DUBAI: Food-delivery workers protesting meager pay and inadequate protections have walked off the job across Dubai, their company confirmed Tuesday, marking the second strike in as many weeks in an emirate that outlaws dissent. The foreign workers contracted by Talabat, the Middle East unit of Delivery Hero, began their walkout late Monday after organising on social media.

Sri Lanka's Attorney General on Tuesday asked the police chief to conduct an urgent and full-fledged investigation into the violent clashes between anti- and pro-government protesters in the country that has killed at least eight people and injured over 200 others.

Violence erupted in Sri Lanka on Monday after supporters of former prime minister Mahinda Rajapaksa attacked peaceful anti-government protesters demanding his ouster over the country's worst economic crisis that led to acute shortages of staple food, fuel and power. Over 200 people have also been injured in the violence in Colombo and other cities.

Rajaratnam has advised the Inspector General of Police (IGP) to conduct a full-fledged investigation into the incidents of unlawful interference into the people's constitutional rights, the circumstances that led to them; and, the consequent commission of penal offences in the process, News First news portal reported.

In a letter to the IGP, the Attorney General said that as the incident in metropolitan Colombo triggered sporadic acts of violence of serious nature involving people and their property all over the country, he advised the police chief to further investigate the aftermath of the incidents, the report said. He also urged the IGP to complete the investigation on an urgent priority basis.

Slain photojournalist Danish Siddiqui to get 2nd Pulitzer

AGENCIES / New York

Slain photojournalist Danish Siddiqui is among four Indians honoured with the prestigious Pulitzer Prize 2022 in the feature photography category. Siddiqui and his colleagues Adnan Abidi, Sanna Irshad Mattoo and Amit Dave from the Reuters news agency won the award, announced on Monday, for images of Covid's toll in India that balanced intimacy and devastation, while offering viewers a heightened sense of place, according to The Pulitzer Prizes website. Their work was moved from the breaking news photography category by the judges. Siddiqui, 38, was on assignment in Afghanistan last year when he died. The award-winning journalist was killed in July last while covering clashes between Afghan troops and the Taliban in Spin Boldak district of Kandahar city.

This is for the second time that Siddiqui has won the Pulitzer Prize. He was honoured with the prestigious award in 2018 as part of the Reuters team for their coverage of the Rohingya crisis. He had extensively covered the Afghanistan conflict, the Hong Kong protests and other major events in Asia, Middle East, and Europe.

Russia pounds Odessa with hypersonic missiles

AGENCIES
Zaporizhzhia (Ukraine)

Russia pounded away at Ukraine's vital southern port of Odessa, Ukrainian officials said Tuesday, as they announced they found the bodies of 44 civilians in the rubble of a building in the northeast that was destroyed weeks ago. The bodies were found in a five-story building that collapsed in March in Izium, about 120 kilometers from the city of Kharkiv, which has been under sustained Russian attack since the beginning of the war in late February.

Earlier, the Ukrainian military said Russian forces fired seven missiles a day earlier from the air at the crucial Black Sea port of Odessa, hitting a shopping center and a warehouse. One person was killed and five were wounded.

Ukraine alleged at least some of the munitions used dated back to the Soviet era, making them unreliable in targeting.

Ukrainian, British and American officials have warned that Russia is rapidly expending its stock of precision weapons and may not be able to quickly build more, raising the risk of more imprecise rockets being used as the conflict grinds on. That could result in wider damage and more civilian deaths.

$195 mn for Warhol's iconic Monroe portrait

AGENCIES / New York

Andy Warhol's 'Shot Sage Blue Marilyn' - a portrait of iconic American actress Marilyn Monroe - has sold for a whopping USD 195 million and set a record for the most expensive artwork by a US artist sold at an auction.

The 1964 portrait auctioned on Monday shows Monroe in vibrant close-up - hair yellow, eye-shadow blue, and lips red - on a turquoise background.

According to Christie's auction house in New York, where the sale took place, Warhol's portrait is the most expensive piece from the 20th century ever auctioned, as per the NY press news.

The previous record-holder was another modern master, Jean-Michel Basquiat, whose 1982 painting 'Untitled' of a skull-like face sold for a record USD 110.5 million at Sotheby's in 2017.

The identity of the buyer remains unknown as the auction house said that an unnamed buyer made the purchase Monday night. Following the announcement of the auction of this magnificent portrait last year, the estimates were for as much as $200 million. Alex Rotter, chairman of Christie's 20th and 21st-century art department said, "It's an amazing price.

The proceeds of the portrait sale will go to the Thomas and Doris Ammann Foundation Zurich. This is the foundation which put the painting up for auction. The foundation aims to help children with health care and educational programs.
