Jubilant Q3 profit drops 35%, hurt by rising costs

By Deviatis
feetack@livemint.com

India's Jubilant Foodworks reported a nearly 35% fall in quarterly profit on Wednesday, with Domino's Pizza franchise's margins dented by higher expenses amid accelerated store expansion and elevated food costs.

Jubilant reported a profit of ₹2.79 crore (₹4.94 million) for the quarter ended 31 December, from a year-ago profit of ₹65,709 crore a year ago.

Wary of persistently high inflation in rent and food costs, budget-conscious Indian consumers have been gravitating towards value-for-money deals.

Jubilant, like other quick service franchises in India, has launched value meals to raise footfall in its restaurants and raise in more orders via delivery apps. It launched smaller, pizza priced at around ₹1 and lunch combinations for less than ₹2. It has been waiving delivery fees on its app orders.

As of February, it had not raised prices on its items for at least two years, despite cost inflation, to gain market share. While these measures aided top-line growth, profit margins have suffered. Revenue from operations for Q3 rose about 50% to ₹25.51 billion.

Same-store sales increased 12.7% year-on-year at its Domino's restaurants in India. They had declined 2.9% the previous year. Average daily spend in older restaurants rose 12% to nearly ₹86,000.

However, expenses surged 59.3% year-on-year fuelled by higher sequential store expansions and higher wage and food costs, dragging the core profit margin in the quarter down 163 basis points to 18.7% from last year.

US court puts on hold trial in Cognizant-L&T bribery case

Move follows US prez's executive order halting enforcement of Foreign Corrupt Practices Act

BENGALURU

Less than 24 hours after US President Donald Trump signed an executive order halting prosecutions of Americans accused of bribing foreign government officials, a New Jersey court put on hold pre-trial proceedings in a six-year-old case involving Cognizant Technology Solutions Corp.

The court was to determine if two former executives of Cognizant routed illicit payments through Larsen & Toubro to Indian government officials. The US Department of Justice's case against former Cognizant chief operating officer Gordon Colburn and former chief legal officer Steven Schwartz, which is alleged to involve bribery, is among the first to face uncertainty after the new order signed by Trump on 10 February. The court previously scheduled a proceeding for February 18. That will not go forward, Judge Michael E. Farber ordered on Tuesday. "In light of the recent executive order issued by the President, the US shall state its position as to the upcoming trial."

Court documents showed, the case was to begin on 3 March and pre-trial proceedings on 18 February. An email to US DOJ's chief of compliance and ethics, and email to Colburn and Schwartz lawyers on Tuesday did not elicit a response.

Trump halted enforcement of the Foreign Corrupt Practices Act, which, since coming into effect in 1977, prohibited US nationals and firms from bribing foreign officials overseas. FCPAs a tool to crack down on unscrupulous business actors.

Halting the enforcement of the law puts international stability at risk, said at least one anti-corruption watchdog. "Clipping the wings of DoJ's enforcement of the FCPA delivers a major blow to the fight against foreign bribery worldwide," Transparency International, the Berlin-based anti-corruption watchdog, said in a statement on Tuesday. "It risks undermining decades of progress in tackling cross-border corruption and puts international stability at risk. This pause will work when some of the company's employees are alleged to have bribed Indian government officials in return for tender approvals to build Cognizant's office campuses in Chennai and Pune. The DoJ probe states that it has emails detailing how the bribe payments were orchestrated, many of which were marked to L&T executives, including Subrahmanyam, an L&T and Subrahmanyam are not parties to the ongoing US probe against the former Cognizant executives. Both L&T and Subrahmanyam have denied any wrongdoing.

Still, that has not stopped US officials from questioning Subrahmanyam. On 21 May 2018, Subrahmanyam was "formally interviewed" in Singapore by officials from the US Attorney's Office and the Federal Bureau of Investigation.

Greenpac's review plea in HNGIL case

Sanitary ware and glass container manufacturer AGI Greenpac sought a review of the Supreme Court's January ruling that quashed the approval of AGI's resolution plan for the bankrupt Hindustan National Glass & Industries Ltd (HNGIL), citing failure to get prior permission from the Competition Commission of India (CCI).

The SC earlier quashed AGI Greenpac's resolution plan. MINT

AGI requested a relaxation to get a CCI approval after the assent of CoC, which the RP granted. It filed a notice with the CCI on 27 September 2022 but due to high market share of the combined entity, CCI deemed the notice invalid and directed AGI to re-file it.

HNGIL, India's largest container glass manufacturer, was admitted into insolvency in October 2021 by NCLT. During the corporate insolvency process, AGI Greenpac, with a market cap of ₹5,000 crore, and Bermuda's Independent Sugar Corp, vied for the firm. Both had bought ₹200 crore to acquire HNGIL. Both resolution plans required approval from the Competition Commission of India.

AGI requested a relaxation to get a CCI approval after the assent of CoC, which the RP granted. It filed a notice with the CCI on 27 September 2022 but due to high market share of the combined entity, CCI deemed the notice invalid and directed AGI to re-file it.
