Hong Kong bans handover protest as official defends law

HONG KONG: Marking the anniversary of Hong Kong's return to Chinese control, a top city official defended the national security law imposed by Beijing to crush pro-democracy rallies and said Thursday it would be used further in the coming year to ensure stability. Police sealed off Victoria Park - until recently the site of annual pro-democracy rallies marking the 1997 handover - and put up flags warning people that they could be prosecuted if they enter or remain in the enclosed area. The security law was implemented one year ago as authorities cracked down on dissent after Hong Kong was rocked by massive anti-govt protests in 2019.

Unmarked graves found near another Canadian school

AGENCIES
Ottawa

The remains of 182 people have been found in unmarked graves around another former indigenous residential school in Canada's British Columbia province, it was announced.

The Aq'am community, a member of the Ktunaxa Nation located near the city of Cranbrook, used ground-penetrating radar to find the remains close to the former St. Eugene's Mission School, the Lower Kootenay Band said in a statement on Wednesday.

The indigenous school was operated by the Catholic Church from 1912 until the early 1970s, reports Xinhua news agency. The building has since been converted into a resort and casino, with an adjacent golf course.

mains of these 182 souls are from the member Bands of the Ktunaxa Nation, neighbouring First Nations communities and the community of Aq'am," the band said in the statement.

The band said up to 100 of its members were forced to attend the school. The finding followed the discovery of the estimated remains of 215 people at the site of the Kamloops Indian Residential School in British Columbia and an estimated 751 unmarked graves near a site of the Marieval Indian Residential School in Saskatchewan.

The community's leadership met with residential school survivors in the community before announcing the discovery and referred them to support.

About 150,000 indigenous children attended residential schools.

EU's landmark climate law comes into force

AGENCIES
Brussels

The European Union's (EU) landmark climate law has entered into force as the Minister of Environment and Climate Action of Portugal Joao Pedro Matos Fernandes signed the text.

The signing ceremony on Wednesday coincided with the conclusion of the Portuguese six-month presidency of the Council of the EU, Xinhua news agency reported. Slovenia will take over the rotating presidency on Thursday.

The climate law, adopted by the EU member states on Monday, makes the bloc's ambitious target of becoming climate neutral by 2050 legally binding.

It also requires cutting of net emission by at least 55 percent by 2030 compared with the 1990 level. European Commission President Ursula von der Leyen hailed the milestone on Twitter. "In 15 days we will propose the laws to make Europe FitFor55," she said, referring to the task of updating governing regulations in line with the new law.

India's Permanent Representative to the UN said that India supports the full and effective implementation of the Joint Comprehensive Plan of Action (JCPOA) and resolution 2231

India's Permanent Representative to the United Nations Ambassador T S Tirumurti at a UN Security Council meeting on the Implementation of the Resolution 2231 (2015) on the Iran Nuclear Issue said that India supports the full and effective implementation of the Joint Comprehensive Plan of Action (JCPOA) and resolution 2231.

The JCPOA, known commonly as the Iran nuclear deal, is an agreement on the Iranian nuclear programme reached in Vienna on July 14, 2015 between Iran and the P5+1 (China, France, Russia, the United Kingdom, and the United States; plus Germany) together with the European Union.

The future of the deal was called in question after the United States' unilateral pull out in May 2018.

"We have always maintained that all JCPOA related issues should be resolved peacefully through dialogue and diplomacy and have extended our support to all such efforts which help in constructively addressing and resolving outstanding issues," Tirumurti said.

standing issues." "We count on the full implementation of the JCPOA by all parties, which will serve the shared and long-term interests of all countries," he said.

Under-Secretary-General for Political and Peacebuilding Affairs Rosemary DiCarlo, briefing the Security Council on the Iranian nuclear issue, said that the context for the implementation of the JCPOA and resolution 2231 (2015) has improved considerably since last year.
