos and others over the years.

But it does not address what might be done with lesser known figures and those who stay on the margins of what Facebook's policies allow.

RK Films, the film production company of the Kapoors based in the RK Studios, has a long list of box office hits and canned its maiden flick Aag in 1948. Though this movie failed at the box office, the banner found success with the next flick Barsaat in 1949.

Most of the RK Films productions share a common theme of criticising the society and depicting love across social divides and some of the successful labels from the RK banner include Awaara, Shri 420, Jis Desh Mein Ganga Behi Hai, Mera Naam Joker, Bobby, Satyam Shivam Sundaram, and Ram Teri Ganga Maali among others.

The last film under the RK banner was Aa Ab Laut Chalen in January 1999. When Raj Kapoor passed away in 1988, his elder son Randhir took over the studios. Later his younger brother Rajiv directed a film titled Prem Granth. Even Rishi tried his hands on direction with Aa Ab Laut Chalen.

Commenting on the deal, Randhir, the eldest son Raj Kapoor said, "the Chembur property has been of tremendous significance to my family over the many decades. We have chosen Godrej Properties to script a new chapter for this location and build on its rich history." The site is strategically located on the Son-Parvel highway and offers a well-developed social and civic infrastructure with multiple schools, hospitals, retail malls, residential and commercial spaces, the realty firm said. Godrej Properties generally ties up with land owners to develop new projects, but sometimes it also opts for outright purchase of strategic land parcel, it added.

Last year, the Kapoor brothers had said the family wanted to sell the studio land.
