India finds hard to assess number of its citizens stuck in Wuhan

AGENCIES
New Delhi/Beijing

India is finding it hard to assess the exact number of Indians stranded in the central China's Wuhan city which has been placed under a lockdown, following the outbreak of the contagious novel coronavirus epidemic.

The death toll in Wuhan, the capital of Hubei province, due to the 2019-nCoV has risen to 80 and around 3,000 people have tested positive for the virus and around 6,000 people are suspected to be infected.

Though over 500 Indian students were studying in colleges and universities in Wuhan, official sources said, most of them had departed for home before the outbreak of the coronavirus (2019-nCoV) for Chinese new year holidays.

The Chinese New Year was on January 25, and the holidays had started a week early. The holidays have now been extended following the epidemic.

Official sources said the embassy in Beijing has been in touch with 45 Indian students stuck in Wuhan but wasn't able to determine the overall figure of Indians living in the city.

"It is difficult to ascertain because usually not all Indians there would register with the consulate. Nor would they keep the consulate informed if they were moving out," an official in the ministry of external affairs told IANS. Wuhan's all transport services have been suspended and its 11 million inhabitants prohibited from venturing out of their homes.

Chinese health authorities on Monday confirmed 2,744 cases of 2019-nCoV infections. 461 patients were critical on Sunday, official media in Beijing reported.

Air India may operate B747 to bring back countrymen

NEW DELHI: The government has asked Air India to be ready to operate a special flight for bringing back vulnerable Indians, including university students from China, in the wake of rising worries over coronavirus outbreak in Wuhan province and reports of new cases of viral infection in other parts of the country. "Only Air India has wide-body aircraft and so we can operate special flight with a B747. We are awaiting directions from the government," said an airline official.

But the official added that there is growing apprehension within the airline that bringing people from the infection-hit areas of China could pose a bigger challenge in case even a single person with symptoms of infection gets onboard.

Kerala declares alert against coronavirus

K RAVEENDRAN
Thiruvananthapuram

With a significant exposure of its students to coronavirus-hit Chinese cities, Kerala has officially declared an alert against the deadly disease, which is not only showing no signs of abating, but spreading to new areas outside the mainland.

The state health authorities have enforced strict monitoring of passengers coming from other countries, with the arrangements of thermal screening at all seven international airports in the state. As the disease has spread to countries such as the United States, Taiwan and other Asian countries, all passengers arriving from different countries are being screened for suspected cases.

As many as 288 people have returned to the state from the affected cities in China, particularly Wuhan, which is a Chinese educational hub that attracts international students.

Of them, seven suspected patients have been moved to hospitals, while the remaining are under observation at their own residences. Blood samples of suspected cases have been sent to the National Institute of Virology in Pune for tests.

Hospital authorities say that the condition of all the seven admitted to hospitals is satisfactory and there is no cause of concern as of now.

The state government has issued strict guidelines to be followed by people, particularly in public places.

The importance of personal hygiene and the practice of washing hands periodically is being widely publicised as a measure of precaution.

Bhopal gas tragedy: SC to hear Centre's plea for additional fund

NEW DELHI: A 5-judge bench of the Supreme Court is scheduled to hear on Tuesday the Centre's plea seeking Rs 7,844 crore as additional fund from successor firms of US-based Union Carbide Corporation, now owned by Dow Chemicals, for giving compensation to victims of the 1984 Bhopal Gas tragedy. The bench, comprising Justices Arun Mishra, Indira Banerjee, Vinet Saran, M R Shah and S Ravindra Bhat, will hear the curative petition filed by the Centre for enhanced compensation for the victims.

2G scam: CBI appeal infructuous, former telecom minister Raja tells High Court

NEW DELHI: Former union telecom minister A Raja on Monday told the Delhi High Court that the CBI's appeal against his and others' acquittal in the 2G spectrum scam case has become infructuous with the coming of the new anti-corruption law. Senior advocate Abhishek M Singhvi, appearing for Raja, told the court that the graft charges levelled against him and others in the case have been omitted in the new Prevention of Corruption Act of 2018 and therefore, prosecution in the instant matter cannot go on.

Apart from Raja, his then private secretary R K Chandolia and former telecom secretary Siddharth Behra have also raised the issue in separate applications filed by them.

Muslim women shower petals on Jashodaben

OUR CORRESPONDENT
Lucknow

Prime Minister Narendra Modi's wife Jashodaben on Monday reached Mahoba in Bundelkhand region where she was showered flower petals by a group of Muslim women. Jashodaben, a retired school teacher who stays in Gujarat, had arrived from Jhansi by road, where she saw a fort and a documentary on freedom fighter Rani Laxmibai of Jhansi.

It was her first visit to Mahoba. As she entered the city, the women of Muslim community and members of Madrasa management committee garlanded her outside a Madrasa.

From here, she went to the home Jagat Sahu, brother-law of former BJP head of Mahoba district Rankishore Sahu. She met with the people of the Sahu community there and had lunch as well, sources told FPJ.

Sources said several BJP leaders of Jhansi and Mahoba were present there. She visited some temples and stayed at Irrigation department rest house. She will be heading towards Lalitpur Tuesday morning from where she will go to Chitrakoot.

One hardly expects to hear a Friends reference dropped while discussing Indian politics but then Faye D'Souza is a journalist who knows exactly what works with the audience.

An enlightening discussion on the state of the media titled MediaFile: Fact, Fiction and the Spaces in Between saw Ruben Banerjee (Editor-in-Chief, Outlook), Sonia Singh (Editorial Director, NDTV) and independent journalist Taran N Khan in conversation with Faye D'Souza.

We saw a host of topics being broached including fake news, govt interference in journalism, ownership models and much more.

The debate started with all participants contesting the topic stating that there ought to be no fiction in journalism.

Discussing the pressure of business models or owners, Outlook's Editor-in-Chief Ruben Banerjee noted that there were good or bad owners and that pressure had always existed in journalism, ownership models and much more.

ways existed in journalism, more so now because we live in a divisive society.

He lamented the politicisation of newsrooms and said that journalists were using the tone once used by politicians. He noted that the it wasn't just journalism and that every institution, including the fourth estate was in the decline.

Take news has been weaponised'

NDTV's Sonia Singh noted that it wasn't just fiction, and that fake news had been weaponised. She stated that there existed a concerted effort to tell lies, not just by the media but by those holding the highest offices in government.
