KOTA. The major life milestone of turning 40 is often a time of reflection and transition. Today's women over 40's feel happier, as well as wiser and more confident.

Their health is one of their top priorities. They're optimistic about the future. And while they're dealing with the physical realities of getting older, they're not obsessing over wrinkles or extra pounds.

So let's try to understand the Mantra for this new found happiness quotient is in 40's in women.

Women are building their closed circle of honest and trustworthy friends.

From connecting on phone, to catching up over a cup of tea to exploring new places to travel in girl groups, women are learning to enjoy with friends without any guilt.

Women are learning to not let others' opinions determine their life path.

When women turn 40 experts believe that they get less affected by anyone's thoughts of them and rather feel free to listen to their inner voice while kindly ignoring the rest.

Women are no longer trying to change what they can't control and move on to do the more important, changeable aspects of their lives.

When Women starts accepting that there will be always some things that will never be the way they want them to be and instead start focusing on things that are

Congress will make come back in new avatar by making big changes

KOTA. Jhalawar. The basic principles of 137 years of Congress are the principles on which the Congress got independence for the country or ruled the country for 70 years, in those basic principles, the people want to see it as a big change.

But we also need to feel this change, on this basis we need to formulate our policy, we need to take many important decisions like organizational change, priority to youth, regional balance, social engineering, with all this a new theme is needed. There is also a need to reflect all the changes based on the current perspective. Such a theme should be our mainstay, so that a message should be sent to the workers and countrymen that Congress is not in a new look on the basis of make up, it is in the mood for change with major policy changes.

Only then we will be able to give a message till the grassroots level. Those leaders who have been in politics for many years have weakened the organization and progressed their personal organization, they feel the signs of change, before that they say goodbye to the party, even such people will have to overcome the Congress leadership.

People will have to give priority to the party, they have unwavering loyalty to the important and with effort can bring change in their lives, they feel happy and content.

Women are learning the art to Say "No".

Women at this phase of life understand the value of their time and priorities and therefore are more open to saying No than Yes. They want to ensure that all the time they've got left is spent wisely, so they learn to say "no" to things politely without hurting the person.

Women are maintaining better

Work & Life Balance:

Women with time have learnt to work smarter, not harder. When you're younger, missing out on a few hours of sleep every night in order to put in the extra effort at work might seem worth it.

Once you hit forty, however, the bargain no longer looks so good—your body simply needs sleep one way or another. Instead of putting in extra time, then, it's important to streamline your work process—using the knowledge you've gained in almost two decades in the workforce.

however, the bargain no longer looks so good—your body simply needs sleep one way or another. Instead of putting in extra time, then, it's important to streamline your work process—using the knowledge you've gained in almost two decades in the workforce.

Women are now finally letting others help them.

Women often in their youth make mistake of thinking that they can do everything on their own and feel reluctant to ask for help. However women now have accepted that you're old it's time to start accepting the help of others—or maybe even asking for it should the need arise.

Women are now moving on & serve them well; it's time to move on." if someone simply isn't working out as a partner or friend—no matter how many years you've known one another—it's time to say goodbye.

Women when are able to provide for themselves and those they love, it gives them tons of confidence.

One of the biggest problems with self-esteem in young women stems from the fact that they are overly-dependent on others. Their parents have a big say in how and what they do before marriage, and in-laws after the marriage, their peers affect the way they dress and behave, and they are limited by a lack of funds and skills. A woman turning 40 is able to provide for herself and the people she loves, and this gives her the confidence to be herself, stand up for her beliefs. There is no feeling like having enough financial independence to call your own shots.

Women start prioritising the whole-mind - body wellness.

Women in their 40s choose this decade to start prioritising their overall wellbeing. Strong Daily Habits in Our Forties we women need to take care for aging gracefully from the inside out:

Healthy Body—Maintaining an unprocessed, lower-calorie diet

Healthy Optimism—Making time for "light and laughter"

Healthy Heart—Getting physical with family activity

Healthy Vision—Utilizing rich antioxidants and cool shades Healthy Mind & Soul Finding peace and balance through massage and meditation.

Women are gradually learning to accept the inevitable reality of an empty nest

Women most cherished place home that she builds around her children is now an empty nest. After having taken care of her loved ones for the past 15 to 20 years, she finds herself lost, unfulfilled and feeling abandoned. Thus, hitting the big 4-0 is a good time to begin preparing for "what (you'd) like to achieve once the kids no longer need [your] full attention." So, have something planned—a new career or reviving an old hobby or venturing into new.
