ANNUAL REPORT 2022-23

Disruptive Technologies can significantly impact industries and markets by replacing established technologies, processes, or business models. Technologies like AI, machine learning, Web3, and automation can significantly improve productivity by taking over mundane, repetitive tasks, allowing small business owners and employees to focus on more value-added activities.

Cutting out the middleman through e-commerce or direct-to-consumer models allows small businesses to capture more value from each transaction.

In summary, disruptive technologies can empower small businesses in numerous ways, from lowering operational costs to expanding market reach and fostering innovation. These technologies act as levelling tools, enabling smaller enterprises to compete directly with larger, more established competitors.

Dear Stakeholders,

Calsoft has been in the tech industry for three decades now. During 32 years in the industry and the journey has taught us plenty. Technology has become a great equaliser. Disruptive technologies like artificial intelligence, blockchain, cloud computing, and the Internet of Things (IoT) are no longer just for the Silicon Valley giants; they have become accessible and applicable for small businesses.

As we navigate these complex and rapidly changing times, I am increasingly excited and optimistic about the future. Particularly, the future of small businesses beckons our attention and action. Historically, small businesses have been the lifeblood of our economy, contributing to more than half of the GDP and creating a significant proportion of new jobs. However, they have always operated under constraints—limited resources, market access, and technical capabilities—that large corporations do not face to the same extent.

We are at a pivotal moment in history. Through the strategic deployment of disruptive technologies, we have the opportunity to elevate small businesses and redefine the ecosystem in which they operate. The future is about competition and collaboration, where small and large enterprises work together to create a more sustainable and equitable world.

Thank you for your continued trust and partnership as we embark on this exhilarating journey together.

Best regards,
Frederick Bendle
Chairman

Dear Team Members, Partners, and Esteemed Stakeholders,

As we stand at the intersection of tradition and innovation, I am filled with enthusiasm for the boundless possibilities that lie ahead. While large corporations often dominate headlines, we must never forget that small businesses are the engine that fuels our economy. They account for significant job creation, inject vitality into local communities, and are often the birthplace of ground-breaking ideas.

In recent years, we've witnessed an unprecedented acceleration in technological advancements. While these disruptive technologies have the potential to transform industries at large, they hold a unique promise for small businesses, a promise that allows them to supersede traditional limitations and grow exponentially.

As the CEO of Calsoft, I consider it our moral and strategic imperative to empower small businesses in harnessing these disruptive technologies. Over the next year, we will launch a series of initiatives aimed at knowledge-sharing, resource allocation, and community-building to assist small business owners in this journey.

As someone who started my own career in a small business, I understand the hurdles these enterprises face. With our technological expertise and market reach, we are uniquely positioned to help small businesses unlock their full potential. It is not merely an opportunity but an obligation to drive change and create a more equitable landscape where businesses, regardless of size, can compete, innovate, and thrive.

Thank you for being a part of this exciting journey. We can create a new paradigm of success and inclusion for all.

Warm regards,
Dr. M. Vasudevan

BIG DATA ANALYTICS EMPOWERS SMALL BUSINESSES

"You can't manage what you don't measure."

Big Data Analytics can be a powerful tool for small businesses, offering them a variety of ways to compete effectively with larger players in the market, optimize operations, and better understand their customers.

- Improved Decision Making
- Customer Insights
- Operational Efficiency
- Risk Management
- Competitive Advantage
- Real-time Analytics
- Marketing Optimization
- Product Development
- Cost Reduction
- Enhanced Customer Experience
- Talent Management

Even though Big Data Analytics can offer multiple advantages, small businesses often face challenges in adopting this technology due to limited resources and expertise. However, with the advent of affordable SaaS-based analytics tools and growing community support, even small businesses can now harness the power of Big Data Analytics.

Different branches of analytics that can be done with sets of big data include the following:

Comparative analysis

This examines customer behavior metrics and real-time customer engagement in order to compare a company's products, services and branding with those of its competitors.

Social media listening

This analyzes what people are saying on social media about a business or product, which can help identify potential problems and target audiences for marketing campaigns.

Marketing analytics

This provides information that can be used to improve marketing campaigns and promotional offers for products, services and business initiatives.

Sentiment analysis

All of the data that's gathered on customers can be analyzed to reveal how they feel about a company or brand, customer satisfaction levels, potential issues and how customer service could be improved.

According to an Atlassian Survey on the Future of Teamwork:

87%

of workers believe AI will change
their profession by 2020

76%

feel that a robot, algorithm, or AI-enabled device could perform at least "part" or "half" of their job.

Big data challenges

In connection with the processing capacity issues, designing a big data architecture is a common challenge for users. Big data systems must be tailored to an organization's particular needs, Calsoft undertaking that requires IT and data management teams to piece together a customized set of technologies and tools.

Other challenges in managing big data systems include making the data accessible to data scientists and analysts, especially in distributed environments that include a mix of different platforms and data stores. To help analysts find relevant data, data management and analytics teams are increasingly building data catalogs that incorporate metadata management and data lineage functions. The process of integrating sets of big data is often also complicated, particularly when data variety and velocity are factors.

Big data management and analytics

Ultimately, the business value and benefits of big data initiatives depend on the workers tasked with managing and analyzing the data. Some big data tools enable less technical users to run predictive analytics applications or help businesses deploy a suitable infrastructure for big data projects, while minimizing the need for hardware and distributed software know-how.

Big data can be contrasted with small data, a term that's sometimes used to describe data sets that can be easily used for self-service BI and analytics. A commonly quoted axiom is, "Big data is for machines; small data is for people."

Impacts of AI and Machine Learning on Healthcare

Big data, artificial intelligence and machine learning have been playing an active role in transforming industries for the better. Presently, the integrations have gone beyond just business analytics to more real-time experiences, like healthcare.

With the advent of technology and its rapid development in the late 20th and the 21st century, healthcare has seen shifts and amendments like it never did before.

Better disease diagnoses assays were invented, a better pipeline for drug and vaccine discovery was formulated, epidemiological studies boomed and people started getting the healthcare services they deserve. Currently, we entered a further morphed form of healthcare, which somewhat is driven immensely by technology.

AI and machine learning based approaches in research have prompted healthcare services to take a more analytically oriented treatment path. Additionally, a technology-based healthcare system also prevents the infrastructure from falling apart due to population burden.

Here are the top impacts of AI and Machine Learning on healthcare:

- Constant monitoring of vitals
- Faster disease diagnosis
- Vaccine discovery pipelines
- Medical image processing
- Personalized medicine
- Better health data and records
- Easy access to health options

Benefits of AI and Machine Learning based Healthcare

AI and machine learning-based solutions are increasingly prevalent in healthcare, tackling a wide variety of challenges from diagnostic imaging to drug discovery. Calsoft is focusing on these areas, they are entering a dynamic and impactful field with significant opportunities for innovation.

Some key applications of AI and machine learning in healthcare include:

- Predictive Analytics
- Drug Discovery
- Telemedicine

EMPOWERING

For a company like Calsoft, developing solutions in these areas could offer a meaningful contribution to healthcare and potentially result in commercially successful products. The key would be to collaborate closely with healthcare professionals to ensure that the solutions are solving real-world problems effectively

- i. are presented in accordance with the requirements of the Listing Regulations in this regard; and
- give a true and fair view in conformity with the recognition and measurement principles laid down in the applicable accounting standards and other accounting principles generally accepted in India of the net profit/loss and other comprehensive income and other financial information of the company for the quarter and year ended March 31, 2023.

Basis for Qualified Opinion

1. Balances appearing in Current Tax Asset (net) amounting to Rs.380.02 Lakhs under Current Assets in the Standalone Financial Results are subject to reconciliation. The effect of the non-reconciliation is not quantifiable.
2. The effect of Impairment loss for the said Investment is not quantifiable.

Consequent impact of non collection of receivables shall impair GST exemption on Exports which needs to be provided. The effect of the non-confirmation / non-reconciliation is not quantifiable.

We conducted our audit in accordance with the Standards on Auditing (SAs) specified under section 143(10) of the Companies Act, 2013 (the Act). Our responsibilities under those Standards are further described in the Auditor's Responsibilities for the Audit of the Standalone Financial Results section of our report. We are independent of the Company in accordance with the Code of Ethics issued by the Institute of Chartered Accountants of India and the ethical requirements relevant to our audit of the financial results under the provisions of the Companies Act, 2013 and the Rules thereunder. We have fulfilled our other ethical responsibilities in accordance with these requirements and the Code of Ethics. We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion.

Management's Responsibilities for the Standalone Financial Results

The statement of Standalone Financial Results has been prepared on the basis of the annual standalone financial statements. The Company's Board of Directors are responsible for the preparation and presentation of the financial results that give a true and fair view of the net profits/loss and other comprehensive income and other financial information of the company in accordance with the Indian Accounting Standards prescribed under Section 133 of the Act read with relevant rules issued thereunder and other accounting principles generally accepted in India and in compliance with Regulation 33 of the Listing Regulations. This responsibility also includes maintenance of adequate accounting records in accordance with the provisions of the Act for safeguarding the assets of the Company and for preventing and detecting frauds and other irregularities; selection and application of appropriate accounting policies; making judgments and estimates that are reasonable and prudent; and design, implementation and maintenance of adequate internal financial controls that were operating effectively for ensuring the accuracy and completeness of the accounting records, relevant to the preparation and presentation of the standalone financial results that give a true and fair view and are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

In preparing the standalone financial results, the Board of Directors are responsible for assessing the Company's ability to continue as a going concern, disclosing, as applicable, matters related to going concern and using the going concern basis of accounting unless the Board of Directors either intends to liquidate the Company or to cease operations or has no realistic alternative but to do so.

