No spectrum auction for satcom services: Scindia

PRESS TRUST OF INDIA
New Delhi, November 7

A STRONG SIGNAL

■ Reliance Jio's Mukesh Ambani and Bharti Airtel's Sunil Mittal have sought the auction route

■ Musk's Starlink and global peers like Amazon's Project Kuiper back an administrative allocation

■ Jio and Airtel feel that a pre-decided price will create an uneven playing field

JYOTIRADITYA SCINDIA,
COMMUNICATIONS MINISTER

THE SATELLITE SPECTRUM WILL, HOWEVER, BE NOT GIVEN FREE AND TRAI WILL FIX A PRICE FOR THE RESOURCE

given out on an assignment basis. In addition, if you look across the world today, I cannot think of a single country that auctions spectrum for satellite," Scindia said. Musk's Starlink and global peers like Amazon's Project Kuiper back an administrative allocation.

While Reliance Jio has been vocal about the need to allocate such spectrum through an auction to provide a level-playing field to legacy operators who buy airwaves and set up infrastructure like telecom towers, Mittal last month at an industry event articulated the need to use bidding for such allocation.

Jio and Mittal's Bharti Airtel feel that giving away the satellite broadband airwaves at a pre-decided price by the government will create an uneven playing field since they had to compete in an auction to get spectrum for their terrestrial wireless phone networks. The two telecom majors are vying for a piece of the satellite broadband segment as well.

Sonata Software sees up to $5-mn deals rising: CFO

PADMINI DHURVARAJ
Bengaluru, November 7

SONATA SOFTWARE IS seeing an increased demand in deal sizes ranging between $1 million and $5 million, supported by a substantial growth in AI-led projects, CFO Jagannathan Chakravarthi Narasimhan, told FE. "AI opportunities are plenty now... $1-5 million deals have improved. But the large deals are taking time," he said. "Every technology has a cycle, right?"

There is an uncertainty every day whether this technology is final or if another will replace it. But it will improve in the coming quarters," he added.

Alongside AI, the overall deal pipeline remains robust, particularly in new technology areas such as Microsoft Fabric, an analytics platform that combines data and analytics tools. "The global business order pipeline has improved and AI going up from $64 million to $67 million, and Microsoft Fabric improving from $46 million dollars to $91 million in Q2," he said.

THE LARGE DEALS ARE TAKING TIME. BUT EVERY TECHNOLOGY HAS A CYCLE, RIGHT?

SC's LMV ruling may drive up loss ratio of insurers

NARAYANAN V
Chennai, November 7

THE SUPREME COURT'S ruling permitting light motor vehicle (LMV) license holders to drive transport vehicles may result in a rise in motor insurance claims, likely driving up loss ratios for general insurers.

A Constitution Bench of the Supreme Court on Wednesday held that a person holding a LMV driving licence is also entitled to drive a transport vehicle with an unladen weight of up to 7,500 kg. The five-judge bench headed by the Chief Justice DY Chandrachud noted that there was no concrete evidence showing that LMV license holders were responsible for the increase in road accidents.

"Claims ratios will definitely increase, as previously rejected claims will now become admissible," said an industry executive who requested anonymity. The executive added that the Supreme Court has not introduced new law but merely clarified existing regulations. "In that case, claims repudiated in the past can now be opened for litigation again," they added.

The ruling also came amid stagnant growth in motor insurance premiums, with the non-life insurance industry grappling with sluggish vehicle sales and an absence of price revisions in third-party (TP) motor insurance.

Motor insurers are already contending with high loss ratios, as claims exceed premium revenues in this segment. ICICI Lombard General Insurance, the top motor insurer by premiums, reported a combined ratio of 111% for the June quarter, meaning the company spent ₹111 on claims and expenses for every ₹100 earned in premium. For public sector giants, the combined ratios were even higher, with The New India Assurance at 138% and United India Insurance at 131%.

A senior executive from a private insurer noted that the ruling may not directly impact finances but could influence pricing, as premiums for passenger cars differ from those for commercial vehicles based on factors like price, geography, usage, and risk.

New audit standards: ICAI refutes NFRA's 'legally void' view

MANU KAUSHIK
New Delhi, November 7

THE INSTITUTE OF Chartered Accountants of India (ICAI) has countered the view of the National Financial Reporting Authority (NFRA) that the former's recent modifications of the standards of quality management (SQMs) are "legally void, saying these included a bunch of standards, which have been historically regulated by ICAI. "We don't require NFRA's approval to modify them," said an ICAI source, requesting anonymity.

"The NFRA has say over 35 standards of auditing (SA) whereas 12 other standards come under ICAI's domain. The objective of these revised standards (SQM 1 and SQM 2) is to enhance and ensure quality at the firm level for all professional services rendered by firms. ICAI has diligently followed all due processes to update and revise the existing standards to align with global best practices," said the source.

ED raids offices of Amazon and Flipkart sellers

(Eds: Updating with minister Official sources said there have been several complaints from affected parties that certain sellers are being given preferential treatment by the e-commerce firms and even prices of the products were being directly or indirectly influenced by them.

As foreign direct investment (FDI) is not allowed in inventory-based e-commerce, firms like Flipkart and Amazon operate on the marketplace model. This means they do not keep their own inventory but offer an internet-based platform for sellers to sell their products. However, Amazon and Flipkart also have offline B2B stores where FDI is allowed. Through these stores they sell products to sellers, who then sell those products on their platform.

To check any FDI violation, the government has put certain additional curbs. For instance, the marketplace platform cannot have stakes in seller entities. Further, sellers on their platform cannot source more than 25% of goods from their B2B stores. The discounts have to be given by the sellers and not Flipkart and Amazon. Official sources said that ED inspected documents and took copies of some from the premises of about six such vendors.

Meanwhile, the Confederation of All India Traders (CAIT) welcomed the ED action. "The CAIT, along with several other trade bodies, has been raising these issues for the past few years. I welcome the ED action as a step in the right direction," CAIT secretary general and BJP MP from Delhi Praveen Khandelwal said in a statement.

He claimed the Competition Commission of India (CCI) had also issued penalty notices to Amazon and Flipkart, and their preferred sellers, for engaging in anti-competitive practices that have adversely affected small traders and kirana stores.

It has been reported in the past that the CCI is already looking into alleged anti-competitive ways of e-commerce companies.

The CAIT and mainline mobile retailers' association AIMRA had also petitioned the CCI sometime back seeking immediate suspension of operations of Flipkart and Amazon as they alleged that the companies were engaged in predatory pricing and burning cash to offer heavy discounts on products. Khandelwal said that the CAIT has urged the CCI and the ED to protect the businesses of small traders.

"This government is committed to ensuring that no entity can harm the trading community. In response to multiple complaints filed by the trading community regarding FDI violations and the anti-competitive practices of quick-commerce companies such as Blinkit, Swiggy and Zepto, we urge both the CCI and the ED to take swift action and prevent any further, irreparable damage to the businesses of small traders," he said in the statement.
