Subject: False information given by a youtube channel

Dear Sir/Ma'am,

This is to inform that the company came across a YouTube channel called business × 27 that has posted video about giving out information about the company and potential price hike. It mentions that the company has signed deals with Dmart Jio Mart etc and also that the company has secured an 85 cr deal with srilanka. We would like to inform that there are no such deals signed by the company. Further, we are unsure of the motive behind the video as even with a channel with 28.8k subscribers, this channel has only 2 videos both about the future of this company. This is to further inform that no such information is given by the company and the claims set forth in the video are false. Mentioned below is the link to the video for your reference.