The Board of Directors of the company is also responsible for overseeing the Company's financial reporting process.

Auditor's Responsibilities for the Audit of the Standalone Financial Results

Our objectives are to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the standalone financial results as a whole are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error and to issue an auditor's report that includes our opinion. Reasonable assurance is a high level of assurance but is not a guarantee that an audit conducted in accordance with SAs will always detect a material misstatement when it exists. Misstatements can arise from fraud or error and are considered material if, individually or in the aggregate, they could reasonably be expected to influence the economic decisions of users taken on the basis of these standalone financial results.

As part of an audit in accordance with SAs, we exercise professional judgment and maintain professional scepticism throughout the audit. We also:

- Identify and assess the risks of material misstatement of the standalone financial results, whether due to fraud or error, design and perform audit procedures responsive to those risks, and obtain audit evidence that is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion. The risk of not detecting a material misstatement resulting from fraud is higher than for one resulting from error, as fraud may involve collusion, forgery, intentional omissions, misrepresentations, or the override of internal control.

- Obtain an understanding of internal control relevant to the audit in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the company's internal control.
- Evaluate the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of accounting estimates and related disclosures made by the Board of Directors.
- Conclude on the appropriateness of the Board of Directors' use of the going concern basis of accounting and, based on the audit evidence obtained, whether a material uncertainty exists related to events or conditions that may cast significant doubt on the Company's ability to continue as a going concern. If we conclude that a material uncertainty exists, we are required to draw attention in our auditor's report to the related disclosures in the financial results or, if such disclosures are inadequate, to modify our opinion. Our conclusions are based on the audit evidence obtained up to the date of our auditor's report. However, future events or conditions may cause the Company to cease to continue as a going concern.
- Evaluate the overall presentation, structure and content of the standalone financial results, including the disclosures, and whether the financial results represent the underlying transactions and events in a manner that achieves fair presentation.

We communicate with those charged with governance regarding, among other matters, the planned scope and timing of the audit and significant audit findings, including any significant deficiencies in internal control that we identify during our audit.

We also provide those charged with governance with a statement that we have complied with relevant ethical requirements regarding independence and to communicate with them all relationships and other matters that may reasonably be thought to bear on our independence and, where applicable, related safeguards.

ORGANISATION AND NATURE OF OPERATIONS

California Software Company Limited (from now on referred to as “the Company”) is primarily engaged in providing a range of software development services, business process outsourcing services and IT infrastructure services. The Company was incorporated under the provisions of the Companies Act applicable in India in February 1992, having its registered office at Workflo, Greta Towers, Industrial Estate, Perungudi, OMR Phase 1, Chennai 600096, INDIA.

The Company leverages its infrastructure and professionals to deliver solutions across selected verticals, including financial services, manufacturing (automotive, aerospace, Hi-tech, semi-conductors), life sciences & healthcare, public services (oil and gas, energy and utility, travel, transport and logistics), retail and consumer products, telecom, media, publishing and entertainment.

The financial statements for the year ended 31st March 2023 were approved and authorised for issue by the Board of Directors on 30th May 2023.

1. SUMMARY OF SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES

(a) Basis of preparation

The financial statements of the Company have been prepared in accordance with Indian Accounting Standards (Ind AS) notified under the Companies (Indian Accounting Standards) Rules, 2015 (as amended from time to time). These financial statements have been prepared under the historical cost convention on accrual and going concern basis, except for the following assets and liabilities, which have been measured at fair value:

- a) Derivative financial instruments,
- b) Certain financial assets and liabilities (refer to accounting policy regarding financial instruments)

The accounting policies adopted in preparing these financial statements are consistent with those of the previous year. The Company uses the Indian rupee (' ') as its reporting currency.

(b) Use of estimates

Preparing financial statements in conformity with Ind AS requires the management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets, liabilities, revenue, expenses and other comprehensive income (OCI) reported and disclosed in the financial statements and accompanying notes. These estimates are based on the management's best knowledge of current events, historical experience, actions that the Company may undertake in the future and various other assumptions that are believed to be reasonable under the circumstances. Significant estimates and assumptions are used for, but not limited to, accounting for costs expected to be incurred to complete performance under fixed price projects, allowance for uncollectible accounts receivables, accrual of warranty costs, income taxes, valuation of share-based compensation, future obligations under employee benefit plans, the useful lives of property, plant and equipment, intangible assets, impairment of goodwill, and other contingencies and commitments. Changes in estimates are reflected in the financial statements in the year the changes are made. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

(c) Business combinations and goodwill

Business combinations are accounted for using the acquisition method. The cost of an acquisition is the aggregate of the consideration transferred measured at fair value at the acquisition date. Acquisition-related costs are expensed as incurred.

Any contingent consideration to be transferred by the acquirer is recognised at fair value at the acquisition date. Contingent consideration classified as a financial liability is measured at fair value with changes in fair value recognised in the profit and loss statement.

Goodwill is initially measured at cost, the excess of the aggregate of the consideration transferred, the amount recognised for non-controlling interest, and any previous interest held over the net identifiable assets acquired and liabilities assumed. Suppose the fair value of the net assets acquired is more than the aggregate consideration transferred. In that case, the excess is recognised as a capital reserve after reassessing the fair values of the net assets.

(d) Foreign currency and translation

The financial statements of the Company are presented in Indian Rupee (₹), which is also the Company's functional currency. The Company determines the functional currency for each foreign operation and its respective local currency.

The Company initially records transactions in foreign currencies at their respective functional currency spot rates at the transaction date. Foreign currency-denominated monetary assets and liabilities are translated to the relevant functional currency at exchange rates in effect at the balance sheet date. The profit and loss statement recognises exchange differences arising on settlement or translation of monetary items. Non-monetary assets and non-monetary liabilities denominated in a foreign currency and measured at historical cost are translated at the exchange rate prevalent at the date of the initial transaction. Non-monetary assets and non-monetary liabilities denominated in a foreign currency and measured at fair value are translated at the exchange rate prevalent at the date when the fair value was determined.

Transaction gains or losses realised upon settlement of foreign currency transactions are included in determining net profit for the year. Revenue, expenses and cash-flow items denominated in foreign currencies are translated into the relevant functional currencies using the exchange rate in effect on the transaction date.

The translation of foreign operations from respective functional currency into INR (the reporting currency) for assets and liabilities is performed using the exchange rates in effect at the balance sheet date, and for revenue, expenses and cash flows is performed using an appropriate daily weighted average exchange rate for the respective years. The exchange differences arising on translation are reported as a component of 'other comprehensive income (loss)'. On disposal of a foreign operation, the component of OCI relating to that particular foreign operation is recognised in the statement of profit and loss.

(e) Fair value measurement

The Company records certain financial assets and liabilities at fair value regularly. The Company determines appropriate values based on the price it would receive to sell an asset or pay to transfer a liability in an orderly transaction between market participants at the measurement date in the principal or most advantageous market for that asset or liability.

The Company holds certain fixed-income securities, equity securities and derivatives, which must be measured using the guidance for fair value hierarchy and related valuation methodologies. The guidance specifies an order of valuation techniques based on whether the inputs to each measurement are observable or unobservable. Observable inputs reflect market data obtained from independent sources, while unobservable inputs reflect the Company's assumptions about current market conditions. The fair value hierarchy also requires an entity to maximise observable inputs and minimise using unobservable inputs when measuring fair value. The prescribed fair value hierarchy and related valuation methodologies are as follows:

Level 1 - Quoted inputs that reflect quoted prices (unadjusted) for identical assets or liabilities in active markets.

Level 2 - Quoted prices for similar instruments in active markets, quoted prices for identical or similar devices in markets that are not active and model-derived valuations, in which all significant inputs are directly or indirectly observable in active markets.

Level 3 - Valuations derived from valuation techniques, in which one or more significant inputs are unobservable, supported by little or no market activity.

In accordance with Ind AS 113, assets and liabilities are to be measured based on the following valuation techniques:

- a) Market approach – Prices and other relevant information generated by market transactions involving identical or comparable assets or liabilities.
- b) Income approach – Converting the future amounts based on market expectations to their present value using the discounting method.
- c) Cost approach – Replacement cost method.

Certain assets are measured at fair value on a non-recurring basis. These assets consist primarily of non-financial assets such as goodwill and intangible assets. Goodwill and intangible assets recognised in business combinations are initially measured at fair value, and when there is an indicator of impairment, the impairment is recognised.

A fair value measurement of a non-financial asset takes into account a market participant's ability to generate economic benefits by using the asset in its highest and best use or by selling it to another market participant who would use the asset in its highest and best use.

- (f) Revenue recognition

Contracts involving the provision of services

Revenue is recognised when persuasive evidence of an arrangement exists, services have been rendered, the fee is determinable, and collectability is reasonably assured. Contracts can be primarily categorised as time-and-material or fixed-price contracts.

Time-and-material contracts

Revenue concerning time-and-material contracts is recognised as the related services are performed.

Fixed Price contracts

Revenue related to contracts providing maintenance and support services is recognised over the contract term, where the company has a continuing obligation.

