AS N CHANDRABABU NAIDU SEEKS TO RESTORE 'BRAND AP' Tech mfg map set for a makeover

SOMYARENDRA BARIK & RAVI DUTTA MISHRA
New Delhi, June 5

HE IS KNOWN to be a man invested in technology, and is widely credited for turning Hyderabad into a technology hub. Even in his party's largely welfare-oriented manifesto, there were mentions of encouraging artificial intelligence in a largely agrarian state. And in 2024, N Chandrababu Naidu and his Telugu Desam Party (TDP) could have one more trust with technology — with the coastal state of Andhra Pradesh potentially emerging as a new manufacturing destination.

With the TDP's support crucial for the BJP-led NDA to stake claim at forming the next central government — after the latter failed to secure a majority on its own in the Lok Sabha elections — Naidu's party is believed to be staking a claim for one of its elected MPs to

In multiple interactions, TDP president N Chandrababu Naidu often recalls the time when he secured a meeting with Microsoft founder Bill Gates in the 1990s, when he was the chief minister of undivided Andhra Pradesh potentially lead the IT ministry, among others. If that were to come true, BJP leaders expect that a number of centrally subsidised manufacturing projects could land in Andhra Pradesh — significantly changing the country's tech production map.

In multiple interactions,

Naidu often recalls the time when he secured a meeting with Microsoft founder Bill Gates in the 1990s (when he was CM of undivided Andhra Pradesh). As per him, the meeting was only scheduled to last for 10 minutes, but ended up going on for 45 minutes. During that interaction, he claims to have convinced the company to set up a development centre in Hyderabad. Gates listened and the software giant opened a centre in the city in 1998, setting the stage for Hyderabad emerging as a key IT sector hub in India.

Today, Hyderabad is home to some of the biggest names in technology, including the likes of Google, IBM, Amazon, Hewlett-Packard, and Texas Instruments, among others. Focus on tech has been a defining theme of Naidu's and TDP leadership. In 2019, during his previous stint as Chief Minister of Andhra Pradesh, he signed a memorandum of understanding with the Adani Group to build data centre parks in and around Visakhapatnam over the next 20 years.

One common concern that some state leaders expressed during the previous BJP-majority government is that a number of new projects, particularly in the electronics sector, went to the state of Gujarat. A senior BJP leader said that with a TDP MP at the helm, Andhra Pradesh could potentially attract investments in the tech manufacturing sector, especially those that would be set up through central government subsidy, like semiconductor assembly plants, laptop and mobile manufacturing facilities. The IT Ministry is the leading department that hands out subsidies for various electronics manufacturing schemes including semiconductors, smartphones, laptops and servers.

"The TDP would certainly push projects to land up in Andhra Pradesh, which will potentially change the tech manufacturing map of India, which so far has largely been concentrated in Tamil Nadu, Gujarat and Karnataka," a second leader said. Apple supplier Foxlink, which makes cables for iPhone chargers, already has a base in the state, potentially allowing for more such suppliers to set up shop in Andhra Pradesh.

Asian Energy Services plans to double revenue in FY25

ARUNIMA BHARADWAJ
New Delhi, June 5

ASIAN ENERGY SERVICES, a service provider to the energy sector, plans to double its revenue to ₹600 crore in the current financial year 2024-25 from the previous fiscal, said Kapil Garg, managing director of the company.

Additionally, the company has a third party order book of over ₹1,000 crore which it intends to execute in the next two to three years.

"We already have a third party order book of more than ₹1,000 crore which is to be executed in the next two years or less," Garg said.

"We are looking to at least double the revenue target going forward.

This year, we will be looking to double from ₹300 crore to ₹600 crore."

Asian Energy Service is a subsidiary of Oilmax Energy which provides services that include geophysical data acquisition (seismic), production facility construction

(EPC) and operation and maintenance.

In the past 2.5 years, the company has also diversified into the coal sector and will further look to expand its footprint in the coal gasification and minerals mining segment going ahead.

Presently, ASEL has five ongoing projects to build coal handling plants with different subsidiaries of Coal India and will continuously look for further expansion in the truck loading systems, Garg noted.

Govt offers par-boiled rice to boost sales

SANDIP DAS
New Delhi, June 5

TO BOOST SALES of highly subsidised Bharat rice, the food ministry has asked agencies such as Nafed, National Cooperative Consumers' Federation of India (NCCF) and Kendriya Bhandars and others to sell par-boiled rice in the southern states.

Sources told FE that the government has supplied more than one million tonne (MT) of common variety of rice under Bharat rice initiative so far which is much lower than anticipated.

Par-boiled rice available with the Food Corporation of India (FCI) will be sold under Bharat rice initiative in southern states aimed at curbing rise in prices. Sources said the FCI has offered around 0.13 MT of par-boiled rice for retail sales.

Officials said that FCI so far has received purchase indent for 1.5 MT of rice from the agencies such as Nafed, NCCF and Kendriya Bhandar for selling 'Bharat' rice. About one MT of grain has been sold by these agencies for distribution through retail outlets at ₹29/kg.

In February, the government had launched sale of Bharat rice at a subsidised rate in 5 and 10 kg packs which according to the food ministry was aimed at increasing supplies in the market at affordable rates and the step would help in continued moderation of prices.

While retail prices of rice rose by 12.51% in year in April, the price rise is expected to soften in the next few months due to higher base effect. The inflation in rice prices has been in double digits since October 2022.

"There has been a concern about the sluggish pace of offloading of subsidised rice under Bharat rice initiative," an official said.
