the most important factor in determining the success of a project is the quality of the team. A team that is composed of individuals who have different backgrounds and experiences can bring a variety of perspectives and ideas to the table, which can lead to more innovative solutions and better outcomes. In addition, a strong team can help to overcome challenges and setbacks by providing support and encouragement to one another. Therefore, it is essential to invest in building a skilled and diverse team that is committed to the success of the project.

After weeks of waiting, we took the train to the south end of the Gorkhi-Terelj National Park. The park is located in the Altai Mountains, which form the border between Mongolia and Russia. The terrain is rugged and mountainous, with deep valleys and high peaks. The air is thin and cold, and the landscape is dominated by coniferous forests and grasslands. We spent several days exploring the park, taking hikes and observing the local flora and fauna. The weather was variable, with periods of rain and snow, but the views were always stunning. Overall, it was a great trip and I would highly recommend it to anyone interested in nature and outdoor activities.
