Vedanta seeks to boost funds for India delisting by $600 m

SUVASHREE GHOSH, BIJOU GEORGE & ANURAG JOSHI
Mumbai, September 11

Shareholders will be given the option to offer a price to tender their shares back to founder Anil Agarwal who's seeking to simplify his investments

VEDANTA RESOURCES IS in talks with banks for a further $600 million to finance the delisting of its Indian unit, according to people with knowledge of the matter.

The London-based commodities conglomerate has already secured $3.15 billion in loans and bonds to buy back the shares it doesn't hold in Vedanta.

The company would use the extra funds to cover any shortfalls for the proposed offer of the delisting, the people said, asking not to be identified because the discussions are private.

The company has been buffeted by volatile commodity prices because of weakened demand amid the coronavirus pandemic.

who's seeking to simplify his investments. The firm is in the final stages of arranging the additional funding lines as it awaits approval from the Securities and Exchange Board of India to go private, the people said. A spokesman for Vedanta declined to comment.

Shares in Vedanta erased losses after Bloomberg reported the funding plans and the stock was trading 1% higher at 2:12 p.m in Mumbai.

The additional $600-million loan could be for three to six months and would be backed by dividend income or cash accrued from Vedanta's cash-rich subsidiary Hindustan Zinc, the people said. Details of the deal are yet to be finalised and the plans could change, they said.

Govt proposes consumer right rules for quality supply of electricity

FE BUREAU
New Delhi, September 11

TO ENSURE QUALITY of power supply to consumers, the Union power ministry has proposed a set of performance parameters for electricity distribution companies (discoms), failing which these entities will have to pay compensation for power users.

To that end, the ministry has come out with a draft version of Electricity (Rights of Consumers) Rules, 2020 and has sought stakeholders' comments on the proposal by the end of this month.

As per the new rules, state electricity regulators will have to notify updated 'standards of performance' for discoms and specify compensation amounts that consumers would receive if the standards are not met.

have to make provisions that such requests can be done online, and the progress can be tracked through web-based systems. If the consumers receive electric bills with a delay of more than 60-days, they will be eligible for a rebate of up to 5%, as approved by respective state power regulators.

All new connections will have to be given smart or regular pre-paid meters. Consumers with smart pre-paid meters will have to be given access to their usage data on a real-time basis, and they should also have the option of purchasing the meters by themselves. State electricity regulators will have to allow self-meter reading by consumers, and photographs of such readings sent through mobile or email would be deemed valid.

As per the new rules, state electricity regulators will have to notify updated 'standards of performance' for discoms and specify compensation amounts that consumers would receive if the standards are not met.

consumers would receive if the standards are not met. The parameters for which consumers would be eligible for compensation include unsatisfactory supply duration, number of power cuts, time taken by discoms to provide new connections and replace defective meters.

"It is the right of the consumer to have minimum standards of service for supply of electricity from the distribution licensee as per the rules laid down," the draft of the rules said. Union power minister RK Singh had told FE in March that the government was planning to include consumer rights in the regulatory framework, improving upon the current, laxly-implemented 'standards of service' outlined by state power regulators.

The Centre has proposed that new connections and modification of existing connections should be provided by discoms within seven days of receiving requests for consumers. For other municipal areas the time allotted in 15 days and for rural consumers, it will have to be done within 30 days. Discoms will

South Eastern Railway's freight loading increases 8.7%

FE BUREAU
Kolkata, September 11

SOUTH EASTERN RAILWAY (SER) on Friday said its freight loading performance increased by 8.7% year-on-year in August after touching the last year's level in July.

In the first quarter this fiscal, SER's freight loading declined by 23.8% y-o-y to 31.34 million tonne (MT) from 41.12 MT in the corresponding period last fiscal. In July freight loading stood at 14.38 MT against 14.44 MT in the year-ago period.

"In July our freight loading performance was almost same compared to the last year. In August it was 8.72% higher at 14.58 MT, which was greater than our target. We are maintaining the recovery trend. This is very encouraging sign for us," SER general manager Sanjay Kumar Mohanty said.

"This financial year our target for freight loading was around 175 MT. Last month we increased the target to 176.51 MT. Given the increasing trend of loading, we are confident that SER will achieve this loading target as demands for goods and materials are rising," Mohanty said.
