RBI's warning on bad loans pulls down banking stocks

Only a few stocks attractive from a medium-term perspective, say analysts

SHREEPAD S AUTE
Mumbai, 27 July

The Reserve Bank of India (RBI)'s financial stability report (FSR) released last weekend, underlining the potential balance sheet stress for banks amid the Covid-19 crisis, impacted investor sentiment on Monday.

With a 3.6 per cent fall, the Nifty Bank index traded below its 200-day moving average. Not only did it underperform the leading market indices, but was also the biggest loser among sectoral indices. Banking stocks were the key reason for the Sensex falling 0.5 per cent on Monday. Though the asset quality stress was expected, the same being highlighted by the RBI was crucial.

Among other key developments over the weekend, Aditya Puri, managing director of HDFC Bank, selling most of his shares before his retirement in October and ICICI Bank's June 2020 quarter (Q1) results showing higher moratorium also affected sentiment towards banking stocks.

According to the FSR, under the scenarios ranging from baseline to very severe stress, the banking industry's non-performing assets (NPA) ratio may go up to 12.5-14.7 per cent in FY21, from 8.5 per cent in FY20. Banks' common equity tier-1 (CE1) capital ratio may decline to 10.7-9.4 per cent, from 11.7 per cent in FY20, because of the economic slowdown led by the Covid-19 pandemic, the report said.

Asset quality uncertainty remains a key challenge not only for banks but also for non-banking financial companies (NBFCs). The regulator published the report on Friday last week after market hours.

Prakash Agarwal, head-financial sector ratings at India Ratings, said: "The RBI's bad loan indications are in-line with our NPA estimates of around 5.5 per cent incremental NPAs in FY21 due to the pandemic." Though the moratorium from March to August has masked banks' overall slippages, the actual asset quality will be known from September onwards, especially in the December and March quarters, he added.

According to the FSR, almost half the system's (NBFCs and banks) loans had availed the moratorium as of April 2020. Though the recent moratorium data, after June 2020 quarter results, from banks and NBFCs shows easing of the moratorium book, it offers little comfort.

Mona Khetan, analyst at Dolat Capital, said: "Lower moratorium does not necessarily mean banks' or lenders' portfolio stress has come down to some extent." In fact, according to Kotak Institutional Equity, "It would be imperative to highlight that the definition of loans under moratorium is non-standardised across the industry." This further supports the point of lack of clarity of asset quality stress.

Stress is expected to be higher from sectors, such as tourism and hospitality, construction, and real estate — the three sectors identified as the worst-hit by the pandemic.

Notably, 60-65 per cent of loans to MSMEs struggling under the current situation were under the moratorium, as of April 2020. However, Khetan said: "Though specific sectoral concentrations (MSME, commercial vehicles, real estate) would impact asset quality, underlying risk management practices would hold a higher relevance in tiding through the current situation." Thus, FY21 would show the robustness of the risk management system.

Agrawal said while there are near-term challenges, "we believe banks have satisfactory solvency position". Some experts see a pick-up in credit growth. According to Dhanaanjay Sinha, director and head of institutional research at Systematix group, "Some indicators, such as currency holding, rising power consumption, and government spending do suggest that credit growth will pick up hereon."

Investors have been advised to stick to quality and top names. Some experts hinted that from a medium-term perspective, some banks are available with attractive valuations. HDFC Bank and ICICI Bank are some analysts' top picks in the banking space.

Indices slip on negative global and domestic cues

PRESS TRUST OF INDIA
Mumbai, 27 July

Equity indices nursed losses after a choppy session on Monday, weighed down by banking stocks which wilted under intense selling pressure on concerns over their asset quality amid the coronavirus.

After starting off the session on a positive note, the Sensex got caught in a downward spiral and slumped over 500 points from the day's peak. It managed to recover some lost ground and finally settled at 37,934.73, showing a loss of 194.17 points or 0.51 per cent.

Likewise, the broader Nifty closed 62.35 points or 0.56 per cent lower at 11,131.80.

