Bachchan's Gujarati debut in August release

Ahmedabad: Bollywood actor Amitabh Bachchan will make his Gujarati debut in comedy film, Fakt Mahilao Maate, slated for release on August 19.

Writer and director Jay Bodas said, "He plays a cameo, a Gujarati character. No matter how small the role is, people are going to love it."

The trailer shows the life of a 28-year-old middle-class man, Chintan Parikh, played by Yash Soni, and has Bachhan's narration.

"Through his voice, he takes a very satirical and humorous take on Yash Soni's character in the film," said Bodas. According to Anand Pandit, producer of the film, "His prefect Gujarati diction took me by surprise. Rhough I suggested that we could dub his portions, he said, 'you first see my work'." ENS

Cannot insist on relocating ICUs in existing hospitals: Fire agency to HC

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE AHMEDABAD, JULY 21

RESPONDING TO the Gujarat High Court's directives with respect to fire safety in hospitals, the Ahmedabad Fire and Emergency Services (AFES) Wednesday told the court that relocating ICUs "cannot be insisted" in the hospitals having ICUs as it requires structural changes in the existing premises.

The high court on June 30, while hearing a public interest litigation on fire safety, had directed the state "to take immediate steps" to ensure compliance of its detailed order of December 2020 which had issued a number of directions to ensure fire safety in "hospitals, especially for the ICUs".

In the order dated December 15, 2020, a division bench of the HC had directed that ICU should preferably be located "only on the ground floor", have alternate exits wide enough to roll the beds out in the event of necessity.

The court had also issued directives such as monthly servicing of heavy load equipment such as ventilators and air conditioners, and that glass facades of the hospital buildings "should not be permitted in any event", with such facades removed forthwith.

The bench had also held that certain officers should be fixed with accountability and respon-

The AFES, in its affidavit dated July 20 and filed through its in-charge chief fire officer Jayesh Khadia, submits that "in the new hospital building, which would be constructed hereinafter, the above-referred condition (of locating ICUs in the ground floor) can be observed."

The affidavit also submits that with respect to the issue of glass facades, "it is observed by the officer of the fire department of the corporation that in most of the hospitals having ICU within city limit of Ahmedabad, the staircase are not covered by glass facades" and henceforth, at the time of issuance of fire NOC, fire department officer "would see to it that the hospital is having adequate approach of the fire-fighting equipment and machineries and only after examining such aspects, the fire NOC would be issued.

With respect to fixing accountability and responsibility of officers, AFES submitted that responsibility and/or accountability to anybody with respect to an incident which is result of an accident," since occurrence of fire is a result of an "unwarranted accident and such accident can take place even in the building which is having valid fire NOC." The HC is due to take up the PIL for further hearing on Friday, July 22.

Meanwhile, Ahmedabad Hospitals and Nursing Homes Association (AHNA) had, on July 19, opposed notices issued to health establishments by AFES along with the estate department of AMC, seeking compliance of Gujarat HC's December 15, 2020 directives. AHNA had announced that they will be forced to shut down their ICUs if these "unscientific directions"

EC officials on 2-day state visit ahead of polls

AVINASH NAIR AHMEDABAD, JULY 21

IN PREPARATION for the Gujarat Assembly elections, a team of Election Commission officials will visit the state Friday and Saturday, official sources said Thursday.

The team will participate in two workshops related to First-Level Checks (FLC) of Electronic Voting Machines (EVMs) and Electoral Rolls where state government officials including district collectors will participate.

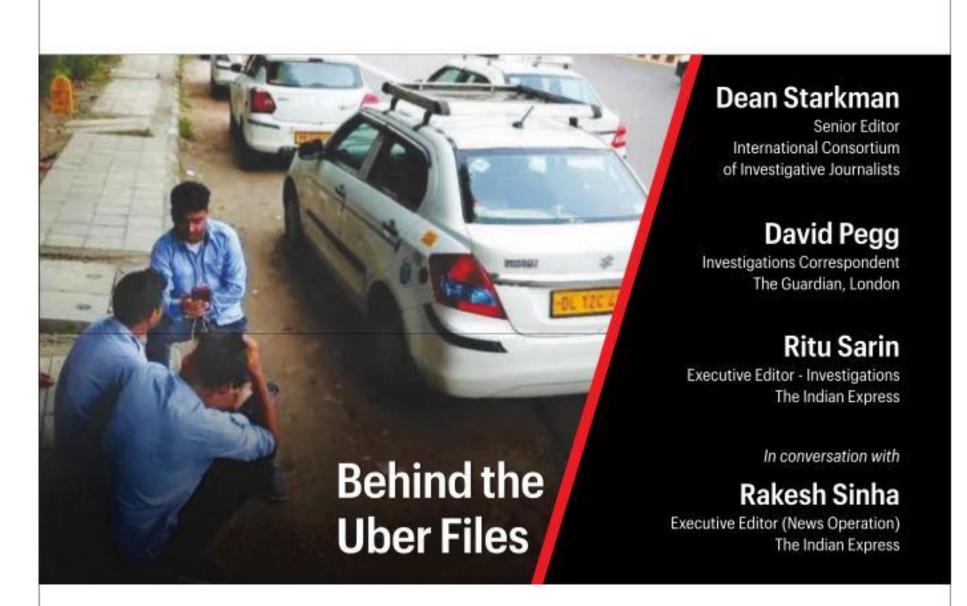

"There are two workshops. One is for EVMs and the second is for Electoral Rolls. On the first day, training for EVMs will be held for 22 districts," P Bharathi, Chief Electoral Officer of Gujarat, told The Indian Express.

These 22 districts will be conducting FLCs from August 1 onwards. The Election Commission had earlier scheduled the FLCs for EVMs and VVPATs for all districts on July 11 but was cancelled due to heavy rain and flood situation. Subsequently, FLCs for 11-odd districts were held in July 15.

"On Saturday, all district collectors will participate in the workshop for electoral rolls," Bharathi added. The EC is scheduled to organise a special voter enrollment drive from August 1, based on which the electoral rolls will be finalised.

The EC has already stated that those who turn 18 years on October 1 can enroll themselves and will be eligible to cast votes during the upcoming assembly polls. The final electoral list that will be used in Gujarat elections will be finalised on October 1.