Revenue from technology integration and complex network-building contracts is recognised by the Percentage-of-Completion (POC) method. Under the POC method, progress towards completion is measured based on either achievement of specified contract milestones, cost incurred as a proportion of estimated total cost or other measures of progress when available. If circumstances change the original estimates of revenues, expenses, or extent of progress towards completion, revisions are made to the forecast. These revisions may result in an increase or decrease in estimated revenues or costs, and such modifications are reflected in income in the year in which the circumstances that gave rise to the revision become known to the management. Provisions for estimated losses on contracts in progress are recorded when such losses become probable based on the current cost estimates. Contract losses are determined to be the amount by which the estimated total cost to complete exceeds the estimated total revenue generated by the contract and are included in the Cost of services and classified in other accrued liabilities.

In arrangements involving sharing of customer revenues, revenue is recognised when the amounts are known and the right to receive is established. Incremental revenue from existing contracts arising on future customer sales is recognised when earned, and collectability is reasonably assured.

Revenues from unit-priced contracts are recognised as transactions are processed based on objective output measures.

Revenue from product sales is shown net of sales tax and applicable discounts and allowances. Revenue related to the product with installation services critical to the development is recognised when the installation of the product at the customer site is completed and accepted by the customer. If the revenue for a delivered item is not recognised for non-receipt of acceptance from the customer, the cost of the delivered item continues to be in inventory.

Multiple-element arrangements

When a sales arrangement contains multiple elements, such as services, hardware and software products and licenses, the revenue of each component is determined based on its fair value. Revenue recognition for delivered elements is limited to the amount not contingent on the future delivery of products or services, future performance obligations or subject to customer-specified return or refund privileges.

Revenue from activities in transition services not having a standalone value in outsourcing arrangements is deferred and recognised over the period of the arrangement. Direct and incremental costs of such an arrangement are also deferred to the extent of revenue. Certain upfront non-recurring contract acquisition costs incurred in the initial phases of outsourcing contracts are deferred and usually amortised on a straight-line basis over the contract term unless revenues are earned. Obligations are fulfilled in a different pattern. The undiscounted cash flows from the arrangement are periodically estimated and compared with the unamortised costs. A loss is recognised if the unamortised costs exceed the undiscounted cash flow.

In instances when revenue is derived from sales of third-party vendor services, materials or licenses, revenue is recorded on a gross basis when the Company is a principal to the transaction and net of costs when the Company is acting as an agent between the customer and the vendor. Several factors are considered to determine whether the Company is a principal or an agent, most notably whether the Company is the primary obligor to the customer, has established its own pricing, and has inventory and credit risks.

Revenue is recognised net of discounts and allowances, value-added tax and goods & service tax. It includes reimbursement of out-of-pocket expenses, with the corresponding out-of-pocket expenses included in the cost of revenues.

Revenue from financing leases is recognised when the risk of loss has been transferred to the client, and no unfulfilled obligations affect the client's final acceptance of the arrangement. Revenue from operating leases is accounted straight-line as service revenue over the rental period. Interest attributable to financing leases included therein is recognised on an accrual basis using the effective interest method.

Interest income

Interest income for all financial instruments measured at amortised cost is recorded using the effective interest rate (EIR). EIR is the rate that exactly discounts the estimated future cash payments or receipts over the expected life of the financial instrument or a shorter period, where appropriate, to the gross carrying amount of the financial asset or the amortised cost of financial liability. When calculating the EIR, the Company estimates the expected cash flows by considering all the contractual terms of the financial instrument but does not consider the expected credit losses. Interest income is included in other income in the profit and loss statement.

(g) Income taxes

Income tax expense comprises current and deferred income tax.

Income tax expense is recognised in the statement of profit and loss except to the extent that it relates to items recognised directly in equity, in which case it is recognised in equity. Current income tax for the present and prior periods is the amount expected to be paid to or recovered from the tax authorities, using the tax rates and laws enacted or substantively enacted by the balance sheet date. Provision for income tax includes the impact of provisions established for uncertain income tax positions.

Deferred income tax assets and liabilities are recognised for all temporary differences between the tax bases of assets and liabilities and their carrying amounts in the financial statements. Deferred income tax assets and liabilities recognised for those temporary differences originating during the tax holiday period are reversed after the tax holiday period. For this purpose, the reversal of timing differences is determined using the first in, first out method.

Deferred tax assets are reviewed at each reporting date and are reduced to the extent that it is no longer probable that the related tax benefit will be realised. Deferred income tax assets and liabilities are measured using tax rates and laws enacted or substantively by the balance sheet date. They are expected to apply to taxable income in the years when those temporary differences are expected to be recovered or settled.

Deferred tax assets and deferred tax liabilities are offset if a legally enforceable right exists to set off current tax assets against current tax liabilities. The deferred taxes relate to the same taxable entity and taxation authority.

The effect of changes in tax rates on deferred income tax assets and liabilities is recognised as income or expense in the year that includes the enactment or the substantive enactment date. A deferred income tax asset is recognised to the extent that it is probable that future taxable profit will be available against which the deductible temporary differences and tax losses can be utilised.

Tax benefits acquired as part of a business combination but not satisfying the criteria for separate recognition at that date are recognised subsequently if new information about facts and circumstances changes. The adjustment is either treated as a reduction in goodwill (as long as it does not exceed goodwill) if it was incurred during the measurement period or recognised in the statement of profit and loss.

(h) Property, plant and equipment

Property, plant and equipment are stated at cost less accumulated depreciation and impairment losses, if any. Cost comprises the purchase price and directly attributable cost of bringing the asset to its working condition for its intended use. Any trade discounts and rebates are deducted in arriving at the purchase price. The Company identifies and determines separate valuable lives for each significant component of the property, plant and equipment if they have a functional life materially different from that of the asset.

Expenses on existing property, plant and equipment, including day-to-day repairs, maintenance expenditure and cost of replacing parts, are charged to the statement of profit and loss for the year during which such expenses are incurred.

Gains or losses arising from the derecognition of assets are measured as the difference between the net disposal proceeds and the asset's carrying amount. They are recognised in the profit and loss statement when the asset is derecognised.

Property, plant and equipment under construction and cost of assets not ready for use at the year-end are disclosed as capital work-in-progress.

Property, plant and equipment depreciation is provided on the straight-line method over their estimated useful lives, as determined by the management. Depreciation is charged pro-rata for assets purchased/sold during the year.

(i) Intangible assets

Intangible assets acquired separately are measured on initial recognition at cost. The cost of intangible assets acquired in a business combination is their fair value at the date of acquisition. Following initial recognition, intangible assets are carried at less than accumulated amortisation and impairment losses.

Intangible assets are amortised over the useful life and assessed for impairment whenever there is an indication that the intangible asset may be impaired. The amortisation period and the amortisation method for an intangible asset with a finite useful life are reviewed at least at the end of each reporting year. Changes in the expected useful life or the expected consumption pattern of future economic benefits embodied in the asset are considered to modify the amortisation period or method, as appropriate. They are treated as changes in accounting estimates. The profit and loss statement recognises the amortisation expense on intangible assets with finite lives.

Gains or losses arising from the derecognition of an intangible asset are measured as the difference between the net disposal proceeds and the asset's carrying amount. They are recognised in the profit and loss statement when the asset is derecognised.

The intangible assets are amortised over the estimated useful life of the assets as mentioned below, except certain Licensed IPRs, which include the right to modify, enhance or exploit, are amortised in proportion to the expected benefits over the helpful life, which could range up to 15 years.

(j) Research and development costs

Research costs are expensed as incurred. Development expenditure on an individual project is recognised as an intangible asset when the Company can demonstrate the following:

- The technical feasibility of completing the intangible asset so that it will be available for use or sale
- Its intention to complete and its ability and intention to use or sell the asset
- How the asset will generate future economic benefits
- The availability of resources to complete the asset
- The ability to measure reliably the expenditure during development

Following initial recognition of the development expenditure as an asset, the cost model requires the asset to be carried at cost less any accumulated amortisation and accumulated impairment losses. Amortisation begins when development is complete, and the asset is available for use. It is amortised over the period of expected future benefit. Amortisation expense is recognised in the statement of profit and loss. During the period of development, the asset is tested for impairment annually.

(k) Borrowing costs

Borrowing costs directly attributable to the acquisition, construction or production of an asset that takes a substantial time to get ready for its intended use are capitalised as part of the asset's cost. All other borrowing costs are expensed in the period in which they occur.

Borrowing costs consist of interest and other costs that an entity incurs in connection with borrowing funds. Borrowing costs also include exchange differences to the extent of adjusting the borrowing costs.

(l) Inventory

Stock-in-trade, stores and spares are valued at the lower cost or net realisable value. Net realisable value is the estimated selling price in the ordinary course of business, less estimated costs of completion and estimated costs necessary to make the sale.

The cost of stock-in-trade procured for specific projects is assigned by identifying the individual costs of each item. Price of stock in trade that is interchangeable and not specific to any project and the cost of stores and spare parts is determined using the weighted average cost formula.

(m) Impairment of non-financial assets Goodwill

Goodwill is tested annually on March 31 for impairment, or sooner when there is an indication that goodwill may be impaired, relying on several factors, including operating results, business plans and future cash flows. For the purpose of impairment testing, goodwill acquired in a business combination is allocated to the Company's cash-generating units (CGU) expected to benefit from the synergies arising from the business combination. A CGU is the smallest identifiable group of assets that generates cash inflows that are largely independent of the cash inflows from other assets or groups of assets. Impairment occurs when the carrying amount of a CGU, including the goodwill, exceeds the estimated recoverable amount of the CGU. The recoverable amount of a CGU is the higher of its fair value, less cost to sell, and its value-in-use. Value-in-use is the present value of future cash flows expected to be derived from the CGU. Total impairment loss of a CGU is allocated first to reduce the carrying amount of goodwill allocated to the CGU and then to the other assets of the CGU, pro-rata, on the basis of the carrying amount of each asset in the CGU.

