Govt mulls expanding PLI to more sectors

SURPLUS FUNDS. Toys and leather to be included only after Cabinet nod; other sectors to be considered based on 'efficacy, usefulness'

Amiti Sen
New Delhi

The government has over ₹40,000 crore surplus from the Production Linked Incentive scheme outlay of ₹1.97 lakh crore announced for the 14 beneficiary sectors. The Centre may use it for expanding the scheme to additional sectors depending strictly on the "efficacy and usefulness" of such an expansion, officials said.

"While the interim Budget made a token allocation of ₹1 lakh for PLI scheme for toys and leather, as both have not been cleared by the Union Cabinet, other items too could be considered for the scheme, but only after there is more clarity on how the scheme was panning out for all 14 existing sectors," an official tracking the matter told businessline.

The PLI scheme announced in 2021 covers 14 sectors which include mobile manufacturing, drug intermediaries & API, medical devices, auto & components, pharmaceuticals drugs, specialty steel, telecom & networking products, electronic/technology products, white goods, food products, textile products, high efficiency solar PV modules, ACC battery, and drones and components.

FUNDS DISBURSED
Till now, only ₹4,415 crore have been disbursed under the schemes for eight sectors, including large-scale electronics manufacturing, IT hardware, bulk drugs, medical devices, pharma, telecom, food processing,

UNDER CONSIDERATION. Commerce Minister Piyush Goyal at a conference on Production Linked Incentive Schemes in New Delhi and drones. "It is clear by now that the entire ₹1.97 lakh crore corpus announced for the PLI scheme will not get used up and there will be a surplus of about ₹40,000-45,000 crore. Right now the focus is on ensuring that the scheme is well implemented for the existing sectors. But the scheme may also be expanded utilising the surplus funds to include more sectors going strictly by the efficacy and usefulness of doing so," the official said.

While the interim budget documents indicate that the toys and leather & footwear sector may be topping the list of items to be included in the PLI scheme, other Departments and Ministries have put forward their proposals as well for items such as chemicals & petrochemicals, furniture, home appliances and speciality bicycles.

"The interim budget specified that allocations would be made for the toy and leather sectors only after the Cabinet approves it. Other items are also under consideration. The Cabinet will decide," the official added.

TODAY'S PICK.

Stock to buy today: CDSL (₹1,873.8)

Akhil Nallamuthu
bl. research bureau

CDSL's (Central Depository Services (India) Ltd's) stock gained last week after falling in the preceding three weeks. It now appears to have resumed the broader uptrend after a corrective fall. The stock bounced off the support band of ₹1,725-1,750. It rallied above a trendline resistance and the closing price on Friday was above both 20 and 50-day moving averages. Besides, the breakout of the trendline has confirmed an ascending triangle pattern. This chart set up indicates that CDSL's share price is likely to appreciate to ₹2,080 in the short-term. So, traders can buy now at ₹1,874 and accumulate at ₹1,810. Keep initial stop-loss at ₹1,720. When the stock touches ₹1,950, tighten the stop-loss to ₹1,850. Raise the stop-loss further to ₹1,920 when CDSL crosses over ₹2,000-mark. Book profits at ₹2,080.

Soon, insurers may not need prior approval from IRDAI for listing shares

Naga Sridhar
Hyderabad

The Insurance Regulatory and Development Authority of India (IRDAI) is proposing to remove the requirement for prior approval for listing of shares of insurers on stock exchanges, subject to compliance of specified conditions.

In an exposure draft of IRDAI (Registration, Capital Structure, Transfer of Shares and Amalgamation of Indian Insurance Companies) Regulations, 2024, the insurance regulator proposed major changes including removal of requirement of prior-approval of the IRDAI for listing of shares of insurers on stock exchanges subject to compliance of specified conditions and provision for relaxation of lock-in period in case the insurer or the shareholder is in financial distress or to facilitate amalgamation of insurers or shareholders.

The proposed regulations also intend to provide more clarity on the capital structure of the applicants seeking new registration and applicability of requirement of prior-approval for transfer of shares.

STAKEHOLDER VIEWS

The regulator has invited views of various stakeholders and the general public on the proposed changes which can be sent on or before 23 February 23, 2024 to the regulator, according to a circular.