Banking counters led the losses on the Sensex chart, with ICICI Bank, HDFC Bank, Axis Bank, IndusInd Bank and SBI dropping as much as 6.11 per cent. On the other hand, Asian Paints, HCL Tech, Infosys, TCS, Ultratech Cement, and Tata Steel were among the prominent gainers, spurring up to 3.90 per cent.

Asian shares ended mixed on Monday amid concerns over growing US-China friction and fresh coronavirus cases in China and South Korea.

"Indian benchmark indices ended a volatile day in the red, following negative global cues and domestic uncertainties. Global markets were impacted because of rising US-China tensions and suspected second wave of virus infections," said Vinod Nair, head of research at Geojit Financial Services.

Use UPI Autopay facility to make small payments

Customers and merchants can now enable recurring e-mandate using any UPI app for recurring payments

BINDISHA SARANG

The National Payments Corporation of India (NPCI) has recently launched the Unified Payments Interface (UPI) AutoPay for recurring payments. The process doesn't require several layers of authorisation, thereby making it simpler for consumers to make small payments.

UPI transactions hit an all-time high of 1.34 billion in June, with transactions of over ₹2.61 trillion clocked in June alone.

Features:

This facility gives both the customer and the merchant the ability to set up autopay for recurring payments. For instance, customers and merchants can enable recurring e-mandate using any UPI application for recurring payments, such as mobile and electricity bills, entertainment and over-the-top subscriptions, insurance, equated monthly instalment payments, and mutual funds loan payments.

Limit:

Mandar Aagashe, founder and managing director (MD), Sarvatra Technologies, says: "Only if the amount exceeds ₹2,000 will you have to execute the UPI PIN."

If it's less than ₹2,000, you can simply set it and never have to worry about a missed bill again. This is part of UPI 2.0 - the updated version of the instant payments system by NPCI. The e-mandate can be set instantly.

Until now, customers needed to visit the branch or call the bank executive home and submit a form for electronic clearing service (ECS) or National Automated Clearing House mandate.

Harshil Mathur, chief executive officer (CEO) and co-founder of Razorpay, says: "With consumers opting for contactless payments in times of Covid, the UPI has turned out to be the preferred payment mode for many." You can also pause the mandate and restart it later.

There is no upper limit to the number of UPI mandates you can add. While UPI doesn't have any charges, some banks have now started charging when you use the UPI service: it's between ₹2.50 and ₹5 per transaction after the free threshold is breached.

Risks:

Aagashe adds: "If you get a request from an unknown biller, even for a small amount, do not accept it blindly or share the PIN. Nobody should ask for a PIN in the first

HOW TO SET UP UPI AUTOPAY

■ You have to authenticate your account through UPI PIN, which you created when you made the UPI account

■ You can create e-mandate through UPI-enabled bank ID or QR Scan to choose biller

■ Choose if it's one-time, and subsequent frequency of payment and amount

■ Frequency can be daily, weekly, fortnightly, monthly, bimonthly, quarterly, half-yearly, and yearly

■ Use 'mandate' section, through which you can create, approve, modify, pause as well as revoke auto-debit mandate

■ Mandate section will also allow you to view your past mandates for reference and record

place." Most frauds have happened due to disclosure of PIN. Remember, the merchant, too, can send a collect request and enable the autopay facility by setting up the UPI 2.0 feature. Rajesh Mirjankar, MD and CEO, Infrasoftware Tech, says: "This takes away the friction out of the equation. With every reduced conversation between the customer and the merchant, it enables greater digital velocity of the transaction."

Fact remains that customers have to be educated about the mandate and ensure they do not set up autopay for a problem recipient, or do not do due diligence. This is quite common in the case of ECS or small credit card payments for subscriptions.

Mirjankar says: "Ensure you are monitoring your transactions regularly and also keeping track of your banking messages. While setting up autopay, if you get a request from a merchant site, make sure the UPI is valid. For instance, when PM CARES was set up for Covid relief, fraudsters were trying to set up similar IDs like PMSCARES." Fraudsters may pretend to be merchants and send phishing emails or text messages.

Be doubly careful while approving the merchant's e-mandate.
