INDUSTRY STRUCTURE AND DEVELOPMENTS

The Indian maritime industry is poised for significant growth, driven by strategic initiatives outlined in the Maritime India Vision 2030. Launched by the Hon’ble Prime Minister of India in March 2021, this vision serves as a comprehensive blueprint for the accelerated and coordinated development of the country’s maritime sector.

The Maritime India Vision 2030 was developed through extensive consultations with over 350 stakeholders, including ports, shipyards, inland waterways, trade bodies, associations, and legal experts. The Vision has identified over 150 initiatives aimed at boosting the sector across various dimensions, including port modernization, digitalization, inland water transport, shipbuilding, and sustainability.

These initiatives are expected to enhance India’s maritime infrastructure, improve operational efficiency, and position the country as a global maritime hub. As the government continues to implement these reforms, the Indian maritime industry is anticipated to see robust growth, creating new opportunities for companies like Sahara Maritime Limited. However, challenges such as port congestion, high logistics costs, and evolving environmental regulations remain key areas to address for the industry’s continued progress.

The global maritime industry in FY 2023-24 witnessed both opportunities and challenges as it navigated through the aftermath of the COVID-19 pandemic, geopolitical tensions, and fluctuating demand across various sectors. Global GDP growth remained modest, with advanced economies experiencing slower growth rates while emerging markets showed resilience. The shipping industry, in particular, experienced volatility due to fluctuating oil prices, changes in trade policies, and supply chain disruptions.

OPPORTUNITIES AND THREATS:

Opportunities:

- Optimizing Private Port Operations: Enhancements in the functionality and efficiency of private ports are creating avenues for increased private sector involvement and investment. Streamlined operations and expanded capacities at these ports are expected to reduce bottlenecks and improve overall trade efficiency.
- Strategic Government Programs: Initiatives such as Sagarmala and Bharatmala focus on improving port connectivity and logistics infrastructure. These programs aim to boost the competitive edge of Indian ports, enhance hinterland connectivity, and facilitate smoother cargo movement.
- Advancements in Digital Technology: The shift towards digitalization promises streamlined port operations through automation and real-time tracking. Enhanced data analytics and digital platforms are expected to improve decision-making processes and operational efficiency across the maritime supply chain.
- Compliance with Environmental Standards: The push for adherence to global environmental regulations presents opportunities for investing in green technologies and sustainable practices. Innovations such as cleaner fuels, emission reduction technologies, and eco-friendly vessel designs are becoming increasingly integral to industry operations.
- Expansion into Emerging Markets: The rise of emerging markets offers new avenues for trade and growth. Increased trade with these markets can drive demand for shipping services and open up new revenue streams for maritime companies.
- Infrastructure Development: Ongoing developments in port infrastructure and inland waterways are set to alleviate congestion and enhance logistics efficiency. Modernization projects, such as new port terminals and upgraded inland transport networks, will support the sector's growth trajectory.

Threats:

- Infrastructure Limitations: Persistent issues with inadequate infrastructure and port congestion may impact operational efficiency and extend turnaround times. Delays and inefficiencies at key ports could affect the timeliness of cargo deliveries and increase overall logistics costs.
- Crew Management Issues: The logistics of frequent crew changes and the demand for skilled maritime personnel can pose operational challenges. Ensuring the availability of qualified crew members and managing crew rotations effectively are crucial for maintaining operational continuity.
- Regulatory Changes: Fluctuations in trade policies and regulations can influence shipping routes, cargo volumes, and overall operations. Adapting to regulatory changes and ensuring compliance with evolving international standards are essential for mitigating potential disruptions.
- Inspection and Maintenance Requirements: Regular surveys, inspections, and servicing demands can lead to potential delays and increased operational costs. Ensuring timely maintenance and adhering to regulatory requirements are critical for maintaining vessel safety and performance.