"As part of the comprehensive review of regulations being undertaken by the IRDAI to enhance the ease of doing business and also reduce compliance burden for stakeholders while also ensuring that interests of policyholders continue to be protected, insurance councils were asked to submit their recommendations," the regulator said.

The proposed changes in the norms were recommended by the Regulations Review Committee (RRC), the regulator said.

The IRDAI also plans to tweak norms pertaining to the corporate governance to provide a governance structure for insurers, responsibilities and functions of the board and the management of insurers so that they can recognise and meet the expectations of all stakeholders, particularly of policyholders, and ensure adoption of sound and prudent principles and practices for governance.

Nifty Seen Consolidating, Go Easy on Longs

Traders must be cautious while being aggressively bullish on the market this week after the recent swings, said technical analysts. NTPC, Tata Power, TCS, Infosys, Dr Reddy's, Maruti, Siemens, AB Capital, Exide, Coal India, and BSE could continue to witness strong buying interest, according to technical analysts

SUDEEP SHAH HEAD - TECHNICAL AND DERIVATIVE RESEARCH, SBI SECURITIES

Where is the Nifty headed this week?
Chart patterns suggest the 10-20 day exponential moving average (EMA) zone of 21,580-21,630 will act as a strong support going forward. Until spot Nifty holds 21,580, we may witness the continuation of the current momentum up to levels of 22,100-22,150. However, if the index slips below 21,500, profit booking up to 21,350-21,300 could be witnessed. Weekly options data coupled with cooling off in India VIX suggests possible consolidation for Nifty within the 21,550-22,100 range for the upcoming week.

What should investors do?
We expect IT, power, CPSE, oil & gas, and auto to outperform, while Bank Nifty could continue its underperformance against Nifty and other sectoral indices. With the dollar index witnessing an uptick up to 103.90 levels, traders must exercise caution on over-leveraged long positions in metal stocks as there could be pressure witnessed at higher levels given the negative correlation between the dollar index and commodities. Positive trade set-up is visible in select large-cap names such as NTPC, Tata Power, TCS, Infosys, Maruti and Siemens. On the mid-cap front, stocks like AB Capital, Exide, Coal India, BSE, Engineers India, IICI, COX and NRB Bearings could continue to witness strong buying interest.

MEHUL KOTHARI DWP - TECHNICAL RESEARCH, ANAND RATHI INVESTMENT SERVICES

Where is the Nifty headed this week?
Based on the derivatives data we don't expect any major crack in the markets if there is a bigger cut, then the markets might not sustain at lower levels. On the technical front, Nifty registered a new high of 22,126, and that makes it a double top. Thus, a close above 22,126 in February might result in a new round of rally for the markets. Investors and traders can go for aggressive bets only above the same. Meanwhile, on the downside, 21,500 can be a zone for some staggered buying in the coming week.

What should investors do?
Traders are advised to stay light from here on with regard to long positions. In the case of individual stock opportunities, strict stop losses should be followed on the downside, especially in this small and midcaps. At this point, we like Dr Reddy's with a time frame of 2-3 months. The stock was consolidating over many weeks near its life high, and it has now confirmed a breakout, which resembles a bullish cup and handle pattern. Thus, traders are advised to buy Dr Reddy's in the range of ₹6,040-5,960 with a stop loss of ₹5,520 on a closing basis for an upside target of ₹6,720 and ₹6,960 in the coming 1-3 months.

SAMEET CHAVAN TECHNICAL ANALYST, ANGEL ONE

Where is the Nifty headed this week?
Friday's candle shows a formation that resembles a 'Shooting Star' pattern at a new all-time high. This has a negative implication once prices start trading below the low of the candle, i.e. 21,805, and certainly casts doubt on bullish prospects. Although prices seem range-bound, caution is advised for traders due to a complete nosedive in financial space, which proves to be a spoilsport once again. Traders are advised to avoid complacent long bets, and ideally, any bounce towards 22,000-22,100 should be considered to exit long positions. The primary up trend will resume only once Nifty closes above 22,100 comfortably. Conversely, immediate support is identified at 21,650, followed by 21,430, with a breach potentially triggering further weakness in the near term.

