Chopra strikes gold

Not the biggest or bulkiest of throwers, he relied on speed to generate power in his throws. Second in the starting for the final, the Indian threw down the gauntlet in a tough field with a massive throw of 87.03 m.

"That was our strategy," his coach Klaus Bartoliz said. "We wanted to put pressure on the rest of the field strategy and the only way we could do that was by throwing big."

It was one of those rare days when everything aligned perfectly for Chopra. He looked calm and relaxed, but he had an energy drink just before his turn came and announced his intentions. With the second throw, he went farther, recording 87.58 m.

Chopra being way ahead of the field was not the biggest surprise. He had done that during the qualifying round as well but with the weather a lot clearer but equally humid on Saturday, it was expected officers, including the sport's current biggest star Johannes Vetter, would raise his game.

Vetter was the outright favourite to win gold, having recorded throws of 90-plus metres for that. But he had been having troubles with his technique and had complained about the track being slippery. Vetter didn't look comfortable during the final as well, struggling to get a proper grip on the surface and slipping multiple times. After a first attempt of 82.52 m, he turned over his ankle and slipped in his next throw. His third throw, like the second, was also a foul.

With the world's best javelin thrower in the last 12 months out of the fray, others struggled to come close to Chopra's effort. The next best throw, by Czech Republic's Jakub Valdecich, was almost a metre short and the bronze medal winner, Vitezslav Berezny was a good 2.14 m behind the Indian.

"The plan was just to go after my personal best. I knew if I matched that, I would be on the podium," Chopra said. He did finish on the podium, on the top too. When he was presented the medal, Chopra held it firmly, planted a kiss and put it around his neck. And as the national anthem played out in this gigantic stadium, he heard up. The only time in the night he seemed overawed.

"It feels unbelievable. It is a first in athletics. It was a good. We have just one gold in other sports," the 23-year-old said after winning. "This is our first Olympic medal for a very long time, and in athletics it is the first time there has been a gold, so it's a proud moment for me and my country." Asked if he was surprised to win gold which also featured German great Johannes Vetter, he said, "In the qualification round I threw very well so I knew I could do better in the final. (But) I didn't know it would be gold but I am very happy."

Applauding his effort, President Kovind described it as an "unprecedented" achievement which will prove to be an inspiration for the youth of this country. Congratulating Chopra, Prime Minister Modi said his performance will be remembered for ages. Welcome to the club, Bhirwa wrote. "Welcome to the club - a much needed additional extremely proud. I am so delighted for you!"

9.75 crore farmers to get over ₹19,500 cr

The current payment to be transferred Monday is for August-November. The States first upload farmers' data in the public finance management system, a platform that auto verifies bank accounts and authenticates Aadhaar details of beneficiaries, and then sends the data to states for physical signatures.

"The support will aid farmers partially meet the expenses on fertilisers and pesticides in ongoing kharif sowing season that will complete by end of next month," said an agriculture ministry official. Prime Minister Narendra Modi will interact with farmer beneficiaries during the event of 'Beating the drought' and will also address the nation.

After winning state assembly poll for third consecutive term, chief minister Mamata Banerjee agreed to join PM-KISAN scheme as West Bengal was the only state that had implemented. While about seven lakh farmers in the state received the benefit for the first time in May, getting together two instalments totalling ₹4,000 each, as many as 10 lakh farmers are expected to receive the benefit Monday as registration has increased substantially in past three months.

Home buyers now look beyond metros

Data analysed from financial pages of the top seven listed real estate companies showed that they were gearing up to launch around 72.5 MSF of residential space within the next one to two years. Apart from the top seven cities, they are also zeroing in on major tier-II and -III towns. At least 70-75% (64.75-69.40 MSF) of this supply may be launched in FY22, it added.

An analysis of numbers from previous financial years indicates a steady annual growth in launches. Despite Covid-19 in FY21, the total new launches by the top seven listed players rose 11% to ₹720 crore from ₹645.38 crore in FY20 to about 31.37 MSF in FY21.

The consultancy analysed data from Brigade Enterprises, Godrej Properties, Kotte-Pati, Mahindra Lifespace Developers, Prestige Estates, Paravankara and Sobha.

The current expansion beyond metros is driven by improved economic growth, infrastructural developments, lower cost of living and more attractive real estate prices in these cities. However, it is the new work from home (WFH) dynamic which has worked best over. Demand is also changing as they continue to attract migrant professionals," Puri explained.

By local special was dominated by local players will soon be over. Demand is also changing projects by leading developers, so their expansion into such pipeline clearly indicates that strong, listed developers will continue to dominate the new residential supply and accelerate their market share gain, Anarock pointed out.

Robust housing sales by the top seven listed players in previous financial years have provided a huge confidence booster. Data indicated that these firms cumulatively sold around 32.61 MSF of housing in FY21 despite the pandemic, 7% growth over FY2020, when about 30.45 MSF area was sold, Anarock Property Consultants chairman Anuj Puri said.

"Covid has driven a lot of latent demand into tier-II and -III cities. This demand is driven by improved economic growth, infrastructural developments, lower cost of living and more attractive real estate prices in these cities. However, it is the new work from home (WFH) dynamic which has worked best over. Demand is also changing as they continue to attract migrant professionals," Puri explained.

By local special was dominated by local players will soon be over. Demand is also changing projects by leading developers, so their expansion into such cities is a given, he emphasised. Among the major markets, Bengaluru is the most preferred with the realty firms, while the Mumbai Metropolitan Region (MMR) and Chennai are part of five listed developers' expansion plans, Anarock said.

Kochi, Coimbatore, GIFT City, Hosur, Thrissur and Trivandrum appear prominently in the expansion plan of these players into tier-II and -III cities, it added.

Hyundai leads where it matters most: SUV sales

The Korean automaker has been riding high on diesel models and features on the dashboard it offers to customers, as also the increasing usage of personal mobility after the pandemic.

"Post the pandemic, an increasing number of people are travelling with their families in personal vehicles even for long distances and especially for vacations," Gang said. "Earlier if vacation holiday on a self-drive was limited to 200-300 km - and beyond that it was via train or flight - now

73% and Ultra Pradesh 67%," Garg said. "What has helped is that we are able to offer the diesel option at a marginally higher price than the petrol; for example, in the Alcazar, the price difference between petrol and diesel models is in the range of ₹15,000-25,000, even after BS6. So, our focus on diesel has been paying off."

Going forward, analysts said Hyundai will be able to maintain the lead in SUVs at least in this calendar year, but point that Maruti Suzuki could bounce back. Gaurav Vangal, associate director, IHS Markit, told FE that in CY22 both the automakers could be competing neck and neck in SUVs. "Maruti Suzuki is expected to launch the new Vitara Brezza early next year and an all-new seven-seater SUV after that, which will give a new momentum to its SUV sales. At the same time, Hyundai is expected to get into the SUV segment with a new product early next year, and that may further increase its SUV sales," he said.

The more expensive car, the higher is the diesel engine sales percentage. For example, in Hyundai Alcazar - launched in June and priced at ₹16.3 lakh to ₹20.14 lakh, more than Creta's ₹10.16 lakh to ₹17.78 lakh - are the diesel variants' sales share 65%. As far as bookings of the Alcazar are concerned, in Madhya Pradesh 92% are for diesel variants, in Rajasthan it is 82%, Andhra Pradesh: 81%, Gujarat