An impairment loss on goodwill recognised in the profit and loss statement is not reversed in the subsequent period.

Intangible assets and property, plant and equipment

Intangible assets and property, plant and equipment are evaluated for recoverability whenever events or changes in circumstances indicate that their carrying amounts may not be recoverable. For impairment testing, the recoverable amount (i.e. the higher of the fair value less cost to sell and the value-in-use) is determined on an individual asset basis unless the asset does not generate cash flows largely independent of those from other assets. In such cases, the recoverable amount is determined for the CGU to which the asset belongs. If such assets are considered impaired, the impairment to be recognised in the statement of profit and loss is measured by the amount by which the asset's carrying value exceeds the estimated recoverable amount of the asset.

(n) Provisions

A provision is recognised if, as a result of a past event, the Company has a present legal or constructive obligation that can be estimated reliably, and it is probable that an outflow of resources embodying economic benefits will be required to settle the obligation. If the effect of the time value of money is material, provisions are determined by discounting the expected future cash flows.

(p) Retirement and other employee benefits

- i. Provident fund: Company employees receive benefits under the provident fund, a defined benefit plan. The employee and employer each make monthly contributions to the project. A portion of the contribution is made to the provident fund trust managed by the Company or Government provident fund; the balance contribution is made to the Government administered pension fund. For the contribution made by the Company to the provident fund trust managed by the Company, the Company has an obligation to fund any shortfall in the yield of the Trust's investments over the administered interest rates. The liability is actuarially determined (using the projected unit credit method) at the end of the year. The funds contributed to the Trust are invested in specific securities as mandated by law and generally consist of federal and state government bonds, debt instruments of government-owned corporations and other eligible market securities.
- ii. In respect of superannuation, a defined contribution plan for applicable employees, the Company contributes to a scheme administered on its behalf by an insurance company and such contributions for each year of service rendered by the employees are charged to the statement of profit and loss. The Company has no further obligations to the superannuation plan beyond its contributions.

iii. Gratuity liability: The Company provides for gratuity, a defined benefit plan (the “Gratuity Plan”) covering eligible employees. The Gratuity Plan provides a lump sum payment to vested employees at retirement, death, incapacitation or termination of employment of an amount based on the respective employee’s base salary and the tenure of employment (subject to a maximum of Rs. 20 lacs per employee). The liability is actuarially determined (using the projected unit credit method) at the end of each year. Actuarial gains/losses are recognised immediately in the balance sheet with a corresponding debit or credit to retained earnings through other comprehensive income in the year 2021-22 in which they occur.

With respect to certain employees in India, the Company contributes towards gratuity liabilities to the Gratuity Fund Trust. Trustees of the Company administer contributions made to the Trust, and contributions are invested in a scheme with the Life Insurance Corporation of India as permitted by law.

iv. Compensated absences: The employees of the Company are entitled to compensated absences, which are both accumulating and non-accumulating in nature. The employees can carry forward up to the specified portion of the unutilised accumulated compensated absences and utilise it in future periods or receive cash at retirement or termination of employment. The expected cost of accumulating compensated absences is determined by actuarial valuation (using the projected unit credit method) based on the additional amount expected to be paid due to the unused entitlement accumulated at the balance sheet date. The expense on non-accumulating compensated absences is recognised in the statement of profit and loss in the year in which the absences occur. Actuarial gains/ losses are immediately taken to the profit and loss statement and are not deferred.

v. State Plan: The contribution to State Plans in India, a defined contribution plan, namely Employee State Insurance Fund, is charged to the statement of profit and loss as and when employees render related services.

(q) Equity settled stock-based compensation

Stock-based compensation represents the cost related to stock-based awards granted to employees. The Company measures stock-based compensation cost at the grant date, based on the estimated fair value of the award and recognises the cost (net of estimated forfeitures) on a straight-line basis over the requisite service period for each separately vesting portion of the award as if the award was in substance, multiple awards. The Company estimates the fair value of stock options using the Black-Scholes valuation model. The cost is recorded under the head employee benefits expense in the profit and loss statement with a corresponding increase in "Share-Based Payment Reserve".

(r) Financial Instruments

A financial instrument is a contract that gives rise to one entity's financial asset and another's financial liability or equity instrument.

i. Financial assets

All financial assets are recognised initially at fair value. Transaction costs directly attributable to acquiring financial assets (other than those at fair value through profit or loss) are added to the fair value measured on initial recognition of financial assets. Purchase and sale of financial assets are accounted for at the trade date.

Cash and short-term deposits

Cash and short-term deposits in the balance sheet comprise cash in banks and short-term deposits with an original maturity of three months or less, subject to an insignificant risk of changes in value.

Financial assets at amortised cost

A financial asset is measured at the amortised cost if both the following conditions are met:

a) The asset is held within a business model whose objective is to hold assets for collecting contractual cash flows and

b) Contractual terms of the asset give rise on specified dates to cash flows that are solely payments of principal and interest (SPPI) on the principal amount outstanding.

After initial measurement, such financial assets are subsequently measured at amortised cost using the effective interest rate (EIR) method. Amortised cost is calculated by taking into account any discount or premium on acquisition and fees or expenses that are an integral part of the EIR. The EIR amortisation is included in other income in the profit and loss statement. The losses arising from impairment are recognised in the view of profit and loss. This category includes cash and bank balances, loans, unbilled revenue, trade and other receivables.

Financial asset at Fair Value through Other Comprehensive Income (OCI)

A financial asset is classified and measured at fair value through OCI if both of the following criteria are met:

- a) The objective of the business model is achieved both by collecting contractual cash flows and selling the financial assets and
- b) The asset's contractual cash flows represent principal and interest payments. Financial assets included within the OCI category are measured initially and at each reporting date at fair value. Fair value movements are recognised in OCI. Interest income is recognised in the statement of profit and loss for debt instruments. On derecognition of the asset, cumulative gain or loss previously recognised in OCI is reclassified from OCI to the statement of profit and loss.

Financial assets at Fair Value through Profit and Loss

Any financial asset that does not meet the criteria for categorisation at amortised cost or fair value through other comprehensive income is classified at fair value through profit and loss. Financial assets included at the fair value through the profit and loss category are measured at fair value with all changes recognised in the profit and loss statement.

Equity investments

Equity investments in subsidiaries are measured at cost. Derecognition of financial assets
A financial asset is primarily derecognised when the rights to receive cash flows from the asset have expired or the Company has transferred its rights to receive cash flows from the asset.
Impairment of financial assets

The Company recognises loss allowances using the expected credit loss (ECL) model for the financial assets that are not fair valued through profit and loss. Lifetime ECL allowance is recognised for trade receivables with no significant financing component. For all other financial assets, expected credit losses are measured at an amount equal to the 12-month ECL unless there has been a significant increase in credit risk from initial recognition, in which case they are measured at lifetime ECL. The profit and loss statement recognises the expected credit losses (or reversal) required to adjust the loss allowance at the reporting date.

ii. Financial liabilities

All financial liabilities are recognised at fair value and net of directly attributable transaction costs in the case of loans, borrowings, and payables.

The Company's financial liabilities include trade payables, borrowings, bank overdrafts, and other payables.

After initial recognition, financial liabilities are subsequently measured at amortised cost using the effective interest rate (EIR) method. Gains and losses are recognised in the profit and loss statement when the liabilities are derecognised and through the EIR amortisation process.

Amortised cost is calculated by taking into account any discount or premium on acquisition and fees or expenses that are an integral part of the EIR. The profit and loss statement includes the EIR amortisation as finance costs.

Derecognition

A financial liability is derecognised when the obligation under the liability is discharged or cancelled, or expires.

iii. Derivative financial instruments and hedge accounting

Foreign exchange forward contracts and options are purchased to mitigate the risk of changes in foreign exchange rates associated with forecast transactions denominated in certain foreign currencies.

The Company recognises all derivatives as assets or liabilities measured at their fair value. Changes in fair value for derivatives not designated in a hedge accounting relationship are marked to market at each reporting date, and the related gains (losses) are recognised in the statement of profit and loss as 'foreign exchange gains (losses)'.

The foreign exchange forward contracts and options in respect of forecast transactions that meet the hedging criteria are designated as cash flow hedges. Changes in the derivative fair values (net of tax) that are designated as effective cash flow hedges are deferred and recorded in the hedging reserve account as a component of accumulated 'other comprehensive income (loss)' until the hedged transaction occurs and are then recognised in the statement of profit and loss. The profit and loss statement immediately recognises the ineffective portion of hedging derivatives.

In respect of derivatives designated as hedges, the Company formally documents all relationships between hedging instruments and hedged items, as well as its risk management objective and strategy for undertaking various hedge transactions. The Company also formally assesses, at the inception of the hedge and on an ongoing basis, whether each derivative is highly effective in offsetting changes in fair values or cash flows of the hedged item.

Hedge accounting is discontinued prospectively from the last testing date when (1) it is determined that the derivative financial instrument is no longer effective in offsetting changes in the fair value or cash flows of the underlying exposure being hedged; (2) the derivative financial instrument matures or is sold, terminated or exercised; or (3) it is determined that designating the derivative financial instrument as a hedge is no longer appropriate. When hedge accounting is discontinued, the deferred gains or losses on the cash flow hedge remain in 'other comprehensive income (loss)' until the forecast transaction occurs. Any further change in the fair value of the derivative financial instrument is recognised in current-year earnings.