What should investors do?
With Friday's strong surge above ₹70, Latent View is about to break out from the congestion zone. We recommend buying for a target of ₹528 with a strict stop loss of ₹459.80. Jubilant FoodWorks has not only breached key price swings but is below the key moving averages like 89-day EMA and 200-day SMA. In addition, the 'RSI-Smoothened' oscillator has dipped below the 15 mark, indicating significant underperformance of the prices. It can be sold for a target of ₹474 with a stop loss of ₹512.

Borrowing Costs Likely to Fall After Govt Cuts its Take

INTERIM BUDGET MOVE to have twin benefits of lowering debt market rates while also boosting credit growth for lenders

Bhaskar Dutta
Mumbai: Raising money through bonds for corporates is set to turn much cheaper as the government's decision to announce a lower-than-expected quantum of gross borrowing for the next fiscal year is seen pushing down sovereign bond yields, which determine the cost of borrowing for companies.

market borrowing represents the actual amount of weekly supply of government bonds hitting the market. "The lower government borrowings are likely to have the twin effect of higher availability of credit for the private sector and lower borrowing costs. This should help support credit growth for financiers. Growth of the infrastructure financing portfolio of banks, which has been muted at -5.8% year-on-year till December 2023, should see an uptick in the coming fiscals," said Krishnan Sittaraman, chief rating officer at CRISIL Ratings.

Yields on corporate bonds — which represent borrowing costs — have already declined 7-30 basis points since the budget, debt capital market executives said. The benefit of cheaper borrowing is likely to be larger for highly rated corporate borrowers. In the current financial year, the government is slated to issue bonds worth ₹15.43 lakh crore against a gross haber were at ₹5 lakh crore, up from ₹3.9 lakh crore a year ago, the Reserve Bank of India said last month. Lower supply typically pushes down bond yields — a phenomenon that is likely to be accentuated next year due to the inclusion of Indian government bonds in a global bond index. Following the budget announcement, the yield on the 10-year benchmark government bond slid 10 basis points to a seven-month low of 7.04% and market players expect a sharper fall going ahead. Bond prices and yields move inversely.

While presenting the interim budget for FY25 on Thursday, finance minister Nirmala Sitharaman announced a gross market borrowing of ₹11.3 lakh crore for the next fiscal year, much lower than market expectations of around ₹15.3 lakh crore. The gross cost of borrowing. Given that inflation is seen heading closer to the RBI's target of 4% and the likelihood of rate cuts in advanced economies in the coming months, the case for the Indian central bank to lower policy rates becomes stronger.

"Anticipated interest rate reductions by the Reserve Bank of India and an increase in passive inflows into the debt market, following India's inclusion in global bond indices, are poised to result in a lower cost of borrowing for the entire economy. This could catalyse private capex going ahead," said Rajani Sinha, chief economist at CareEdge Ratings. A turn towards a softer policy would also be accompanied by a reversal of tight liquidity conditions in the banking system — a major factor that has kept corporate borrowing costs elevated over the past few months.

The possibility of the RBI easing monetary policy in the second half of 2024 is another factor that is seen bringing down bond yields and the Mumbai: ICICI Securities said a pre-election rally in the stock market is on the cards with the Nifty expected to advance to 23,400 by June. This implies an upside of over 7% over the index's Friday closing of 21,853.80.

Public sector banks, IT, capital goods and power stocks could be among the top gainers in the run-up, it said.
"Empirically, in a general election year, Nifty has a tendency to bottom out in February-March, followed by a minimum 14% rally towards the election outcome in each of seven instances over past three decades," said the brokerage's analyst Dharmesh Shah, Nirmala Sitharaman and Vinayak Parmar in a note on February 1.
ICICI Sec expects Nifty to form a 'durable bottom' in the February-March period wherein 20,500-20,800 levels could be a strong support.
"Usual bull market corrections in Nifty are around 8% (multiple cycle average) followed by new highs," the analysts said. "Volatility from here on should be embraced as a buying opportunity."
The firm said the ratio of Nifty to Nifty500 indices is at the bottom of the cycle.
"Over two decades, this ratio bottomed out at 1 on two occasions, followed by large-cap performing in subsequent quarters," the analysts said.