- Security Concerns: Risks such as piracy, cyber threats, and geopolitical tensions pose ongoing challenges to maritime security and operational safety. Implementing robust security measures and safeguarding against potential threats are essential for protecting assets and ensuring safe operations.
- Geopolitical Tensions and Trade Sanctions: Political tensions and trade sanctions can lead to increased shipping costs, disruption of global trade, and financial risks for all parties involved. This can include financial institutions, shipowners, charterers, suppliers, insurers, ports, and cargo owners.

- identify and assess the risks of material misstatements of the financial statements, whether due to fraud or error, design and perform audit procedures responsive to those risks, and obtain audit evidence that is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion. Materiality is the magnitude of misstatements in the financial statements that, individually or in aggregate, makes it probable that the economic decisions of a reasonably knowledgeable user of the financial statements may be influenced. We consider quantitative materiality and qualitative factors in (i) planning the scope of our audit work and in evaluating the results of our work; and (ii) to evaluate the effect of any identified misstatements in the financial statements.

We communicate with those charged with governance regarding, among other matters, the planned scope and timing of the audit and significant audit findings, including any significant deficiencies in internal control that we identify during our audit.

Management Responsibility for Internal Financial Controls

The Company’s management is responsible for establishing and maintaining internal financial controls based on the internal control over financial reporting criteria established by the company considering the essential components of internal control stated in the Guidance Note on Audit of Internal Financial Control over Financial Reporting issued by the Institute of Chartered Accountants of India. These responsibilities include the design, implementation and maintenance of adequate internal financial controls that were operating effectively for ensuring the orderly and efficient conduct of its business, including adherence to company’s policies, the safeguarding of its assets, the prevention and detection of frauds and errors, the accuracy and completeness of the accounting records, and the timely preparation of reliable financial information, as required under the Companies Act, 2013.

Auditors’ Responsibility

Our responsibility is to express an opinion on the Company's internal financial controls over financial reporting based on our audit. We conducted our audit in accordance with the Guidance Note on Audit of Internal Financial Controls Over Financial Reporting (the “Guidance Note”) issued by ICAI and the standards on auditing prescribed under section 143(10) of the Companies Act, 2013, to the extent applicable to an audit of internal financial controls. Our audit involves performing procedures to obtain audit evidence about the adequacy of the internal financial controls system over financial reporting and their operating effectiveness. Our audit of internal financial controls over financial reporting included obtaining an understanding of internal financial controls over financial reporting, assessing the risk that a material weakness exists, and testing and evaluating the design and operating effectiveness of internal control based on the assessed risk. Meaning of Internal Financial Controls over Financial Reporting

A company's internal financial control over financial reporting is a process designed to provide reasonable assurance regarding the reliability of financial reporting and the preparation of financial statements for external purposes in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles. A company's internal financial control over financial reporting includes those policies and procedures that (1) pertain to the maintenance of records that, in reasonable detail, accurately and fairly reflect the transactions and dispositions of the assets of the company; (2) provide reasonable assurance that transactions are recorded as necessary to permit preparation of financial statements in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles, and that receipts and expenditures of the company are being made only in accordance with authorizations of management and directors of the company; and (3) provide reasonable assurance regarding prevention or timely detection of unauthorized acquisition, use, or disposition of the company's assets that could have a material effect on the financial statements.

Inherent Limitations of Internal Financial Controls over Financial Reporting

Because of the inherent limitations of internal financial controls over financial reporting, including the possibility of collusion or improper management override of controls, material misstatements due to error or fraud may occur and not be detected. Also, projections of any evaluation of the internal financial controls over financial reporting to future periods are subject to the risk that the internal financial control over financial reporting may become inadequate because of changes in conditions, or that the degree of compliance with the policies or procedures may deteriorate.

Opinion

In our opinion, the Company has, in all material respects, an adequate internal financial controls system over financial reporting and such internal financial controls over financial reporting were operating effectively as at March 31, 2024, based on the internal control over financial reporting criteria established by the company considering the essential components of internal control stated in the Guidance Note on Audit of Internal Financial Control Over Financial Reporting issued by the Institute of Chartered Accountants of India.