Offsetting of financial instruments

Financial assets and financial liabilities are offset, and the net amount is reported in the balance sheet if there is a currently enforceable legal right to offset the recognised amounts and there is an intention to settle on a net basis to realise the assets and settle the liabilities simultaneously.

(s) Dividend

The final dividend proposed by the Board of Directors is recognised upon approval by the shareholders, who have the right to decrease but not increase the amount of dividend recommended by the Board of Directors. Interim dividends are recognised on a declaration by the Board of Directors.

(t) Earnings per share (EPS)

Essential EPS amounts are computed by dividing the net profit attributable to the company's equity holders by the weighted average number of equities outstanding during the year.

Diluted EPS amounts are computed by dividing the net profit attributable to the equity holders of the Company by the weighted average number of equity shares considered for deriving basic earnings per share and also the weighted average number of equity shares that could have been issued upon conversion of all dilutive potential equity shares. The diluted potential equity shares are adjusted for the proceeds receivable had the shares been issued at fair value (i.e. the average market value of the outstanding shares).

Dilutive potential equity shares are deemed converted at the beginning of the year unless issued later. Dilutive potential equity shares are determined independently for each year presented.

(u) Recently issued accounting pronouncements

On 28 March 2018, the Ministry of Corporate Affairs (MCA) notified Companies (Indian Accounting Standards) (Amendments) Rules, 2018, amending the following standards:

Appendix B to Ind AS 21, 'Foreign Currency Transactions and Advance Consideration

The amendment clarifies that, in determining the spot exchange rate to use on initial recognition of the related asset, expense or income (or part of it) on the derecognition of a non-monetary asset or non-monetary liability relating to advance consideration, the date of the transaction is the date on which an entity initially recognises the non-monetary asset or non-monetary liability arising from the advance consideration.

The Appendix is effective for annual periods beginning on or after 1 April 2018. However, since the Company's current practice aligns with the Interpretation, the Company does not expect any effect on its financial statements.

Ind AS 115, Revenue from Contract with Customers

Ind AS 115 establishes a single comprehensive model for entities to use in accounting for revenue arising from customer contracts. Ind AS 115 will supersede the current revenue recognition standard Ind AS 18 Revenue, Ind AS 11 Construction Contracts. The effective date for the adoption of Ind AS 115 is financial periods beginning on or after April 1, 2018.

The core principle of Ind AS 115 is that an entity should recognise revenue to depict the transfer of promised goods or services to customers in an amount that reflects the consideration to which the entity expects to be entitled in exchange for those goods or services. Under Ind AS 115, an entity recognises revenue when (or as) a performance obligation is satisfied, i.e. when 'control' of the goods or services underlying the particular performance obligation is transferred to the customer.

The standard permits two possible methods of transition:

- o Retrospective approach: In this approach, the standard will be applied retrospectively to each prior reporting period presented in accordance with Ind AS 8 - Accounting Policies, Changes in Accounting Estimates and Errors
- o Retrospectively with the cumulative effect of initially applying the standard recognised at the date of initial application (Cumulative catch - approach)

We conducted our audit in accordance with the Standards on Auditing (SAs) specified under section 143(10) of the Companies Act, 2013 (the Act). Our responsibilities under those Standards are further described in the Auditor's Responsibilities for the Audit of the Consolidated Financial Results section of our report. We are independent of the Group, in accordance with the Code of Ethics issued by the Institute of Chartered Accountants of India together with the ethical requirements that are relevant to our audit of the financial statements under the provisions of the Companies Act, 2013 and the Rules thereunder, and we have fulfilled our other ethical responsibilities in accordance with these requirements and the Code of Ethics. We believe that the audit evidence obtained by us, is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion.

Management's Responsibilities for the Consolidated Financial Results

The statement of consolidated financial results has been prepared on the basis of the annual consolidated financial statements. The Company's Board of Directors are responsible for the preparation and presentation of the consolidated financial results that give a true and fair view of the net profit/loss and other comprehensive income and other financial information of the Group in accordance with the Indian Accounting Standard prescribed under Section 133 of the Act read with relevant rules issued thereunder and other accounting principles generally accepted in India and in compliance with Regulation 33 of the Listing Regulations. The Board of Directors of the company are responsible for maintenance of adequate accounting records in accordance with the provisions of the Act for safeguarding of the assets of the Group and for preventing and detecting frauds and other irregularities; selection and application of appropriate accounting policies; making judgments and estimates that are reasonable and prudent; and the design, implementation and maintenance of adequate internal financial controls, that were operating effectively for ensuring accuracy and completeness of the accounting records, relevant to the preparation and presentation of the consolidated financial results that give a true and fair view and are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

The Board of Directors of the company are responsible for overseeing the financial reporting process of the Group.

Auditor's Responsibilities for the Audit of the Consolidated Financial Results

Our objectives are to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the consolidated financial results as a whole are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error, and to issue an auditor's report that includes our opinion. Reasonable assurance is a high level of assurance, but is not a guarantee that an audit conducted in accordance with SAs will always detect a material misstatement when it exists. Misstatements can arise from fraud or error and are considered material if, individually or in the aggregate, they could reasonably be expected to influence the economic decisions of users taken on the basis of these consolidated financial results.

As part of an audit in accordance with SAs, we exercise professional judgment and maintain professional skepticism throughout the audit. We also:

Identify and assess the risks of material misstatement of the consolidated financial results, whether due to fraud or error, design and perform audit procedures responsive to those risks, and obtain audit evidence that is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion. The risk of not detecting a material misstatement resulting from fraud is higher than for one resulting from error, as fraud may involve collusion, forgery, intentional omissions, misrepresentations, or the override of internal control.

- Obtain an understanding of internal control relevant to the audit in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the company's internal control.
- Evaluate the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of accounting estimates and related disclosures made by the Board of Directors.
- Conclude on the appropriateness of the Board of Directors' use of the going concern basis of accounting and, based on the audit evidence obtained, whether a material uncertainty exists related to events or conditions that may cast significant doubt on the ability of the Group and its associates and jointly controlled entities to continue as a going concern. If we conclude that a material uncertainty exists, we are required to draw attention in our auditor's report to the related disclosures in the consolidated financial results or, if such disclosures are inadequate, to modify our opinion. Our conclusions are based on the audit evidence obtained up to the date of our auditor's report. However, future events or conditions may cause the Group and its associates and jointly controlled entities to cease to continue as a going concern.
- Evaluate the overall presentation, structure and content of the consolidated financial results, including the disclosures, and whether the consolidated financial results represent the underlying transactions and events in a manner that achieves fair presentation.
- Obtain sufficient appropriate audit evidence regarding the financial results/financial information of the entities within the Group to express an opinion on the consolidated Financial Results. We are responsible for the direction, supervision and performance of the audit of financial information of such entities included in the consolidated financial results of which we are the independent auditors. For the other entities included in the consolidated Financial Results, which have been audited by other auditors, such other auditors remain responsible for the direction, supervision and performance of the audits carried out by them. We remain solely responsible for our audit opinion.

We communicate with those charged with governance of the Holding Company and such other entities included in the consolidated financial results of which we are the independent auditors regarding, among other matters, the planned scope and timing of the audit and significant audit findings, including any significant deficiencies in internal control that we identify during our audit.

We also provide those charged with governance with a statement that we have complied with relevant ethical requirements regarding independence, and to communicate with them all relationships and other matters that may reasonably be thought to bear on our independence, and where applicable, related safeguards.

We also performed procedures in accordance with the circular issued by the SEBI under Regulation 33(8) of the Listing Regulations, as amended, to the extent applicable.

These unaudited Financial Results have been furnished to us by the Board of Directors and our opinion on the consolidated Financial Results, in so far as it relates to the amounts and disclosures included in respect of this subsidiary, is based solely on such unaudited Financial Statements. In our opinion and according to the information and explanations given to us by the Board of Directors, the Financial Results of this subsidiary are not material to the Group.

The Statement includes the results for the quarter ended March 31, 2023 being the balancing figure between audited figures in respect of the full financial year and the year to date figures up to the third quarter of the current financial year which were subject to limited review by us.

ORGANIZATION AND NATURE OF OPERATIONS

California Software Company Limited (hereinafter referred to as “the Company” or “the Parent Company”) and its subsidiaries (hereinafter collectively referred to as “the Group”) are primarily engaged in providing a range of software development services, business process outsourcing services and IT infrastructure services. The Company was incorporated under the provisions of the Companies Act applicable in India in February 1992, having its registered office at Workflo, Greeta Towers, Industrial Estate, Perungudi, OMR Phase 1, Chennai 600096, INDIA.

The Group leverages its offshore infrastructure and professionals to deliver solutions across select verticals, including financial services, manufacturing (automotive, aerospace, Hi-tech, semi-conductors), life sciences & healthcare, public services (oil and gas, energy and utility, travel, transport and logistics), retail and consumer products, telecom, media, publishing and entertainment.

The consolidated financial statements for the year ended 31 March 2023 were approved and authorised for issue by the Board of Directors on 30th May 2023.

