AXISCADES Honoured with Bombardier Diamond Supplier Award for Fourth Consecutive Year

Bengaluru, India, September 24, 2024: AXISCADES Technologies Limited, a leading end to end engineering and technology solutions provider, proudly announces that it has once again been honored with Bombardier's prestigious Diamond Supplier recognition for the fourth consecutive year. This accolade underscores AXISCADES' unwavering commitment as a key partner in delivering world-class engineering solutions that align with Bombardier's strategic objectives and high standards of quality. The award was presented at a ceremony held on September 16, 2024 in Montreal, Canada.

The Bombardier Diamond Supplier Program recognizes suppliers who consistently demonstrate excellence in operational performance and a commitment to continuous improvement. This repeated recognition highlights AXISCADES' enduring partnership with Bombardier and its ability to meet the industry's rigorous standards, even amidst global challenges.

Commenting on this development, Mr. Arun Krishnamurthi, Chief Executive Officer and Managing Director of AXISCADES Technologies Limited, stated: "Receiving the Bombardier Diamond Supplier Award for the fourth consecutive year is a tremendous honor. It is an ode to the relentless efforts and passion of our teams who constantly strive for excellence and exceed Bombardier's expectations. Our collaboration with Bombardier is built on a shared commitment to quality and innovation, and we take great pride in contributing to the success of their industry-leading business jets. This award reinforces our resolve to maintain the highest standards of operational performance while adapting to the evolving demands of the aerospace sector. We are proud to play a part in shaping the future of aerospace together alongside Bombardier."

AXISCADES' collaboration with Bombardier spans over 12 years covering niche areas of aerospace engineering. The continued recognition from Bombardier reaffirms AXISCADES' position as a trusted partner in the aerospace sector, committed to continuous enhancement of its processes and solutions for delivering critical engineering services across the entire product lifecycle.
