FITCH REPORT AGR dues' payment over 10 years not enough to help Vi

PRESS TRUST OF INDIA
New Delhi, September 8

THE SUPREME COURT'S decision to allow telcos to pay outstanding dues over 10 years will not be enough to help Vodafone Idea (Vi) to stabilise its position, while Jio and Airtel are expected to strengthen their market shares through subscriber gains, Fitch Ratings has said.

It further said another tariff hike of at least 20% is probable in the next 12 months. Vodafone Idea's plan to raise funds through a mix of equity and debt is "unlikely" to restore its competitive position and reverse subscriber losses, as the amount would not be sufficient for capex, it argued.

"We believe Vodafone Idea will gradually lose market share given its weak balance sheet and limited financial flexibility," a Fitch release said, adding that Jio and Bharti, on the other hand, are expected to gain market share on the SC verdict.

Industry tariffs are expected to rise as users adopt higher-price 4G plans. "We expect Jio and Bharti to increase their combined revenue market share to 75-80% from around 70% in the next 12-18 months, at the expense of Vodafone Idea, which will likely lose 50 million-70 million subscribers in the next 12 months; it lost about 155 million subscribers in the last nine quarters," it said.

Reliance Jio could snap up more than half of Vodafone Idea's subscriber losses, with the balance going to Bharti, the release added.

While Jio had posted Ebitda growth of 55%, and Bharti reported Indian mobile Ebitda growth of 35% in the first quarter of the current fiscal, Vodafone Idea's numbers remained stagnant, covering only half of its interest cost.

"Vodafone Idea's auditor expressed material uncertainty over the company's ability to continue as a going concern, which, the auditor said, depends on successful negotiations with Vodafone Idea's lenders to waive their rights to repayment after breaches of covenants under its bank loans," Fitch Ratings said.

Mumbai airport rolls out contactless check-in system: Mumbai airport has put in place a QR code-enabled contactless check-in mechanism for the passengers, which allows them the use of their mobile phones to remotely operate check-in and self-bag drop kiosks for printing boarding passes and bag tags. Passengers at Mumbai airport just need to scan the QR code shown on the kiosks to access a remote keyboard and mouse on their mobile device, without touching the kiosks, Mumbai International Airport (MIAL) said in a release. —PTI

US-based First Solar mulls setting up manufacturing plant in India

VIKAS SRIVASTAVA
Mumbai, September 8

FIRST SOLAR, A US-based solar module manufacturer and EPC player, is evaluating options to set up a solar equipment manufacturing plant in India as part of its capacity expansion plan.

The plan comes close on the heels of the Indian government's focus on Aatmanirbhar Bharat and declared intent to reduce dependence on Chinese power equipment, sources said.

The company's plan will, however, be contingent on evaluation of all options closer to demand centres that provide cost-competitive labour and raw material. The decision to look at other production centres is also to provide an alternative source of supply of silicon crystalline technology to countries looking beyond China.

Sujoy Ghosh, vice-president for India and APAC, First Solar, in an email response to FE, said the company is evaluating the potential for capacity expansion and may seek to diversify its manufacturing presence beyond the US, Malaysia and Vietnam.

"While we have made no decisions at this time, the factors in this evaluation include the geographic proximity to solar demand where First Solar has an energy or competitive advantage; the ability to export cost competitively to other markets; cost-competitive labour, low energy cost, and low real estate cost; and finally, a cost-competitive supply chain to support the sourcing of raw materials and components," Ghosh said.

First Solar has been present in India since December 2011 and its business activities include sale of modules to third parties and development of utility scale PV solar assets. The company has an installed base of over 1.2 GW of modules in India and have commenced project development since 2014.