1. SUMMARY OF SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES

(a) Basis of preparation

The financial statements of the Company have been prepared in accordance with Indian Accounting Standards (Ind AS) notified under the Companies (Indian Accounting Standards) Rules, 2015 (as amended from time to time). These financial statements have been prepared under the historical cost convention on accrual and going concern basis, except for the following assets and liabilities, which have been measured at fair value:

- a) Derivative financial instruments,
- b) Certain financial assets and liabilities (refer to accounting policy regarding financial instruments)

The accounting policies adopted in preparing these financial statements are consistent with those of the previous year. The Company uses the Indian rupee (‘₹’) as its reporting currency.

Basis of Consolidation

The consolidated financial statements comprise the financial statements of California Software Company Limited, the Parent Company, and its subsidiaries. Consolidation of a subsidiary begins when the Group obtains control over the subsidiary and ceases when the Group loses control of the subsidiary.

Control is achieved when the Group is exposed or has rights to variable returns from its involvement with the investee and has the ability to affect those returns through its power over the investee. Precisely, the Group controls an investee if and only if the Group has:

- a) Power over the investee (i.e. existing rights that give it the current ability to direct the relevant activities of the investee)
- b) Exposure, or rights, to variable returns from its involvement with the investee and
- c) The ability to use its power over the investee to affect its returns.

Generally, there is a presumption that majority voting rights result in control. To support this presumption and when the Group has less than a majority of the voting or similar rights of an investee, the Group considers all relevant facts and circumstances in assessing whether it has power over an investee, including:

- a) The contractual arrangement with the other vote holders of the investee
- b) Rights arising from other contractual arrangements
- c) The Group's voting rights and potential voting rights

The Group re-assesses whether or not it controls an investee if facts and circumstances indicate changes to one or more of the three control elements.

The financial statements of the subsidiaries in the Group are added on a line-by-line basis, and inter-company balances and transactions, including unrealised gain/loss from such transactions, are eliminated upon consolidation. The consolidated financial statements are prepared by applying the Group's uniform accounting policies.

An associate is an entity over which the Group has significant influence. Significant influence is the power to participate in the investee's financial and operating policy decisions but is not in control or joint control over those policies. The aggregate of the Group's share of profit and loss of an associate is shown on the face of the statement of profit and loss.

Use of Estimates

The preparation of consolidated financial statements in conformity with Ind AS requires the management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets, liabilities, revenue, expenses and other comprehensive income (OCI) that are reported and disclosed in the consolidated financial statements and accompanying notes. These estimates are based on the management's best knowledge of current events, historical experience, actions that the Group may undertake in the future and various other assumptions that are believed to be reasonable under the circumstances. Significant estimates and assumptions are used for, but not limited to, accounting for costs expected to be incurred to complete performance under fixed price projects, allowance for uncollectible accounts receivables, accrual of warranty costs, income taxes, valuation of share-based compensation, future obligations under employee benefit plans, the useful lives of property, plant and equipment, intangible assets, impairment of goodwill, and other contingencies and commitments. Changes in estimates are reflected in the consolidated financial statements in the year the changes are made. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

Business combinations and goodwill

Business combinations are accounted for using the acquisition method. The cost of an acquisition is the aggregate of the consideration transferred measured at fair value at the acquisition date and the amount of any non-controlling interest in the acquire. For each business combination, the Group estimates the non-controlling interest in the acquire at fair value. Acquisition-related costs are expensed as incurred.

Any contingent consideration to be transferred by the acquirer is recognised at fair value at the acquisition date. Contingent consideration classified as a financial liability is measured at fair value with changes in fair value recognised in the profit and loss statement.

Goodwill is initially measured at cost, the excess of the aggregate of the consideration transferred, the amount recognised for non-controlling interest, and any previous interest held over the net identifiable assets acquired and liabilities assumed. Suppose the fair value of the net assets acquired is more than the aggregate consideration transferred. In that case, the excess is recognised as a capital reserve after reassessing the fair values of the net assets.

Foreign currency and translation

The Group's consolidated financial statements are presented in Indian Rupee (₹), the parent company's functional currency. For each entity, the Group determines the functional currency, its respective local currency, except for four subsidiaries outside India being investment companies that use the '$' as their functional currency, and items included in the financial statements of each entity are measured using that functional currency. The Group uses the direct consolidation method, and on disposal of a foreign operation, the gain or loss that is reclassified to the statement of profit and loss reflects the amount that arises from using this method.

Transactions in foreign currencies are initially recorded by the Group's entities at their respective functional currency spot rates at the transaction date. Foreign currency-denominated monetary assets and liabilities are translated to the relevant functional currency at exchange rates in effect at the balance sheet date. The profit and loss statement recognises exchange differences arising on settlement or translation of monetary items. Non-monetary assets and non-monetary liabilities denominated in a foreign currency and measured at historical cost are translated at the exchange rate prevalent at the date of the initial transaction. Non-monetary assets and non-monetary liabilities denominated in a foreign currency and measured at fair value are translated at the exchange rate prevalent at the date when the fair value was determined.

Transaction gains or losses realised upon settlement of foreign currency transactions are included in determining net profit for the year. Revenue, expenses and cash-flow items denominated in foreign currencies are translated into the relevant functional currencies using the exchange rate in effect on the transaction date.

The translation of foreign operations from respective functional currency into INR (the reporting currency) for assets and liabilities is performed using the exchange rates in effect at the balance sheet date, and for revenue, expenses and cash flows is performed using an appropriate daily weighted average exchange rate for the respective years. The exchange differences arising on translation for consolidation are reported as a component of 'other comprehensive income (loss)'. On disposal of a foreign operation, the component of OCI relating to that particular foreign operation is recognised in the statement of profit and loss.

Fair value measurement

The Group records certain financial assets and liabilities at fair value regularly. The Group determines fair values based on the price it would receive to sell an asset or pay to transfer a liability in an orderly transaction between market participants at the measurement date in the principal or most advantageous market for that asset or liability.

The Group holds specific fixed-income securities, equity securities and derivatives, which must be measured using the guidance for fair value hierarchy and related valuation methodologies. The guidance specifies a hierarchy of valuation techniques based on whether the inputs to each measurement are observable or unobservable. Observable inputs reflect market data obtained from independent sources, while unobservable inputs reflect the Group's assumptions about current market conditions. The fair value hierarchy also requires an entity to maximise observable inputs and minimise the use of unobservable inputs when measuring fair value. The prescribed fair value hierarchy and related valuation methodologies are as follows:

Level 1 - Quoted inputs that reflect quoted prices (unadjusted) for identical assets or liabilities in active markets.

Level 2 - Quoted prices for similar instruments in active markets, quoted prices for identical or similar instruments in markets that are not active and model-derived valuations, in which all significant inputs are directly or indirectly observable in active markets.

Level 3 - Valuations derived from valuation techniques, in which one or more significant inputs are unobservable, supported by little or no market activity

In accordance with Ind AS 113, assets and liabilities are to be measured based on the following valuation techniques:

- Market approach – Prices and other relevant information generated by market transactions involving identical or comparable assets or liabilities.
- Income approach – Converting the future amounts based on market expectations to their present value using the discounting method.
- Cost approach – Replacement cost method.

Certain assets are measured at fair value on a non-recurring basis. These assets consist primarily of non-financial assets such as goodwill and intangible assets. Goodwill and intangible assets recognised in business combinations are initially measured at fair value, and when there is an indicator of impairment, the impairment is recognised.

A fair value measurement of a non-financial asset considers a market participant's ability to generate economic benefits by using the asset in its highest and best use or by selling it to another market participant who would use the asset in its highest and best use.

Revenue recognition

Contracts involving the provision of services

Revenue is recognised when persuasive evidence of an arrangement exists, services have been rendered, the fee is determinable, and collectability is reasonably assured. Contracts can be primarily categorised as time-and-material or fixed-price contracts.

Time-and-material contracts

Revenue concerning time-and-material contracts is recognised as the related services are performed.

Fixed Price contracts

Revenue related to contracts providing maintenance and support services is recognised over the contract term where the Group has a continuing obligation.

Revenue from technology integration and complex network-building contracts is recognised in accordance with the Percentage-Of-Completion (POC) method. Under the POC method, progress towards completion is measured based on either achievement of specified contract milestones, cost incurred as a proportion of estimated total cost or other measures of progress when available. If circumstances change the original estimates of revenues, expenses, or extent of progress towards completion, revisions are made to the forecast. These revisions may result in an increase or decrease in estimated revenues or costs, and such modifications are reflected in income in the year in which the circumstances that gave rise to the revision become known to the management. Provisions for estimated losses on contracts in progress are recorded when such losses become probable based on the current cost estimates. Contract losses are determined to be the amount by which the estimated total cost to complete exceeds the estimated total revenue generated by the contract and are included in the price of services and classified in other accrued liabilities.

In arrangements involving sharing of customer revenues, revenue is recognised when the amounts are known and the right to receive is established. Incremental revenue from existing contracts arising on future customer sales is recognised when earned, and collectability is reasonably assured.

Revenues from unit-priced contracts are recognised as transactions are processed based on objective output measures.

Revenue from product sales is shown net of sales tax and applicable discounts and allowances. Revenue related to the product with installation services that are critical to the product is recognised when installation of the product at the customer site is completed and accepted by the customer. If the revenue for a delivered item is not recognised for non-receipt of acceptance from the customer, the cost of the delivered item continues to be in inventory.

Multiple-element arrangements

When a sales arrangement contains multiple elements, such as services, hardware and software products and licenses, the revenue of each component is determined based on its fair value.

