Stock market today: Asian shares are mostly higher ahead of US inflation data and a US-China summit

TOKYO, NOV 14 --/ Asian shares were mostly higher on Tuesday ahead of potentially market-moving developments, including a US-China summit and data releases from the US, Japan and China.

Japan's benchmark Nikkei 225 gained 0.5 per cent to 32,757.44. Australia's S and P/ASX 200 advanced 0.6 per cent to 6,992.10. South Korea's Kospi added 1.1 per cent to 2,429.21. Hong Kong's Hang Seng dropped 0.4 per cent to 17,359.13 while the Shanghai Composite edged less than 0.1 per cent higher, to 3,047.13. "Asian stocks gained ground as investors awaited US inflation figures, hoping to confirm that interest rates have peaked. Meanwhile, positive geopolitical sentiments filled the backdrop as investors looked forward to anticipated talks between the US and China," Stephen Innes, managing partner at SPI Asset Management, said in a written commentary. China is due to release monthly economic indicators on Wednesday and Japan will announce its latest growth numbers. On Wednesday, Chinese leader Xi Jinping is set to meet with President Joe Biden on the sidelines of a Pacific Rim summit in California. It will be the first face-to-face encounter in a year between the leaders of the world's two biggest economies.

On Monday, Wall Street drifted to a mixed finish to open a week that could bring more action to financial markets, with several big reports on the calendar. The S and P 500 slipped 0.1 per cent to 4,411.55. The Dow Jones Industrial Average gained 0.2 per cent to 34,337.87, and the Nasdaq composite fell 0.2 per cent to 13,767.74. The profit reporting season for the summer is winding down, and most companies have again topped analysts' expectations. Later this week, Target, TJX and Walmart will report their results, and more attention may also be on what they say about upcoming trends than about the summer. The economy has remained strong, even though the Federal Reserve has hiked its main interest rate to its highest level since 2001 in hopes of stamping out high inflation. But worries remain about whether it can stay solid as the full effects of rate hikes make their way through the system. That's why so much attention will be on Tuesday's inflation report. The hope is that inflation will continue to cool from its peak in the summer of 2022, when it topped 9 per cent, and convince the Federal Reserve that no more hikes to rates are necessary. That could speed up the timeline for potential cuts to interest rates. Economists expect the report to show that consumers paid prices that were 3.3 per cent higher in October than a year earlier, down from September's inflation rate of 3.7 per cent.(PTI)

Hope to find 'landing point' that works for both in India-UK FTA: Jaishankar

LONDON, NOV 14 --/ The free trade agreement (FTA) is very much the focus of the India-UK relationship today and India is hopeful of finding a "landing point" in the negotiations that works for both sides, External Affairs Minister S Jaishankar has said.

At a special Diwali Reception organised by the High Commission of India at Westminster Central Hall near the Houses of Parliament here on Monday evening, Jaishankar addressed a large diaspora gathering during which he described the bilateral relationship with the UK as a "positive force" for the world. He also shared insights into the fast pace of technological advances and socio-economic development underway in India, calling on the UK-based Indian diaspora one of the largest in the world to spread the story of the new India.

"Today to realise the Agenda 2030, we are focusing on what is officially called an Enhanced Trade Partnership, in common terms it's called an FTA or free trade agreement. And that is today very much the focus of what the Indian and British systems are negotiating, and we hope that we will find a landing point that works for both of us," said Jaishankar.

"India and the UK have a long history, and a very complex history. What we are trying to do is to make history a positive force with our commonalities, shared practices and institutions to make history work for us," he said.

India and the UK have been negotiating a free trade agreement (FTA) since January last year with a target to significantly enhance the estimated GBP 36-billion bilateral trading partnership. The talks have undergone 13 rounds of negotiations, with officials hopeful of clinching a deal ahead of general elections in both countries scheduled for 2024. Jaishankar, who arrived in the UK over the weekend for a five-day visit, began his address by thanking British Prime Minister Rishi Sunak for taking the time to host him at 10 Downing Street on a busy Diwali day on Sunday. Referencing the UK government upheaval on Monday, he spoke of how he "really valued" that the newly appointed Foreign Secretary David Cameron elevated to the Cabinet in a surprise reshuffle by Sunak just hours before made time to meet him on day one of his new job even before he "addressed his own ministry".

"It was extremely satisfying to hear from him about the commitment and support for the relationship. We spent a lot of time talking about cultivating both," he said.

Jaishankar shared that he also met Cameron's predecessor and outgoing Foreign Secretary, new UK Home Secretary James Cleverly, whom he described as a "pillar of strength" for the bilateral relationship. Jaishankar noted: "There is a global significance for a stronger India-UK relationship.

Today, one of the biggest problems the world faces is somehow the manner in which globalisation has unfolded across borders in the last 30-odd years. It has led to a concentration of production in certain limited geographies. "The India-UK relationship can actually contribute to making India and UK stronger factors in contemporary technology, in greater manufacturing, in science and innovation, and much more relevant ways of modernising it can also promote pluralism, democracy, respect for diversity in the world because these are values and practices that we hold very dear."

The External Affairs Minister also flagged the "wonderful" diaspora, which he said acts as a "motivator" to enhance bilateral ties and meet the "enormous promise" of the relationship.

On the domestic front, he highlighted a series of schemes unfolded by Prime Minister Narendra Modi-led government and pointed to the "brand enhancement" of India with the Chandrayaan space mission as a sign of a country that is "dreaming big and executing big". (PTI)

Wholesale inflation at (-) 0.52 per cent in Oct; in negative territory for 7th month

NEW DELHI, NOV 14 --/ Wholesale price inflation remained in the negative territory for the seventh month in a row in October at (-) 0.52 per cent on easing prices of food items.

Experts said some near-term upside risks to the WPI inflation could emanate from volatile vegetable prices, uptrend in domestic prices of most food items as well as an unfavourable base. The wholesale price index (WPI)-based inflation rate has been in the negative zone since April and was at (-) 0.26 per cent in September, 2023. In October last year, WPI was at 8.67 per cent. "The negative rate of inflation in October, 2023, is primarily due to fall in prices of chemicals and chemical products, electricity, textiles, basic metals, food products, paper and paper products, etc. as compared to the corresponding month of previous year," the commerce and industry ministry said on Tuesday. A negative WPI inflation, technically termed as deflation, means that overall wholesale prices have been falling year-on-year. (PTI)
