Dear Sir/Madam,

DroneAcharya Aerial Innovations Limited, a leading player in the Indian Drone industry, proudly announces its foray into the Southeast Asian market with the official inauguration of Drone Entry Thailand's new office, strategically located at AIT Bangkok. This significant move signifies a milestone achievement for the company as it expands its reach in drone sales, services, and training throughout Southeast Asia, leveraging its strong base and connections in Bangkok, Thailand.

The company's initial focus will be on penetrating key markets in Southeast Asia, including Thailand, Malaysia, the Philippines, Cambodia, and Indonesia. Founder and CEO, Prateek Srivastava, expresses immense pride and high expectations for the Southeast Asian drone industry, drawing parallels to the rapid growth witnessed in the Indian drone sector five years ago.

DroneAcharya has already introduced its flagship surveying drone, Arya, boasting an impressive 53 minutes of flight time and the capacity to accommodate over 12 different types of sensors and payloads. Additionally, the company has launched its agricultural spraying drone, Agro series, along with a diverse range of FPV (First Person View) drones.

In the past month alone, DroneAcharya in association with Drone Entry, has provided training to over 100 students in Thailand as drone pilots, and has trained approximately 40 officials from Local Government Units (LGUs) in the Philippines. Furthermore, the company has forged significant partnerships with esteemed institutions such as KMITL and Dhurakij Pundit University in Thailand, as well as Mariano Marcos State University (MMSU) in the Philippines.

DroneAcharya's expansion into the Southeast Asian market marks an exciting chapter in the company's journey, with a commitment to delivering cutting-edge drone technology and services across the region. Investors and stakeholders are encouraged to stay tuned for further developments as the company navigates this dynamic market landscape.