Revenue recognition for delivered elements is limited to the amount not contingent on the future delivery of products or services, future performance obligations or subject to customer-specified return or refund privileges.

Revenue from activities in transition services not having a standalone value in outsourcing arrangements is deferred and recognised throughout the arrangement. Direct and incremental costs in relation to such an arrangement are also deferred to the extent of revenue. Certain upfront non-recurring contract acquisition costs incurred in the initial phases of outsourcing contracts are deferred and amortised, usually on a straight-line basis, over the term of the contract unless revenues are earned, and obligations are fulfilled in a different pattern. The undiscounted cash flows from the arrangement are periodically estimated and compared with the unamortised costs. A loss is recognised if the unamortised costs exceed the undiscounted cash flow.

When revenue is derived from sales of third-party vendor services, materials or licenses, revenue is recorded on a gross basis when the Group is a principal to the transaction and net of costs when the Group is acting as an agent between the customer and the vendor. Several factors are considered to determine whether the Group is a principal or an agent, most notably whether the Group is the primary obligor to the customer, has established its pricing, and has inventory and credit risks.

Revenue is recognised net of discounts and allowances, value-added tax and goods & service tax. It includes reimbursement of out-of-pocket expenses, with the corresponding out-of-pocket expenses included in the cost of revenues.

Revenue from financing leases is recognised when the risk of loss has been transferred to the client, and no unfulfilled obligations affect the client's final acceptance of the arrangement. Revenue from operating leases is accounted for on a straight-line basis as service revenue over the rental period. Interest attributable to financing leases included therein is recognised on an accrual basis using the effective interest method.

Interest income

Interest income for all financial instruments measured at amortised cost is recorded using the effective interest rate (EIR). EIR is the rate that exactly discounts the estimated future cash payments or receipts over the expected life of the financial instrument or a shorter period, where appropriate, to the gross carrying amount of the financial asset or the amortised cost of financial liability. When calculating the EIR, the Group estimates the expected cash flows by considering all the contractual terms of the financial instrument but does not consider the expected credit losses. Interest income is included in other income in the profit and loss statement.

Income taxes

Income tax expense comprises current and deferred income tax.

Income tax expense is recognised in the statement of profit and loss except to the extent that it relates to items recognised directly in equity, in which case it is recognised in equity. Current income tax for current and prior periods is recognised at the amount expected to be paid to or recovered from the tax authorities, using the tax rates and laws enacted or substantively enacted by the balance sheet date. Provision for income tax includes the impact of provisions established for uncertain income tax positions.

Deferred income tax assets and liabilities are recognised for all temporary differences between the tax bases of assets and liabilities and their carrying amounts in the financial statements. Deferred income tax assets and liabilities are recognised for those temporary differences that originate during the tax holiday period and are reversed after the tax holiday period. For this purpose, the first-in-first-out method determines the reversal of timing differences.

Deferred tax assets are reviewed at each reporting date and are reduced to the extent that it is no longer probable that the related tax benefit will be realised. Deferred income tax assets and liabilities are measured using tax rates and tax laws enacted or substantively by the balance sheet date. They are expected to apply to taxable income in the years when those temporary differences are expected to be recovered or settled.

Deferred tax assets and deferred tax liabilities are offset if a legally enforceable right exists to set off current tax assets against current tax liabilities. The deferred taxes relate to the same taxable entity and taxation authority.

The effect of changes in tax rates on deferred income tax assets and liabilities is recognised as income or expense in the year that includes the enactment or the substantive enactment date. A deferred income tax asset is recognised to the extent that it is probable that future taxable profit will be available against which the deductible temporary differences and tax losses can be utilised. Deferred income taxes are not provided on the undistributed earnings of subsidiaries and branches where it is expected that the profits of the subsidiary or branch will not be distributed in the foreseeable future.

Tax benefits acquired as part of a business combination but not satisfying the criteria for separate recognition at that date are recognised subsequently if new information about facts and circumstances changes. The adjustment is either treated as a reduction in goodwill (as long as it does not exceed goodwill) if it was incurred during the measurement period or recognised in the statement of profit and loss.

In some tax jurisdictions, tax deductions on share-based employee payments differ from the related cumulative remuneration expenses. If the amount of the tax deduction (or estimated future tax deduction) exceeds the amount of the related cumulative remuneration expense, the excess of the associated tax is recognised directly in retained earnings.

Property, plant and equipment

Property, plant and equipment are stated at cost less accumulated depreciation and impairment losses, if any. Cost comprises the purchase price and directly attributable cost of bringing the asset to its working condition for its intended use. Any trade discounts and rebates are deducted in arriving at the purchase price. The Group identifies and determines separate useful lives for each significant component of the property, plant and equipment if they have a useful life that is materially different from that of the asset.

Expenses on existing property, plant and equipment, including day-to-day repairs, maintenance expenditure and cost of replacing parts, are charged to the statement of profit and loss for the year during which such expenses are incurred.

Gains or losses arising from the derecognition of assets are measured as the difference between the net disposal proceeds and the asset's carrying amount. They are recognised in the profit and loss statement when the asset is derecognised. Property, plant and equipment under construction and cost of assets not ready for use at the year-end are disclosed as capital work-in-progress.

Intangible assets

Intangible assets acquired separately are measured on initial recognition at cost. The cost of intangible assets acquired in a business combination is their fair value at the date of acquisition. Following initial recognition, intangible assets are carried at less than accumulated amortisation and impairment losses.

Intangible assets are amortised over the useful life and assessed for impairment whenever there is an indication that the intangible asset may be impaired. The amortisation period and the amortisation method for an intangible asset with a finite useful life are reviewed at least at the end of each reporting year. Changes in the expected useful life or the expected pattern of consumption of future economic benefits embodied in the asset are considered to modify the amortisation period or method, as appropriate. They are treated as changes in accounting estimates. The amortisation expense on intangible assets with finite lives is recognised in the profit and loss statement.

Gains or losses arising from the derecognition of an intangible asset are measured as the difference between the net disposal proceeds and the asset's carrying amount. They are recognised in the profit and loss statement when the asset is derecognised.

The intangible assets are amortised over the estimated useful life of the assets as mentioned below, except certain Licensed IPRs, which include the right to modify, enhance or exploit, are amortised in proportion to the expected benefits over the useful life, which could range up to 15 years.

Research and development costs

Research costs are expensed as incurred. Development expenditure on an individual project is recognised as an intangible asset when the Group can demonstrate the following:

- The technical feasibility of completing the intangible asset so that it will be available for use or sale
- Its intention to complete and its ability and intention to use or sell the asset
- How the asset will generate future economic benefits
- The availability of resources to complete the asset
- The ability to measure reliably the expenditure during development

Following initial recognition of the development expenditure as an asset, the cost model is applied, requiring the asset to be carried at cost less any accumulated amortisation and accumulated impairment losses. Amortisation begins when development is complete and the asset is available. It is amortised throughout the expected future benefit. Amortisation expense is recognised in the statement of profit and loss. During the period of development, the asset is tested for impairment annually.

Borrowing costs

Borrowing costs directly attributable to the acquisition, construction or production of an asset that takes a substantial time to get ready for its intended use are capitalised as part of the asset's cost. All other borrowing costs are expensed in the period in which they occur.

Borrowing costs consist of interest and other costs that an entity incurs in connection with borrowing funds. Borrowing costs also include exchange differences to the extent regarded as adjusting the borrowing costs.

Inventory

Stock-in-trade, stores and spares are valued at the lower cost or net realisable value. Net realisable value is the estimated selling price in the ordinary course of business, less estimated costs of completion and estimated costs necessary to make the sale.

The cost of stock-in-trade procured for specific projects is assigned by identifying the individual costs of each item. The price of stock in trade that is interchangeable and not specific to any project and the cost of stores and spare parts is determined using the weighted average cost formula.

Impairment of non-financial assets Goodwill

Goodwill is tested annually on March 31 for impairment, or sooner when there is an indication that goodwill may be impaired, relying on several factors, including operating results, business plans and future cash flows. For the purpose of impairment testing, goodwill acquired in a business combination is allocated to the Group's cash-generating units (CGU) expected to benefit from the synergies arising from the business combination. A CGU is the smallest identifiable group of assets that generates cash inflows largely independent of the cash inflows from other assets or groups of assets. Impairment occurs when the carrying amount of a CGU, including the goodwill, exceeds the estimated recoverable amount of the CGU. The recoverable amount of a CGU is the higher of its fair value, less cost to sell, and its value-in-use. Value-in-use is the present value of future cash flows expected to be derived from the CGU. Total impairment loss of a CGU is allocated first to reduce the carrying amount of goodwill allocated to the CGU and then to the other assets of the CGU, pro-rata, based on the carrying amount of each asset in the CGU.

An impairment loss on goodwill recognised in the profit and loss statement is not reversed in the subsequent period.

Intangible assets and property, plant and equipment

Intangible assets and property, plant and equipment are evaluated for recoverability whenever events or changes in circumstances indicate that their carrying amounts may not be recoverable. For impairment testing, the recoverable amount (i.e. the higher of the fair value less cost to sell and the value-in-use) is determined on an individual asset basis unless the asset does not generate cash flows largely independent of those from other assets. In such cases, the recoverable amount is determined for the CGU to which the asset belongs. If such assets are considered impaired, the impairment to be recognised in the statement of profit and loss is measured by the amount by which the asset's carrying value exceeds the estimated recoverable amount of the asset.

Provisions

A provision is recognised if, as a result of a past event, the Group has a present legal or constructive obligation that can be estimated reliably, and it is probable that an outflow of resources embodying economic benefits will be required to settle the obligation. If the effect of the time value of money is material, provisions are determined by discounting the expected future cash flows.

Equity settled stock-based compensation.

Stock-based compensation represents the cost related to stock-based awards granted to employees. The Company measures stock-based compensation cost at the grant date, based on the estimated fair value of the award and recognises the cost (net of estimated forfeitures) on a straight-line basis over the requisite service period for each separately vesting portion of the award as if the award was in substance, multiple awards. The Company estimates the fair value of stock options using the Black-Scholes valuation model. The cost is recorded under the head employee benefits expense in the profit and loss statement with a corresponding increase in "Share-Based Payment Reserve".

Financial Instruments

A financial instrument is a contract that gives rise to one entity's financial asset and another's financial liability or equity instrument.

Financial assets

All financial assets are recognised initially at fair value. Transaction costs directly attributable to acquiring financial assets (other than those at fair value through profit or loss) are added to the fair value measured on initial recognition of financial assets. Purchase and sale of financial assets are accounted for at the trade date.

Cash and short-term deposits

Cash and short-term deposits in the balance sheet comprise cash in banks and short-term deposits with an original maturity of three months or less, subject to an insignificant risk of changes in value.

Financial assets at amortised cost

A financial asset is measured at the amortised cost if both the following conditions are met:

- The asset is held within a business model whose objective is to hold assets for collecting contractual cash flows and
- Contractual terms of the asset give rise on specified dates to cash flows that are solely payments of principal and interest (SPPI) on the principal amount outstanding.

After initial measurement, such financial assets are subsequently measured at amortised cost using the effective interest rate (EIR) method. Amortised cost is calculated by taking into account any discount or premium on acquisition and fees or costs that are an integral part of the EIR. The EIR amortisation is included in other income in the profit and loss statement. The losses arising from impairment are recognised in the statement of profit and loss. This category includes cash and bank balances, loans, unbilled revenue, trade and other receivables.

Financial asset at Fair Value through Other Comprehensive Income (OCI)

A financial asset is classified and measured at fair value through OCI if both of the following criteria are met:

- a. The objective of the business model is achieved both by collecting contractual cash flows and selling the financial assets and
- b. The asset's contractual cash flows represent solely principal and interest payments. Financial assets included within the OCI category are measured initially and at each reporting date at fair value. Fair value movements are recognised in OCI. Interest income is recognised in statement of profit and loss for debt instruments. On derecognition of the asset, cumulative gain or loss previously recognised in OCI is reclassified from OCI to the statement of profit and loss.

Financial assets at Fair Value through Profit and Loss

Any financial asset that does not meet the criteria for categorisation at amortised cost or fair value through other comprehensive income is classified at fair value through profit and loss. Financial assets included at the fair value through the profit and loss category are measured at fair value with all changes recognised in the profit and loss statement.

Equity investments

Equity investments, for which sufficient, more recent information to measure fair value is unavailable, are measured at cost. Other equity investments in the scope of Ind AS 109 are measured at fair value through profit and loss.

Equity investments within the fair value through the profit and loss category are measured at fair value with all changes recognised in the profit and loss statement.

Derecognition of financial assets

A financial asset is primarily derecognised when the rights to receive cash flows from the asset have expired or the Group has transferred its rights to receive cash flows from the asset.

Impairment of financial assets

The Group recognises loss allowances using the expected credit loss (ECL) model for the financial assets that are not fair valued through profit and loss. Lifetime ECL allowance is recognised for trade receivables with no significant financing component. For all other financial assets, expected credit losses are measured at an amount equal to the 12-month ECL unless there has been a substantial increase in credit risk from initial recognition, in which case they are measured at lifetime ECL. The amount of expected credit losses (or reversal) required to adjust the loss allowance at the reporting date is recognised in the profit and loss statement.

Financial liabilities

All financial liabilities are recognised at fair value and, in the case of loans, borrowings, and payables, net of directly attributable transaction costs. The Group's financial liabilities include trade payables, borrowings, bank overdrafts, and other payables.

After initial recognition, financial liabilities are subsequently measured at amortised cost using the effective interest rate (EIR) method, except for deferred consideration recognised in a business combination, which is subsequently measured at fair value through profit and loss. Gains and losses are identified in the profit and loss statement when the liabilities are derecognised, as well as through the EIR amortisation process.

Amortised cost is calculated by taking into account any discount or premium on acquisition and fees or costs that are an integral part of the EIR. The EIR amortisation is included as finance costs in the profit and loss statement.

Derecognition

A financial liability is derecognised when the obligation under the liability is discharged, cancelled or expires.

Derivative financial instruments and hedge accounting

Foreign exchange forward contracts and options are purchased to mitigate the risk of changes in foreign exchange rates associated with forecast transactions denominated in certain foreign currencies.

The Group recognises all derivatives as assets or liabilities measured at their fair value. Changes in fair value for derivatives not designated in a hedge accounting relationship are marked to market at each reporting date, and the related gains (losses) are recognised in the statement of profit and loss as 'foreign exchange gains (losses)'.

The foreign exchange forward contracts and options regarding forecast transactions that meet the hedging criteria are designated as cash flow hedges. Changes in the derivative fair values (net of tax) that are designated as effective cash flow hedges are deferred and recorded in the hedging reserve account as a component of accumulated 'other comprehensive income (loss)' until the hedged transaction occurs and are then recognised in the statement of profit and loss. The ineffective portion of hedging derivatives is immediately recognised in the profit and loss statement.

In respect of derivatives designated as hedges, the Group formally documents all relationships between hedging instruments and hedged items, as well as its risk management objective and strategy for undertaking various hedge transactions. The Group also formally assesses, both at the inception of the hedge and on an ongoing basis, whether each derivative is highly effective in offsetting changes in fair values or cash flows of the hedged item.

Hedge accounting is discontinued prospectively from the last testing date when (1) it is determined that the derivative financial instrument is no longer effective in offsetting changes in the fair value or cash flows of the underlying exposure being hedged; (2) the derivative financial instrument matures or is sold, terminated or exercised; or (3) it is determined that designating the derivative financial instrument as a hedge is no longer appropriate. When hedge accounting is discontinued, the deferred gains or losses on the cash flow hedge remain in 'other comprehensive income (loss)' until the forecast transaction occurs. Any further change in the fair value of the derivative financial instrument is recognised in current-year earnings.

Offsetting of financial instruments

Financial assets and financial liabilities are offset, and the net amount is reported in the consolidated balance sheet if there is a currently enforceable legal right to offset the recognised amounts and there is an intention to settle on a net basis to realise the assets and settle the liabilities simultaneously.

Dividend

Final dividends proposed by the Board of Directors are recognised upon approval by the shareholders, who have the right to decrease but not increase the dividend recommended by the Board of Directors. Interim dividends are recognised on a declaration by the Board of Directors.

Earnings per share (EPS)

Basic EPS amounts are computed by dividing the net profit attributable to the equity holders of the parent company by the weighted average number of equity shares outstanding during the year.

Diluted EPS amounts are computed by dividing the net profit attributable to the equity holders of the parent company by the weighted average number of equity shares considered for deriving basic earnings per share and also the weighted average number of equity shares that could have been issued upon conversion of all dilutive potential equity shares. The diluted potential equity shares are adjusted for the proceeds receivable had the shares been issued at fair value (i.e. the average market value of the outstanding shares). Dilutive potential equity shares are deemed converted at the beginning of the year unless issued later. Dilutive potential equity shares are determined independently for each year presented.

It recently issued accounting pronouncements.

On 28 March 2018, the Ministry of Corporate Affairs (MCA) notified Companies (Indian Accounting Standards) (Amendments) Rules, 2018, amending the following standards:

Appendix B to Ind AS 21, 'Foreign Currency Transactions and Advance Consideration

The amendment clarifies that, in determining the spot exchange rate to use on initial recognition of the related asset, expense or income (or part of it) on the derecognition of a non-monetary asset or non-monetary liability relating to advance consideration, the date of the transaction is the date on which an entity initially recognises the non-monetary asset or non-monetary liability arising from the advance consideration.

The Appendix is effective for annual periods beginning on or after 1 April 2018. However, since the Group's current practice aligns with the Interpretation, the Group does not expect any effect on its consolidated financial statements.

Ind AS 115, Revenue from Contract with Customers

Ind AS 115 establishes a single comprehensive model for entities to use in accounting for revenue arising from customer contracts. Ind AS 115 will supersede the current revenue recognition standard Ind AS 18 Revenue, Ind AS 11 Construction Contracts. The effective date for the adoption of Ind AS 115 is the financial period beginning on or after 1 April 2018.

The core principle of Ind AS 115 is that an entity should recognise revenue to depict the transfer of promised goods or services to customers in an amount that reflects the consideration to which the entity expects to be entitled in exchange for those goods or services. Under Ind AS 115, an entity recognises revenue when (or as) a performance obligation is satisfied, i.e. when 'control' of the goods or services underlying the particular performance obligation is transferred to the customer.

The standard permits two possible methods of transition

- Retrospective approach: In this approach, the standard will be applied retrospectively to each prior reporting period presented in accordance with Ind AS 8 - Accounting Policies, Changes in Accounting Estimates and Errors
- Retrospectively with cumulative effect of initially applying the standard recognised at the date of initial application (Cumulative catch - up approach)

The Group is currently evaluating the impact of adopting this new standard on its consolidated financial statements.
